POLITICAL.

VOTERS FLOP TO DEMOCRAT.

Havens Returned to Congress Over Aldridge.

Result in Thirty-second New York Surprises.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) April 19.—Between 6000 and 8000 voters of Monroe county changed from the Republican to the Democratic column today and elected the first Democratic Congressman that has represented the Thirty-second District in twenty years.

James S. Havens, a Democrat, running on a tariff reform platform, defeated George W. Aldridge, for a score of years the ruler of the county Republican organization, by 5900 votes.

Monroe county, which comprises the Thirty-second Congress District, is normally Republican by about 6000. James Breck Perkins, whose death in the middle of his third Congressional term necessitated a special election today, carried the district in 1908 by 10,617 votes.

Taking the vote of the Presidential year 1908 for comparison, the total turn-over vote of the district was 8032. It is acknowledged, however, that Mr. Perkins's vote in that year was abnormal; and, accepting the average Republican plurality as a standard, the change from the Republican to the Democratic column amounts to about 8000.

Havens had arrayed against him one of the strongest political organizations in the State. Yet, in a campaign lasting but seventeen days, and with badly constructed machine, he accomplished one of the most remarkable overturns in political history.

The result of today's election takes its place beside the Democratic victory in the Fourteenth Massachusetts District, where Eugene N. Foss was sent to Congress from a district supposed to be rock-ribbed Republican.

HAVENS'S PLATFORM.

Mr. Havens rode to victory on a platform advocating tariff reform in the interests of the consumer, a revision of the duties on wool and woolen goods, a removal of the tax on lumber, a removal of the tariff on iron ore, an income tax and, finally, independence of political bosses.

Mr. Aldridge, his opponent, contented himself with general proclamations in favor of the policies of the Republican administration. On the tariff proposition he was regarded as a "stand patter."

Both candidates declared for reciprocity with Canada, an employes' compensation act, a parcels post and postal savings banks.

The Democrats acknowledged that one of the main factors in today's victory was a personal issue raised by Aldridge's record as party boss and evidence presented at the recent fire insurance investigation. Mr. Aldridge acknowledged that he received a $1000 check from Elijah Kennedy, an agent of the fire insurance companies, but denied he benefited personally by the transfer. He declared he turned the money into the treasury of the Republican organization.

CHURCHES FOR DEMOCRAT.

The so-called moral issue was taken up by the churches, and no less than twenty clergymen announced themselves for Havens. Mr. Aldridge's defense was that his record stood for itself. Outside the district he received little, if any, assistance.

Mr. Havens, on the other hand, was helped by the Democratic National Committee, which sent him such speakers as Charles N. Hamlin, of Massachusetts, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland; and Eugene N. Foss, the newly elected Congressman from the same State.

The election today passed off quietly, with no arrests. Voting machines are used here and in a majority of the nineteen towns in the county, and the result of the balloting was known within half an hour after the polls closed. At 6 o'clock Mr. Aldridge's managers acknowledged his defeat by about 2000 plurality. A few minutes later a complete tabulation of the city vote showed Havens's plurality in the city alone beat these figures. The towns joined the procession with similar results.

REVERSE IN CITY AND COUNTY.

The overturning of the city was from a Republican plurality of 6215 in the last Congressional election, in 1908, to 3746 for Havens. The towns that in 1908 went Republican by 3972 gave Havens a plurality of 2154.

The most remarkable Republican reverses occured in some of the residence wards. The twelfth turned a Republican plurality of 1653 into a Democratic plurality of 700.

The success of Havens probably means that he will be a candidate to succeed himself when his present term expires, at the end of the year. The Democrats declare it means the end of Aldridge's hopes for elective office, but are not so sanguine of their ability to shake his hold as political ruler of the county.

James S. Havens, the successful candidate, is a lawyer and former partner of the late Congressman Perkins. He has never held public office. He is regarded as a typical Democrat of the "old school."

MAYOR SEIDEL INAUGURATED.

Milwaukee Is Now Under Social-Democratic Administration—New Executive Has Strong Support.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) April 19.—The government of the city of Milwaukee, which, for more than a decade, with the exception of two years under Republican rule, has been controlled by the Democratic party, passed today into the hands of the Social-Democrats with Mayor Emil Seidel as their leader.

Mayor Seidel will have back of him twenty-one members of his party, to enact into law all the measures, not in conflict with the city charter, which he may advocate during the next two years. The minority consists of ten Democrats and four Republicans.

Alderman Edmund T. Melms was elected to the presidency of the Council.

The "Keep Off the Grass" signs in thirty New York parks will be replaced this month with sign posts reading "Come on the Grass." This is in accordance with an order issued by Mayor Gaynor's park commissioner, allowing the children to romp on certain lawns and grassy hillsides.

MARY MANNERING GETS FINAL DECREE OF DIVORCE.

Actress May Marry Again as Though She Were a Widow, But Husband Is Forbidden to Take Another Wife Until Plaintiff Dies. Alimony Is Not Mentioned.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mary Mannering Hackett, actress, known as Mary Mannering, today got from Justice Fitzgerald in special term of the Supreme Court a final decree of absolute divorce, from her husband, James K. Hackett, actor.

The decree sets forth that the plaintiff may marry as though Hackett were actually dead, but forbids Hackett to marry any other woman during the life of the plaintiff.

It authorizes the plaintiff to resume the name of Mary Mannering. The decree contains no provision for alimony.

"INTER-OCEAN" EXPLAINS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—The Chicago Inter-Ocean today issued the following statement concerning the recent strike in its mechanical department:

"Some confusion, which may have been noticed by the readers of the Inter-Ocean, in the arrangements of its news pages and features in the last few days, is explained by the labor troubles which this newspaper has had in its press room.

"The events which led up to this disturbance began when the Inter-Ocean management appointed Charles H. Rogers as foreman of its press room on March 20. Up to last Thursday night the press room was operated by members of the Chicago Web Pressmen's Union, No. 7. When this union refused to allow Mr. Rogers to go to work, he appealed to the International Pressmen's Union, which gave a decision ordering No. 7 to accept Mr. Rogers as foreman. The officers of No. 7 refused to accept this decision. On Thursday night, Second Vice-President Flannery of the international union installed Mr. Rogers as foreman.

"At the beginning of work on Friday night the entire crew of the Inter-Ocean, acting under orders of their officers, went on a strike. Within half an hour a full complement of workmen was brought in from No. 2, the Flat-Bed Union, and No. 4, the Assistants' Union, both sister unions of No. 7.

"The new arrivals were, of course, unfamiliar with the work, but, by heroic work, they succeeded in getting out Saturday morning's papers on time to catch practically all of the mails and to supply all city subscribers. The work of the men has improved every hour, until the Inter-Ocean is now being published on a substantially normal basis."

WOODEN TRESTLE COLLAPSED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

QUEBEC, April 19.—Further details of yesterday's disaster on the line of the Transcontinental Railway north of La Tuque received today, show that ten men were killed and eight injured, six fatally. The disaster was not caused by the landslide, as at first reported, but by the collapse of a ninety-foot wooden trestle at Lake MacDonald, near Kakoucache, over which a train with a large construction gang was passing. Most of those lost were penned underneath the wreckage and drowned. Eight bodies have been recovered.

DEATH OF COL. MASCHIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

VIENNA, April 19.—A telegram from Belgrade reports the death of Col. Maschin, who, with a band of officers, forced his way into the palace on the night of June 10, 1903, and massacred King Alexander and Queen Draga and those who sought to defend their majesties. Maschin was the husband of the Queen's sister and the promoter of the tragedy.

ENTERPRISING.

MANY SECTIONS FOR CALIFORNIA.

Prize Exhibit to Be Made at Ohio Exposition.

Reservations by Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Special Decorations Ordered for the Southwest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight complete sections of the exhibits buildings at the Ohio Valley Exposition have been set aside for Los Angeles and Southern California people by the board of managers of the coming exposition.

This was done here this afternoon upon the receipt of letters from members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

In these letters the members state that they will have one of the greatest exhibits of the products of the Southwest ever known, when the exhibition opens. The exhibits will consist mostly of fruits, grains, cereals and minerals and will be displayed to show the great fertility of the soil there, as well as to exhibit products from the different mines in that section of the country.

The board of managers say that eight sections will take almost half of one of the big exhibits buildings and that this part will be especially decorated for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

HOTEL ROOMS RESERVED.

It is understood that special representatives of that organization will come here in charge of the exhibits and rooms at the Havlin and Gibson hotels have been set aside for them throughout the time of the exposition.

The board of managers say that 2000 copies of the prospectus are being mailed direct to people in all parts of the world and that the crowds at Cincinnati during the exposition will be worthy these efforts. It is probable that President Taft and Col. Roosevelt will meet here during the exposition.

Lincoln Mitchell is now on his way to Paris to see Col. Roosevelt to get him to consent to come.

The exposition will be in honor of the anniversary of the first journey down the Ohio in a steamer which was made by Col. Roosevelt's grandfather in the steamer New Orleans in 1810.

WHAT SCHOOLGIRLS SPEND.

Interesting Statistics on Expenditures for Dress Among Different Classes in New York City.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—Schoolgirls of New York's wealthy families, who are of the socially elect, spend an average of $900 a year for dress, and would like to spend $3500. Girls of families perhaps equally as wealthy, but without equal social distinction, spend an average of $300, and would like to spend $1100.

These interesting statistics are announced by the Academy of Political Science, an adjunct of Columbia University, as the result of studies by Miss Ines Wood, former dean of the Woman's College of the University of Washington, at Seattle.

Silk stockings at $2 a pair; street suits at $50 each; hand-embroidered lingerie and similar articles go to make up the $900 spent. Hats at $25 each, shoes at $7, street suits at $90 and evening gowns at $100 are what the socially-elect girls desire, she said, while the girls of minor social position get along with garments of cheaper quality, although both the elect and outsiders drive to school daily in automobiles.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—City Controller E. S. Morrow has brought suit against himself as a citizen and taxpayer, to restrain himself and other city officials from carrying out certain contracts for street improvements until certain legal points are settled.

The bill of particulars cites that the city has no right to carry out the improvements until some provision is made for the payment of damages for the widening of streets, of which the improvements mainly consist. It is claimed the damages would throw upon the city a greater floating indebtedness than it can legally carry.

In order to bring the suit the Controller has bought a lot for $40 in the most remote ward of the city. As Controller, he will be represented by City Solicitor O'Brien, while as a taxpayer, Attorney Guy Wallace will look after his interests.

Under the law the Controller is held personally responsible for the city's finances, and he proposes to "know where he is at."

OBITUARY.

Charles J. Osborn.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Charles J. Osborn, aged 84, and dean of the Associated Press, died here last night after an illness of several weeks. He was correspondent of the Associated Press in St. Louis from 1855 to 1902, when he retired. He continued his affiliation with the St. Louis office in an advisory capacity, however, until his death, making him an employé of the Associated Press for fifty-five years. Maj. Osborn's first duty as correspondent was to organize a news service to the Pacific Coast. In doing this, he traveled by stage coach over the old western trails. The telegraph line then ended at Tipton, Mo., and the news items were carried from there to papers farther west by pony express riders.

George J. Frankel.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George J. Frankel of St. Louis, who recently resigned as superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company's Second District, died here this afternoon, aged 52, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. L. Vogel. Tuberculosis of the throat, with complications, was the cause. He came to San Antonio three weeks ago, but was called back to St. Louis to attend to some important business. He returned to San Antonio at once, but the trip proved too much for him. His wife was at his bedside. He entered the service of the Western Union at San Antonio as a messenger boy. He will be buried here Thursday morning.

LITTLE BIRD TOLD.

MARRIAGE PLANS ARE KEPT CLOSE SECRET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On excellent authority it is learned that a marriage has been arranged and will shortly take place between Mrs. James Henry Smith and Bartow Vanvoorhis. The matter is being kept very quiet. In fact, the present intention is to defer announcement of the engagement until after the wedding ceremony and under the circumstances this report may possibly be denied.

Mrs. Smith is at present in Paris while Vanvoorhis is in London stopping at A. J. Drexel's house in Grosvenor Square.

Mrs. James Henry Smith was born Annie Armstrong, the daughter of Gen. John A. Armstrong, of Baltimore. Her sister is Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel of Philadelphia. Her marriage to William Rhinelander Stewart, son of Lispenard Stewart, in the spring of 1879 was one of the leading events of the social season in Baltimore. Mr. Stewart was the heir to the great Rhinelander estate.

James Henry Smith was known as "Silent Jim" Smith, and "the man of mystery," and made his first appearance in New York society under the tutelage of Mrs. Stewart in 1901. He inherited a large share of an estate of between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000 left by his uncle, George Smith of London.

Later he purchased the William C. Whitney house on Fifth avenue, this city, for $2,000,000, and married Mrs. Rhinelander, who, in the meantime, had been divorced. Mr. Smith died in Japan on March 24, 1907, while on a wedding trip around the world in his private yacht.

ZULU WARRIOR DIES.

Former Zambesi River Chieftain Passes Away in Chicago Hospital—An Interesting History.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—Charles H. Stevens, former prince of a tribe of Zulu warriors living along the Zambesi River, South Africa, died yesterday at the County Hospital.

In his last moments he pictured his early boyhood. He was 65 years old. His real name probably never will be known. He was brought to the United States over thirty-five years ago by Charles Stevens of Joliet, an explorer. While traveling along the Zambesi River, Mr. Stevens's boat overturned. He was rescued by a powerful Zulu warrior. Mr. Stevens brought the rescuer to the United States with him.

In some way they became separated and the Zulu adopted the name of Stevens.

GUARDS HIS SECRET WELL.

Maxwell Refuses to Divulge Source of Information.

Editor Defies Congressional Committee at Hearing.

Effort to Force Answer Will Be Made Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Whether a report to the House will be made on the recalcitrancy of John M. Maxwell, of Indianapolis, who refused to answer questions about his source of information for charges made in the American Flag, reflecting on members of Congress, will be decided at an executive session of the ship subsidy investigating committee tomorrow.

This was decided today after Maxwell's council questioned the power of Congress to force answers in such a proceeding.

Secretary John A. Penton, of the Merchants' Marine League, recalled as a witness today, testified that for the last year he had drawn compensation at the rate of $7200 a wear, that he stood responsible for the American Flag, but regretted some of the undignified characterizations in the November issue.

Maxwell edited that number. Penton had differed with the editor on the subject. He recalled some of the contributions to the League, including $5000 or $6000 from former Governor Herrick, of Ohio, and a check from John Hays Hammond.

HOW PROPAGANDA WAS SPREAD.

He said the League had paid the "Texas Farmer," and other papers, for copies containing matter favorable to the League's propaganda and such practice was not uncommon.

Four hundred members of the American Flag were sent into Steenerson's district of Minnesota, he said, without any particular motive, and he had sent copies to many other districts.

The League had paid part of the expenses of former Representative Landis, of Indiana, on a Chautauqua trip, and of former Representative McCleary, of Minnesota, on a speech-making tour.

Asked whether the executive committee of the League knew, or approved of the publications and letters sent out by him, he said the committee left him full authority except on matters of general policy. He assumed responsibility for a letter sent into the district of Mr. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, in which the latter was referred to as guilty of falsehood.

AGAIN REFUSES TO TELL.

At the afternoon session of the committee, Chairman Olcott again asked John. M. Maxwell to name his informant as to the published charge that a London conference of shipping interests had been organized to make a pro rata assessment to carry on "a Washington campaign" against ship subsidy legislation.

"Do you still decline to give the names?" asked Olcott.

"Yes, sir; I still decline," answered Maxwell.

Mr. Olcott explained this was a committee question by a unanimous vote, and again directed him to answer. He still refused to answer.

The same course was pursued yesterday. When the question whether he believed his published statement regarding a "Washington boodle campaign" was repeated, Mr. Maxwell conceded:

"I did believe it."

ATTACK ON KUSTERMAN.

As to his published attack on Representative Kusterman of Wisconsin, he said his informant was John A. Penton of Cleveland, secretary of the Merchant Marine League.

"Why did you reflect on Mr. Kusterman?"

"Because I believed Mr. Kusterman represented the views of foreign ship magnates and those views opposed to the best interests of America, views which no good American could entertain."

The next point was the reference to "subsidizing of certain Congressmen."

"Who are they?" asked the chairman.

"During my connection with the league," said Maxwell, "I was informed certain Congressmen enjoyed more or less friendly relations with foreign shipping interests."

IN PRIVATE LETTER.

The information, he said, was contained in a private letter, to which a private letter in reply was sent from a constituent of Kustermdn. No names were mentioned in the letter, but the witness said he had had in mind several men whom he had been led to believe "held relations with foreign shipping interests, but I did not see fit to give the names at that time. My information was largely hearsay."

The witness refused to answer this question further.

His counsel made a statement as to precedents for the witness's course in not answering this question. He contended that Congress could not compel answers where the matter does not contemplate proposed legislation or misconduct. Neither of which, he said, was involved in the question as to the London conference.

WINE MEN TO BE HEARD.

REVIEW OF LABEL RULING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Winemen of California will be given a hearing Thursday morning by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue on the ruling made by Dr. Wiley that "port" and "sherry" made in California must be labeled "Port Type" and "Sherry Type." Congressmen Kahn and Hays represented to the commissioner that this ruling was likely to bear heavily on the wine industry, and it was asserted that it is unjust. The delegation from California will present arguments against the ruling.

DEVLIN NOT YET CONFIRMED.

FLINT AGREES TO DELAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Senator Flint, in executive session of the Senate today, attempted to have confirmed the nomination of Robert T. Devlin, as United States Attorney for the Northern California District.

As soon as this case was called, Senator Shively raised a point of no quorum and the roll was called. Then Senator Overman asked Senator Flint to let the case go over for a few days and the California member agreed.

It was evident some of the Senators opposed this nomination, which has been before the Senate for nearly two years without confirmation, and were prepared to filibuster, if necessary, to prevent a vote being taken.

Mr. Flint gave notice, however, that he would make another effort at an early date to press the nomination to a vote.

SENATE ACTS.

RIVERS AND HARBOR BILL IS PASSED AFTER LONG DEBATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Rivers and Harbor Bill, carrying an appropriation of about $52,500,000, was passed by the Senate. There were no material amendments, but there was considerable debate over various provisions.

The portion of the bill receiving the greatest consideration was the provision for the continuation of the waterways commission until 1911. Senator Newlands sought to have this body converted into an executive body, but was unsuccessful.

Senator Owen declared that more than 100 streams mentioned in the bill are unknown to students of geography. He said basic streams like the Mississippi, the Ohio and the Missouri, should be improved in advance of their tributaries. He pointed out that the Arkansas River in Oklahoma is entirely unprovided for in the bill, while he said $1,500,000 is to be expended on inconsequential streams in New Jersey.

Mr. Burton replied that the New Jersey streams are not unimportant. Raccoon Creek, one of the New Jersey water courses to receive Mr. Owens' scornful attention, had developed a tonnage equal to the Arkansas, Mr. Burton said, with an expenditure of one one-hundredth of the amount appropriated for the western river.

BETRAYAL OF TRUST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—George M. Moulton, president, and E. I. Rosenfeld and William H. Gray, officers of the Western Life Indemnity Company, are accused of a betrayal of trust, in an opinion handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today. Five years ago, on suit of policy-holders, Moulton was ordered by Judge Kohlsaat in the United States Circuit Court to pay back to the company $200,000, alleged to have been wrongfully taken by manipulation from the treasury of the indemnity company. Rosenfeld was instructed to pay back a similar sum, and Gray $125,000. Moulton and Gray appealed, but the decision of the lower court against Moulton is upheld in today's opinion.

LIVE COLLATERAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—One seven-year-old boy was received on a bill of lading at the Union Station here today over the Iron Mountain road from Monroe, La. He was consigned to a local bank as collateral for a board bill, to be remitted to a bank at Monroe. Mrs. J. J. Koentz, acting as agent for F. J. Koentz, father and owner of the boy, whose name is Arthur, called at the Union Station for the consignment, but the railroad officials refused to deliver him to her because she was not the consignee named in the bill of lading. The boy, still tagged, was taken to the bank in a taxicab, and the amount due was paid.

FOREIGN INVASION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—Chicago faces the possibility of being dominated by Poles, Slavs and Lithuanians, according to Morris Salmonson, clerk of the marriage license department of the County Clerk's office. He bases his opinion on the large percentage of men and women of these nationalities who are applying for licenses. Yesterday he said these three nationalities were furnishing the majority of the big families in Chicago.

SPECTACULAR CAREER OF HORSE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (O.) April 19.—Having wrecked a trolley car, smashed a wagon into splinters, injured five men and held up a Big Four train, a horse ended its spectacular career here last night by being killed with a pick and buried in the Mad River. The horse was originally attached to the wagon, in which was seated five men. It started on its spree by backing the wagon into a traction car, one side of which it demolished. It then kicked the wagon to pieces, and distributed its five occupants in various parts of the road, two of them being seriously hurt. Freed of the wagon, the horse dashed along a railroad trestle, where it fell with a broken leg in front of an on-coming train. The train was stopped, and the horse dispatched with a pick, the only means available. The whole train crew then was called into action and hurled the body into Mad River.

BRYAN CALLS ON PRESIDENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—William J. Bryan and President Taft spent more than an hour closeted at the White House together today. The two great travelers exchanged reminiscences, it is said, and each commented upon how well the other was looking.

The President intimated that being beaten at the polls did not seem to be such a bad thing for one's health and happiness, after all.

"The call was purely a social one," said Mr. Bryan as he left the Executive offices.

"Did you discuss the tariff bill?" was asked.

"No," smiled the Nebraskan, "we forgot all about it."

"Or politics?"

"No, that didn't occur to us, either."

Both the President and Mr. Bryan seemed to have thoroughly enjoyed the quiet chat. Mr. Bryan walked in democratic fashion to the White House. He was received with the usual courtesy by the attachés and was shown without a moment's delay into the President's office.

Mr. Bryan left at 7:55 o'clock tonight for Lincoln.

DEFINITION IS SETTLED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Taft's board, made up of Secretaries MacVeagh, Nagel and Wilson, yesterday decided to adhere to its original ruling regarding the labeling of whisky under the pure food law, in accordance with the President's decision of "What is Whisky." The board held whisky could be made from grain only, and only mixtures of grain distillates could be called "blended," that when grain distillate is mixed with distillate from any material other than grain, it is a compound.

PARDON FOR WALSH.

PETITION REACHES PRESIDENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Representative Culloch of Indiana presented to President Taft today a petition for the pardon of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker. The petition was signed by 22,000 residents of the Second Indiana Congress District, into which the railroad built by Mr. Walsh extends. The President directed that the petition be referred to the Department of Justice, to follow the regular course.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Tariff Board Active.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—At a conference between President Taft, Henry C. Emery, James B. Reynolds and Alvin H. Sanders, members of the Tariff Board, yesterday it was decided that the board should begin work at once on statistics showing the cost of production in this country of various important articles exported and sold abroad, with a view to comparing the articles with the cost of foreign production of similar articles.

Sentence Commuted.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Herbert W. Tiers, who pleaded guilty in Pittsburgh to abstracting funds of the First National Bank of that city, and was sentenced to five years imprisonment, which would have expired August 12, 1912, has had his sentence commuted by President Taft to four years. The defendant appropriated about $5000 of the bank's money.

Indian Girl Freed.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Lizzie Cardish, an Indian girl, has had her sentence of confinement in a reform school until she reached the age of 21, commuted to expire immediately. When she was 15, she pleaded guilty in the Federal Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin to a charge of arson. She acted under the influence of older students.

California Postmasters.

DOPE PEDDLER SENTENCED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "You have caused the death of more men and women probably than any other person alive," said Assistant State's Attorney W. R. Fetser today, in prosecuting Harry Heath, characterized by the police as the "King of the Dope Fiends." The trial was before Judge Going of the Municipal Court.

"No punishment is too severe for this man," continued the prosecutor, "and the State insists that he be given the limit."

Heath is said to be the scion of a well-known family in the East. He is a graduate of Annapolis, and also of an eastern university. Once, it is said, he was wealthy.

"I'd do wrong to the people of Chicago, and especially to the unfortunates who are addicted to these awful habits if I did not remove you from society," said Judge Going. "You are sentenced to one year in the House of Correction and to pay a fine of $500 and costs."

The Governor of Hawaii is directed by Washington to call a special election to determine whether the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the Hawaiian Islands shall be prohibited by the terms of a Senate joint resolution adopted by the House recently. The resolution was not amended and requires only approval by the President to become effective.

Mrs. Scott's Administration Wins First Skirmish.

Mrs. Stilson of Los Angeles Chosen State Regent.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A notable victory for Southern California was won today in the Continental Congress of the D. A.R., when Mrs. W. W. Stilson of Los Angeles was elected Regent for California. Mrs. Stilson defeated Mrs. Frederick Jewel Laird of San Francisco, who was supported by the Vice-President-General, Mrs. John W. Swift. Mrs. Stilson is a first cousin of Gen. John W. Foster, former Secretary of State, and is a guest at his home. This is the first time Southern California has furnished the State Regent. California's delegation is unusually large.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A storm broke in the Nineteenth Continental Congress of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution today, and the administration forces were sustained in their first skirmish with the opposition.

The contest centered around Miss Mary R. Wilcox, recording secretary-general, who, after a parliamentary wrangle, was censured by the congress for issuing a circular criticising Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president-general of the society, for the dismissal of Miss Agnes Gerald, a clerk at Continental Hall, for alleged insubordination.

The question of disciplining Miss Wilcox was presented to the congress by Mrs. Scott in her report as chairman of the national board of management. Instantly there was a chorus of voices claiming recognition of the chair. Finally, Mrs. John C. Ames of Illinois was recognized, and she moved the board's recommendation be adopted. This was a signal for pandemonium.

Miss Wilcox endeavored to read a statement defending her course, but was declared out of order because she was discussing the subject of the board's resolution, and not Mrs. Ames's motion. A parliamentary wrangle ensued, and the convention was thrown into confusion. Leaders of both factions were on their feet, and motions and counter-motions came from all sections of the hall.

The parliamentarian of the society finally was called to the rescue and when order was restored, Miss Wilcox said if she had offended the president personally, or the society, she was sorry, but she had only tried to right what she believed to be a wrong. For the last part of the remark she was again declared out of order. The motion of censure then was passed.

In her report as chairman of the board of management, Mrs. Scott announced she would not be a candidate for reelection.

Mrs. Scott presented the report of the Memorial Continental Hall Committee, which was followed by contributions to the building fund. A total of $21,000 was received.

A report of the treasurer-general showed the society had a balance on hand, March 31, of $55,328.

PREACHER-RAILROADER WEDS.

James Horsburgh, Jr., of Espee Passenger Department Marries Mrs. Frances Baldwin-Sanborn.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Horsburgh, Jr., general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, went to Los Gatos today and was quietly married to Mrs. Frances Baldwin Sanborn, daughter of Mrs. Alexander R. Baldwin of San Francisco and Los Gatos.

The couple went on a honeymoon trip to the mountains around Klamath Lake. Mrs. Horsburgh is the widow of the late S. S. Sanborn and is highly popular not only in San Francisco, but in Los Gatos, where she has made her home for several years. She is a member of a family that has been prominent in San Francisco for years.

James Horsburgh has been regarded for years as one of San Francisco's most eligible bachelors, not only because of his position, but because of his personality. He has been in the service of the Southern Pacific for thirty years, and was assistant general manager agent under Gen. T. H. Goodman, now retired. He has held his present position for six years.

Horsburgh founded "Sunset," the magazine which has now become so popular, and he also designed many of the artistic booklets gotten out by the Southern Pacific to exploit the scenic beauties of its various lines. He is one of the few prominent railroad men who is an active church worker. He frequently preaches in the church at Paso Robles, where he spends his Sundays.

The Western Pennsylvania Associated Dailies Monday adopted resolutions urging the President and Congress to such action as will immediately assure a full supply of pulp wood for American print paper mills.

LURLINE LOSES RUDDER.

Matson Liner, Bound from Honolulu, Does Not Respond to Wireless. No Uneasiness Felt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Nothing has been heard since noon today from the steamer Lurline of the Matson line, bound from Honolulu to San Francisco, which is making its way to this port with a broken rudder. At that time the Lurline, according to a wireless dispatch, was 294 miles off the Golden Gate, and reported that all was well, and that the steamer was making good progress. All efforts of the wireless station here to get a response to their calls tonight for the Lurline have been in vain.

No uneasiness is felt, however, and it is believed the wireless operator on the steamer will "tune in" before morning and get in touch with the stations.

The Lurline sailed from Honolulu last Tuesday with seventy passengers, and lost her rudder yesterday. The steamer reported by wireless that a steering tackle had been rigged, but asked for assistance to help her through the narrow harbor entrance here.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Shuberts and William A. Brady have formed an alliance, according to an announcement made in New York tonight. They have incorporated jointly a company with $1,000,000 capital stock, with Mr. Brady as president; Lee Shubert, vice-president, and J. J. Shubert as secretary-treasurer.

Articles of incorporation were filed at Trenton, N. J., today. The building of two new theaters in New York, and theaters in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston are projected by the new enterprise, which will maintain opposition to the so-called theatrical syndicate.

It is feared that the serious disaffection in the province of Hunan, China, may spread throughout the Yang Tse Kiang Valley. The American cruiser Chattanooga and several Chinese cruisers sailed yesterday for the mouth of the Yang Tse Kiang River. The cruiser Charleston will remain within telegraphic touch of the Chattanooga.

Dr. E. H. Pitts of Sacramento Orphanage Exonerated—Accusing Nurse Apologizes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. E. H. Pitts, one of the most prominent physicians in this part of the State, faced the board of directors of the Sacramento Orphanage and Farm today to answer to charges of brutality made by Miss Rollins, the housekeeper.

Dr. Pitts, who is one of the attending physicians at the institution, was called to examine Harold Reed, 2½ years old. The child was so nervous and fretful that the doctor ordered the nurse out of the room.

This made Miss Rollins angry. After he had departed she declared that she found marks on the child's body indicating that it had been severely punished. It was said that red welts or bruises appeared across the child's back.

The story reached the newspapers and Miss Rollins reiterated it. Dr. Pitts denied that he had abused the child in any way and demanded an investigation.

The board met today behind closed doors and conducted an investigation. Meantime others had examined the baby and were unable to discover the indications of abuse which Miss Rollins had reported. The testimony was wholly in favor of the doctor.

At the conclusion Miss Rollins made a written apology and the board gave him a full exoneration. A spoiled child and a neurotic matron is the accepted theory of the occurrence.

OBJECTIONS FROM CALIFORNIA TO BE HEARD.

Washington Federal Court Delays Making Permanent Appointment of Eben M. Wells as Receiver for Telephone Companies, Pending Hearing of Protests from Bondholders.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the request of attorneys for the bondholders, represented by Judge Fenton of Portland, today's hearing in the Federal Court on making permanent the appointment of Eben M. Wells, receiver for the Home Telephone Company, and Northwestern Long Distance Telephone Company, was continued by Judge Donworth until May 4.

The attorneys said the continuance was necessary to enable them to get certain facts from bondholders living in California and who remonstrate against the appointment of Wells on the ground that, as he has been connected with the company, his appointment would result in a continuance of its present business policy.

Judge Donworth authorized Wells to issue receivers' certificates to meet operating and construction expenses.

It transpired at the hearing that the defendant companies have bonds out amounting to $1,500,000 and that the Home Telephone Company of Portland had loaned the local Home Company $150,000 to install its plant. It was also alleged by the plaintiff that many of the bonds are "watered," which statement was vigorously denied by the bondholders.

William Meade and other California bondholders reside at and around Los Angeles. The chief stockholders of the two companies affected are Samuel Hill and Hervey Lindlay, millionaires, who desire to scale down the bonded indebtedness before supplying new capital for enlargements and extensions.

RAIN PERSUADER.

HAS JOB IN OREGON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles M. Hatfield, the Los Angeles rainmaker, passed through Portland today en route to Wasco, Sherman county, where he has a contract to increase the season's rainfall for the benefit of the wheat farmers of that district. After fulfilling his contract in Sherman county this summer, the rain-maker will return to California and put in two plants near Volta for the next season there. Monday next the operation of persuading the vagrant moisture to come down to earth will be commenced in Sherman county and kept up continually until July 25. The contract calls for one and one-half inches of rain. He has operated in Sherman county several times before and the rain each season has come up to the amount guaranteed in his contract.

ASSAULT WITH PITCHFORK.

TWO UNDER DOCTORS' CARE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Otto Ross, son of the Rev. Isaac Ross of Ripon, is in the County Hospital and George Markham is under the care of a physician as the result of an encounter, which came near ending fatally for the latter, late yesterday. Ross, who has not appeared in his right senses of late, abused Markham and, in the argument that followed, Ross seized a pitchfork and attacked Markham. The weapon was taken from him by Thomas Jordan, but Ross, catching up the pitchfork a second time, struck Markham over the head and shoulders several times before he could retaliate. Finally Markham knocked Ross down and the pitchfork was taken from the young man, who was taken to the County Hospital. Markham's wounds are quite serious and, unless Ross is examined as to his sanity, Markham will probably swear to a complaint charging his assailant with assault with a deadly weapon. The encounter created much excitement at Ripon, as Ross is well known there.

BOARD OF INQUIRY CONVENES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was learned at Mare Island today that Rear-Admiral Giles Harber, in command of the Pacific squadron fleet, and who is now here on his flagship, the California, had caused a board of inquiry to convene on the cruiser Maryland, which is at the quay wall receiving repairs, to determine the cause of the boiler tube explosion which happened aboard the Maryland, April 2, near Monterey, and which resulted in the death of William Amberson, a coal passer, and the terrible scalding of two water tenders. The investigation is proceeding with the utmost secrecy, and none but the officials interested and the enlisted men are permitted to attend the sessions. All have been sworn not to divulge a word of what transpires at the hearing, which will last a week.

BANDIT HUNT BACK TRACKS.

Officers Fail to Identify Two Suspects in Oakland.

Impression Grows That Pair Has Eluded Posses.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The hunt for the two bandits who held up the China-Japan fast mail near Benicia last Saturday night shifted today from the hills and cañons near Martinez to San Francisco, then to Oakland, and late tonight back to Pinole, fifteen miles from Benicia.

It developed this evening that Police Capt. Bock and Detective Richard McSorley of the Oakland police arrested two men in San Francisco early today. They are now held in the city prison at Oakland.

As soon as this information reached Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county, the Sheriff, together with Patrick Kindelon, chief detective of the Southern Pacific Railroad; Deputy Sheriff Bermingham and several other officers were immediately taken on board a special train at Martinez by Superintendent W. A. Whitney and brought to Oakland. They also were accompanied by John Lubbe, who owns the cabin in which the robbers lived near Martinez, and by Harry Knight, who also had seen them several times. Neither of these identified the two suspects as the supposed bandits, but they will be held until the engineer and fireman of the train are given an opportunity to see them.

Late tonight Sheriff Veale, his deputies and several detectives returned to Pinole, where, it is said, they have two other suspects under surveillance.

A search today of the roads and cañons in the hills between Martinez and Pinole, and farther to the south, failed to reveal any traces of the bandits, and the impression is growing that they have escaped.

CALL FOR ROOSEVELT.

Portland Starts Campaign to Get Former President to Visit Coast Cities Next August.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Portland wants Theodore Roosevelt to visit this city when he makes his proposed trip West next August, and, in all probability, will request other cities to coöperate in extending to him an invitation to include the Pacific Coast in his itinerary. The movement has already been taken up by the Portland press and informally by commercial bodies.

Col. Roosevelt is scheduled to be the guest of honor at Cheyenne, Wyo., on Frontier Day. Although it is understood the plans for his trip have been outlined, it is believed that a united effort might cause him to come to the Pacific Coast. It is known he is to visit Denver and possibly Salt Lake City, and, it is understood, he had no conflicting engagements to prevent extending his tour.

It is probable that action will be taken soon by the Portland commercial bodies, inviting similar organizations in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle to coöperate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robbie Mahood, son of Robert Mahood, the well-known mining operator of Virginia City, was accidentally shot in the stomach last evening and is in a critical condition. Physicians tried to locate the bullet but were unsuccessful, and the boy was taken to the hospital, where an operation was performed. They were unable to locate the bullet, which perforated the intestines four times. The wounds were sewed up and it will require forty-eight hours before an opinion can be given. The little boy displayed remarkable nerve, saying he wished the doctors would hurry up.

"CELESTIAL" CASE SETTLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By two opinions handed down by the Supreme Court of Utah, today, Mrs. Annie F. A. Hilton loses her dower right in the property of the late Dr. John R. Park, conveyed by him to other parties prior to his death.

Mrs. Hilton entered into a "celestial marriage" under the rights of the Mormon Church with Dr. Park, while supposedly on her deathbed. She afterwards recovered, and with Dr. Park, signed an agreement of divorce according to the practice of the church. After Dr. Park's death she filed an action against the executors of his estate claiming an interest in the same as his legal widow.

This case was carried to the Supreme Court and in its opinion it was held that the "celestial marriage" was a marriage for time as well as eternity, and that she was the legal widow of Dr. Park, and, as such, entitled to dower rights in the estate. In that case it was held that the church divorce was not a legal one.

In this case the Supreme Court holds that she is estopped from claiming any interest in the property conveyed because of her conduct in entering into the divorce agreement with Dr. Park and afterwards marrying her present husband, William Hilton, in joining conveyances with Hilton as his wife and otherwise holding him out as her husband.

GOT THE GOAT.

VERNONS WIN FIRST BATTLE.

Hit Tozer Hard When Swats Mean Runs.

Three Two-Baggers in First Inning Start Trouble.

Martinke's Catch in Ninth Stops Angel Scores.

Vernon, 4; Los Angeles, 3.

Although out-hit and out-fielded by the Angels in the first game of their second meeting of the season, the Vernons managed to win a close and interesting game because their hits came just at the time such things were needed.

The Angels might have won if Martinke had been out of the game, but as long as he was in it they apparently had no chance for he did some work in left field that would make any man sit up and notice. His great catch to make the third out in the ninth for the Angels, when a muff or less activity on his part would have resulted in a tie score, was enough to make him the big factor in the game.

With the score 4 to 2 in favor of Vernon in the ninth inning, Daley started his last chance by flying to Martinke. Then Willetts walked Bernard, and Howard doubled to the score board, scoring Bernard with but one man out. The fans were whooping for another run and thought that Dillon might do something, but his best effort was a pop up to Lindsay. Willetts walked Murphy for fear he would make a hit and then Roth went to bat with the hopes of the Angel fans clinging to him.

He landed on the ball with terrific force, and as it went sailing toward the score board some of the fans thought there was a home run in sight. It seemed that no one could reach the ball, but as soon as Martinke saw it leave the bat he sprinted at top speed to the score board and by stretching his hands in front of him, manager to get the ball. Howard was almost at the plate and Murphy arrived there a few seconds after the catch, but neither run could count.

Martinke assisted in a double pay from left field to second base in the first inning, and aside from his work, what might be called the feature was the hitting of the Vernons in the first inning, for they made no less than three doubles to left, these hits being by the Brashear brothers and Coy. Coming practically in a row they were easily good for the two runs the Vernons made.

The game served to bring out Gill as a pitcher, and some of the fans think he might really make good in the box if he could be given regular work. He took Tozer's place at the beginning of the seventh inning, and although he gave three passes and three hits were made off him, no runs scored. What he could do in a full game remains to be seen, but he might be a boy wonder with a little more practice.

It seemed in the first inning that the Angels would win in a walk, for they made two runs in about two minutes. Daley singled to center and Bernard to left and when Carlisle threw Bernard's hit to third to head off Daley, Kit Brashear let the ball get away from him and Daley scored. Bernard went to second on the throw-in, to third on Howard's safe bunt to third and scored on Dillon's sacrifice. In the ninth Bernard walked and scored on Howard's double.

For Vernon, doubles by N. Brashear, R. Brashear and Coy made two runs in the first inning. In the fourth another one came from Lindsay's single and steal. Brown's fielder's choice that forced Fisher, and a double steal by Lindsay and Brown. The fourth run resulted from Roy Brashear's hit by pitcher, singles by Coy and Lindsay and Fisher's sacrifice fly to right field.

The strange things of the game were balks by both Willetts and Gill, and few of the local fans ever saw two such things in one game. Neither helped the scores made. Results:

Monster Crowd of Fans Sees Opening Game of Season at Portland and Gov. Benson Heaves First Ball at the Plate—Auto Parade More Than One Mile in Length.

'BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.'

PORTLAND, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twelve thousand people, the largest crowd assembled in the history of the Pacific Coast League, saw Portland defeat Oakland, 2 to 0, today, in the opening game of the season on the home field. There were 10,200 paid admissions and this number was easily swelled to the 12,000 mark by those holding passes and special invitations.

One hundred and thirty-seven automobiles participated in the opening parade and the Oakland and Portland teams were greeted with continuous applause from the throngs that lined the streets.

Garrett outpitched Harkins, the ex-Vernonite and the twirling decided the game. The Beavers scored their first run in the initial inning. Netzel hit for two bases and Olson was struck by a pitched ball. Rapps was passed, and Netzel scored on Guyn's hit. Rapps scored the second run, in the third, on Speas long fly.

Walter McCredie received word of the death of his sister in the East and did not play.

Gov. Frank L. Benson pitched the first ball in the direction of the home plate, where Mayor Joseph Simon was supposed to be waiting to catch it. Score:

CHANCE INDIFFERENT.

NOT EXCITED OVER KLING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—"John Kling's alleged statement that he would start playing as soon as he joined the club is all rubbish," said Manager Frank Chance of the Cubs last night.

uniform and a chance to play ball. If he does pay his fine, and come back to us, but it is a matter of indifference to me. If he wants to stay in Kansas City, it is his own lookout. You may be sure that the Cubs will not beg him to get back into the game. I am sick and tired of the whole Kling business, but ticked to death that we have enough catchers, and good ones, too, to get along without him."

"Kling has a motive in not reporting to us," continued the Cub leader, "and his motive is a regular stick-up game. He seems to think we are clamoring for his return. He knew his old salary was $4500, and he was out to get a raise. As a member of the Chicago club, Kling picked up the sum of $7500 in baseball during the season of 1908."

WHAT JOHNNY THINKS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, April 19.—"It is impossible for me to state just when I shall join the Chicago Nationals," said John G. Kling today. "My 4-year-old daughter is in a hospital, where she has undergone two operations for a serious affection of the throat. I certainly cannot leave her until she is well enough to leave the hospital.

"The report that I am interested with Harry C. Osterman of Boston in the proposed organization of an outlaw league is false. If Manager Chance of the Cubs thinks I consider myself essential to the success of his team, he is very much mistaken. I think the Cubs will win the pennant, whether I join them or not."

OCCIDENTAL WINS.

L. A. HIGH DEFEATED.

The Occidental baseball team defeated Los Angeles High School in a practice game, 13 to 1, at Baer Park, yesterday afternoon.

The Tigers hit Beach freely, making a total of eleven hits. The High School boys went up in the sixth inning and before the slaughter was over eight men had crossed the plate. Patterson pitched well, and kept the hits scattered. Seay got three hits, one of which was a three-bagger, out of four times up. Los Angeles fielded poorly. Score:

Occidental, 11; hits, 11; errors, 2.
Los Angeles, 1; hits, 7; errors, 14.

RELAXATION.

BIG JIM DOES LITTLE WORK.

Decides to Devote One Day to Rest Cure.

Billy Papke Joins Camp to Go Into Training.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BEN LOMOND, April 19.—Jeffries's training camp looked like a rest-cure sanatorium today. For the first time since he entered into the training period, Jeff took almost a complete layoff from the active tasks he has been setting himself daily. A bit of road work in the early morning and a row on the river during the afternoon constituted the only form of exercise the big fighter allowed himself.

By far the largest week-day crowd that has visited the camp lounged around the big gymnasium this afternoon, waiting to see Jeff do some sparring. They were disappointed in this, for the only glimpse they caught of Jeff was when he left the cottage to go down the river.

After his road work, Jeff took a long nap in the open-air sleeping-room. Shortly before noon he strolled into Manager Berger's office and declared he was sleepy still.

"If you feel that way about it, why don't you lay off for the rest of the day?" said Berger. "I know you need a lot of work and you know it, but you have been crowding too much labor into the time you have been here. If you take my advice you will stay away from the gym this afternoon."

Whether Jeff has become more tractable or really was tired, is a question, but he decided to take his manager's advice.

The trainers were pleased at the rest notion. They are all uneasy over Jeff's insatiable desire for work and are fearful of his overtraining.

Billy Papke joined the Jeffries camp this morning. He brought no sparring partners with him to train for his fights with Thomas and Klaus, expecting to work out with Jeffries's helpers or even the champion himself. Papke will not start work until next week.

Berger is rounding into splendid shape and within a few days may be able to make it interesting for Jeff in a sparring match.

BAKER COMES BACK.

HANDS COVE A BEATING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, April 19. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Baker of San Francisco handed Percy Cove of Seattle a beating tonight before a big crowd of fight fans at the West Oakland Athletic Club. After a year's absence from the ring, Baker came back with his usual cleverness and proved too shifty for the "Human Needle."

Cove was outclassed from the start, and it was Harry's fight all the way. The go would have been more interesting to the fans, however, had Baker shown himself to have possessed the knockout punch.

At several stages during the bout Baker apparently had Cove in a bad way, but, although he connected frequently with hard uppercuts and swings to Percy's chin and stomach, the latter saved himself from deep slumber by clinching.

Johnson Is Packing.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Jack Johnson has started to pack up preparatory to leaving for his training camp in San Francisco, next Thursday. His big touring car will be shipped tomorrow and the following day his baggage and gymnasium outfit will be sent forward.

WILL RACE EAST.

TERRAZAS BRANCHING OUT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—The colors of Alberto Terrazas of Mexico will be seen on eastern race courses before the racing season is old, and the horses that make up the stable will probably be at Sheepshead Bay for the spring meeting there.

Terrazas, who is the principal owner of the Juarez race course, purchased a number of young thoroughbreds at the Napa Farms sale in California, and they will be shipped here to race throughout the season. The stable will be made up entirely of 2-year-olds.

A number of them have engagements in the stakes to be run at Sheepshead Bay, Saratoga and Gravesend.

TRACK TO BE SOLD.

TERRE HAUTE ALL IN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.) April 19.—The famous four-corner race track, on which so many world's records for harness horses were made, is to be destroyed. For weeks the Terre Haute Trotting Association had been trying to readjust its affairs that the meeting in July, in the Great Western Circuit, might be given, but the readjustment not being effected, and the owner of forty-seven acres of what is commonly called the Fair Grounds, gave an option to a real estate firm.

Baltimore Racing.

BALTIMORE, April 19.—The Maryland Jockey Club will open its spring meeting tomorrow with a heavy track and probably cloudy skies. All that was needed to make the opening a signal success was good weather, as the card is an excellent one and there are a fine lot of horses at the track. Sloppy going, however, is bound to reduce the fields. Features for tomorrow are the inaugural steeplechase and the country club purse at a mile and forty yards.

Coq II Victorious.

PARIS, April 19.—Coq II, owned by Eugene Fischof, won the Prix du Lot, which was run today at St. Ouen.

BICYCLE SEASON OPENS.

Frank Kramer Wins Five-Mile Race, But Finishes Third in Professional Handicap.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

REVERE (Mass.) April 19.—The country at large was well represented among the winners at the opening of the bicycle racing season at the Revere track this afternoon.

Frank Kramer of East Orange, N. J., the national sprint champion, won the five-mile open race, but only finished third in the half-mile professional handicap. Phil Wright of Salt Lake City won both the quarter-mile open amateur race and the two-mile amateur handicap.

The ten-mile motor-paced race was won by George Wiley of Syracuse, Percy Lawrence of San Francisco, captured the half-mile professional handicap, and Eddie Root of New York won the two-mile consolation.

NEGRO PUG DEAD.

KILLED IN O'BRIEN'S CLUB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—Frank Cole, a lightweight negro pugilist of this city, died in a hospital today from injuries received last night in a boxing bout with Stanley Rodgers at the boxing club managed by Jack O'Brien. Rogers was held without bail to await the action of the Coroner.

Later in the day "Jack" O'Brien, Rodgers's and Cole's seconds, and George Decker, the referee, appeared before Coroner Ford and were held in bail to await the result of an inquest to be held on Saturday. Rodgers's bail was fixed at $1000 and the others were held in $500 each.

Y.M.C.A. BASKETBALL.

The semi-finals of the Lightweight Basketball League of the Young Men's Christian Association will be played off tonight at 8 o'clock in that institute's gymnasium. The Midgets will play the Pirates and the Orioles meet the Tigers. The winners of these two games will play next week and the victor will play the Postoffice team, which is now first, for the championship of the league.

Bishop Has Enemies.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Members of the Aero Club of America opposing the administration of President C. F. Bishop, cabled the Aeronautic Federation at Paris yesterday, asking that body not to ratify the agreement with the Wright company, recently announced by the Aero Club of America, on the ground it gives the Wright company absolute control of aviation in America.

Golfers Must Hurry.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Final notice was mailed yesterday by the Western Golf Association to secretaries of western clubs, reminding them that they have until next Monday to send their lists to the Handicap Committee. A number of clubs have not made reports and in case of failure to do so, the Handicap Committee reserves the right to rate at scratch all players from delinquent organizations.

Match on Again.

CHICAGO, April 19.—The Zybeszko-Roller wrestling match, tentatively canceled when Roller wrenched his shoulder during his bout with Mahmout, will be staged here on April 29, as originally scheduled, it was announced today. Roller is reported in good form again.

Princeton's New Coach.

PRINCETON (N. J.) April 19.—A. E. Meier of St. Louis, it was announced today, will succeed William J. Clarke as coach of the Princeton team. Meier is a graduate of the Princeton 1902 class and played with the Pittsburgh team in 1907.

NEW REFORMS IN FOOTBALL.

Missouri Valley Conference Adopts Its Rules.

Coaches and Training Table to Be Abolished.

Games to Be Played Only on College Grounds.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the Missouri Valley colleges football conference here today it was unanimously voted to retain the intercollegiate games in this district to be played under the new rules that will be adopted by the National Committee April 23, until December 1, 1910.

The conference then created a committee to be appointed, one from each school, by the presidents of the colleges. This committeeman is not to be a coach or physical director in his school.

The conference unanimously adopted the following reforms: To abolish the training table, no athletic coach will be allowed except those who are on the regular teaching staff or full academic year, freshmen shall be limited to competing in athletic events in own school, all interscholatic football games on Thanksgiving Day are abolished, collegiate football games are to be played only on college grounds.

The Missouri Valley conference was made a permanent organization and elected Chancellor Strong of Kansas, president, and Dean Isadore Loeb of Missouri, secretary.

All of the schools were represented except Iowa State College. Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Ames, Drake and Washington universities constitute this conference.

BAKER DEFEATS COVE.

OAKLAND, April 19.—Harry Baker of San Francisco won the decision from Percy Cove of Montana in their fifteen-round fight here tonight. Baker outfought Cove through every stage of the contest, landing at will and outboxing his opponent from the start. He did not seem able to send in the knockout punch.

SNOW AND HAIL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WINCHESTER (Va.) April 19.—Snow and hail fell at intervals this morning over the fruit belt of Northern Virginia and the thermometer has taken a decided tumble, falling 45 degs. since yesterday noon, approaching the freezing point.

SNOW IN OHIO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) April 19.—From one to six inches of wet snow fell throughout Ohio last night, breaking down telephone and telegraph wires.

CLOUDS SAVE FRUIT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, April 19.—Although temperatures ranging from 24 to 36 degs. above zero prevailed in Kansas and Missouri early today, Eastern Kansas and Missouri were protected by clouds which saved the fruit and tender vegetables from a severe frost. In Northwest Missouri freezing temperatures were reported, but in Iowa cloudy conditions prevailed. In Arkansas the weather was cloudy with no frost.

COKE RATE SUSTAINED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—An opinion was handed down yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission in a long series of cases instituted by the Copper Queen Consolidated Company of Globe, Ariz., against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and many other interstate carriers, denying reparation to the complainants on shipments of coke from Pennsylvania to Globe.

The importance of the case lay in the allegation that the through rates on coke were excessive. The rates amounted to the joint rates from the ovens to Chicago, plus the local rates from Chicago to points of destination.

The complainant maintained that it was unjustly discriminated against because it was obliged to pay the higher of two rates from the ovens to Chicago.

The commission held the complainant could not be permitted to attack the separate divisions of joint through rates accruing to the various carriers. The commission held always that the demand for reparation was not based upon any real damage or injury to the shipper.

Prof. Herschel C. Parker of Columbia University, will leave for Seattle, Wash., Sunday, on the first leg of the trip to the top of Mount McKinley. Waldemar Grassl, a Columbia University junior, and H. L. Tucker, of the Appalachian Club, will accompany him. It is Prof. Parker's intention to follow the route described by Dr. Frederick A. Cook.

HALE'S WARNING.

for me to make a personal contest for the succession.

"The year will not find me either a grumbler or discontent. My desire is to see Gov. Fernald elected with a good majority, with a Republican Legislature at his back. It is furthermore important that Maine should send four Republican Representatives to the next Congress to avoid what may be the critical trial day for all Maine's industries and business prosperity.

"Should the Democrats carry the next House of Representatives, within ninety days after the opening of the next Congress, a free trade tariff bill will be sent to the Senate in which Maine's principal industries will be marked for slaughter.

"Whoever recalls the situation under the Morrison bill, and later under the Gorman-Wilson bill will fully realize this. This disaster to Maine can only be prevented by the Republicans retaining control of the next House of Representatives.

"To this end a full Republican delegation from Maine in the next Congress will be needed more than ever before, and to secure this all my sympathy and efforts are at the command of the party."

NEWS HAS STUNNING EFFECT ON SENATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The positive announcement of the prospective retirement of Senator Hale from the Senate, following so closely on a similar announcement regarding Senator Aldrich, seemed to have a stunning effect upon the Senate. That the oldest of the Senators, in point of service, should voluntarily decide to retire from that body was scarcely less of a surprise than that the recognized leader should have decided upon a similar step. Most of the Senators declined to make any comment.

HALE DODGES INTERVIEWS.

Mr. Hale was in the Senate building early in the day, but kept aloof from other Senators and from visitors generally. He was engaged in a conference on appropriation bills. Many of those successful in getting a talk with him found him reticent on the subject of his withdrawal, but to his intimates he made no denial that he had written a letter to Maine, stating his attitude, and outlining his intentions. Nor did he conceal the fact that he probably would not be a candidate for reelection.

By the retirement of Senator Hale the Senate will lose the oldest of its members, in point of service, and the Republican party the chairman of its caucus and its titular leader.

"Who will be the leader of the Senate now?" was asked of Senator Dolliver today in connection with the coming retirement of Senators Aldrich and Hale.

"I suppose the mantle of the leadership will be deposited in the Smithsonian Institution, together with other relics of a discarded and abandoned system," replied the Iowa Senator, who is one of the insurgents against the political organization control of the upper chamber by a few veterans.

CANNON REPLIES.

As he was leaving the White House, Speaker Cannon was asked if the retirement of Senators Aldrich and Hale would have any influence on other members of the House. He declared that the Senators had been influenced wholly by considerations of health. Political considerations, he believed, did not enter into their determination. As for himself, the Speaker, after taking a fling at "muck-rakers," declared he was going to live twenty-five years longer and have a good time while he was doing it.

HALE DOES NOT FEAR RESULT OF ELECTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—While still far from voluble, Senator Hale talked tonight with more freedom than during the day concerning his announced determination to retire from the Senate.

He told his friends that, having been accorded the unparalleled honor of five full terms in the Senate without contest of any character, he did not relish the prospect of entering into a scramble at his present time of life.

While this was the principal reason given by the Senator, he made it plain that his course had not been dictated by any fear of the result.

The Senator contends that, so far as the contest has gone, the indications are entirely favorable to his reelection. It is the conflict itself that appalls him.

Seventy-four years old, and unused to opposition in his political aspirations, he simply hesitated to enter upon a scrimmage which, while it probably would result in his triumph, would be injurious to his health and at the same time greatly disturb his peace of mind.

A man of robust constitution, Mr. Hale has been equal to any demand upon him until the last year or two.

Recently he has experienced attacks of illness, which, while not serious in themselves, have called out warnings. Mr. Hale's record of five full terms, unopposed elections, is without precedent and is unapproached except in the case of his colleague, Senator Frye. Mr. Frye has had as many unopposed elections, but one of the terms was fractional.

Naturally, Senator Hale does not wish to mar this remarkable record. He would feel almost as badly over a triumph won at the expense of a party struggle as over a positive defeat. As is the case with Senator Aldrich, Mr. Hale is a member of the Monetary Commission, and will continue his services in that body.

Give Your Stomach A Chance

A Trial Package Free.

You should give to your stomach the chemicals it needs to restore tone, vigor and health to the gastric fluids.

Food contains all these ingredients so necessary, and when the stomach is in a normal condition it separates these ingredients as it should and manufactures its own digestive agents, but when it is sick and sore, filled with acids and alkalies that irritate everything they come in contact with, it does not get at the food as it should and cannot make its own juices correctly.

Science has proven just what is most necessary to the stomach to produce the correct gastric fluids and to make of digestion a naturally pleasant duty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so made as to give the stomach the highest chemical properties to aid digestion. These tablets are made up from pure fruit and vegetable essences, and this is the formula: Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Lactose, Nux, Aseptic Pepsin (the highest digestive known) and Jamaica Ginger. Its preparation peculiarly preserves the full strength of these ingredients, so that they go into the stomach strong and capable of digesting food of any character. Forty thousand physicians use and prescribe them. Ask your doctor his opinion of the formula above. Every druggist sells them. Price 50c per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

LOWDEN SAYS HE WILL RETIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STERLING (Ill.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank O. Lowden, member of Congress for the Thirteenth Illinois District, announced today that he would not be a candidate for renomination.

In a letter declaring his intention of retiring from the race before it started, Congressman Lowden ascribed his reason for retirement to his continued ill-health. He said, however, that he would complete his present term in Congress.

Mr. Lowden, who married Miss Florence Pullman of Chicago, daughter of the palace car magnate, has represented the Thirteenth District since the defeat of R. R. Hitt four years ago.

HARAHAN HAS A SENSATION.

Leaves for New York to Meet I. C. Directors.

Resignation of High Official Is Expected.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President J. H. Harahan of the Illinois Central today departed for New York City, taking with him complete reports concerning an investigation of graft which he ordered to be made in connection with transactions between certain car equipment and supply companies and the railroad.

Reports of the investigation will be laid before the board of directors by President Harahan tomorrow at its meeting in New York. At the same time the President will relate facts concerning alleged hostile activity against the road by friends of former President Stuyvesant Fish, by interests friendly to the companies under investigation and by officials and friends suspected of being involved in the graft.

President Harahan went alone, taking with him the report of W. J. Burns of the National Detective Agency, who has been working upon the investigation for months.

"Do you expect any resignations immediately after the meeting?" he was asked.

"I don't intend to make any statement until I make public the full statement which I contemplate issuing," was his reply.

Yesterday, when he was asked about this statement and its scope, Mr. Harahan replied:

"Well, it will be a matter for extras." He would say nothing more.

There were well-defined reports today that the resignation of a prominent official of the Illinois Central is about to be asked for, and that it probably will follow close upon the meeting tomorrow in New York, when the directors gather to hear President Harahan's report.

HARRIMAN LINES ALL PROSPERING

SO SAYS STUBBS, AND HE OUGHT TO KNOW.

Vice-President and Traffic Director of Big Railroad System Returns from Inspection Trip With Glowing Account of Present and Future Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There never was a time when the Harriman lines were in better condition physically or when they had better prospects," said J. C. Stubbs, vice-president and traffic director of the Harriman system today. "They are ordering new equipment, increasing train service and facilities everywhere and give promise of continuing the improvements."

Mr. Stubbs has just returned to Chicago from a five weeks' inspection tour over the entire system in the United States and in Mexico, in company with Robert S. Lovett, president of the Harriman lines; Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of operation and maintenance; E. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, and other officials.

"From our observation everything is in excellent condition," said Mr. Stubbs. "The lines are all open after the severe winter, and trains are being operated again on time, but the interruptions, though only temporary, will require some considerable work and expense to get back to standard. Crop conditions, as we saw them, were of the best, and when they are good, of course, they help everything else.

"Double tracking on the Union Pacific is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and as soon as the work can be accomplished the entire line from Omaha to Ogden will have two tracks. Roundly speaking, 500 miles of the 1000 have been finished, and the entire line from Omaha to San Francisco is now protected by block signals."

New Orleans Excited Over Pledge of Support for Panama Exposition from Northwest Shriners.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New Orleans, as the logical point for the Panama Canal Exposition in 1915, was heartily indorsed by the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. The brotherhood is holding its seventh convention here.

There are over 1000 of the clerks in New Orleans for their national convention. President Braggins of Kansas City is presiding.

Mayor Behrman had a call today from J. E. Werlin, City Treasurer of Portland, Or. He told the Mayor that he was delighted with the reception given the Shriners and their entertainment while in the city. It was, however, no surprise to him.

"Although from the Pacific Coast, and naturally at first in sympathy with San Francisco as the proper place for the Panama exposition, yet, with one accord," he said, "the entire body of northwest temples is going back boosting New Orleans as the logical point for the exposition."

He stated further that every member of a northwest temple has appointed himself a committee of one to call upon his Congressman, whose influence will be felt in Washington and elsewhere, and his State government, in helping to turn the minds and eyes of everyone towards New Orleans for the Panama exposition. The northwest temples' delegates are from the States of Oregon, Idaho, Washington, British Columbia, Alberta, Montana and South Dakota.

REPORT OF GEOLOGICAL SURVEY ON MINERAL WEALTH IN WEST.

Bulletin Three Hundred and Eighty, Under Title of "Contributions to Economic Geology," Discusses Mine Treasures Found in Colorado, Oregon, Nevada and New Mexico—Marble in Arizona.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The increasing interest in the mineral products of the Western States, especially those lying in or west of what may be broadly termed the Rocky Mountain region, is reflected in the large measure of attention given to that region by the Geological Survey, which, for several years, has issued, under the title "Contributions to Economic Geology," annual volumes devoted largely to the mineral resources of that part of the country.

The latest volume of this series, (Bulletin 380,) contains a number of valuable papers, discussing gold, silver, cement and iron in Colorado; gold, silver, copper and asphalt in Nevada; gold and silver in Oregon; lead, zinc and iron in New Mexico; wolframite and marble in Arizona, and other lesser deposits.

NEW NEVADA CAMPS.

The revival of interest in Nevada in gold and silver mines, brought about by the discoveries at Goldfield, has led to the development of other districts, two of which are discussed in the bulletin.

The town of Hornsilver, which lies in Esmeralda county, twenty-six miles southwest of Goldfield, is described as a promising camp, though when it was visited only one mine had been developed far enough to ship ore. One or two neighborhood mines that were worked forty years ago, but were abandoned on account of transportation difficulties, have now been reopened.

Round Mountain, another camp described, lies forty-five miles north of Tonopah. Only one mine was examined in detail, and this was found to carry oxidized ore averaging $10 to $15 to the ton. The dirt at the foot of the south slope of Round Mountain was being washed by hydraulic power with good results.

A large number of promising copper mines have been opened at Yerrington, in Lyon county, Nev. They all lie in the Singatse Ridge, close to the town, and are strung out in a chain two miles long.

Most of them have shipped some oxidized copper ore, but operations are now confined to the sulphurized ores. Some of them are old mines.

The asphalt deposits of Northeastern Nevada are also described. The material closely resembles a deposit in Oklahoma which has been fully examined. It looks much like coal, but is much lighter in weight. These deposits probably cover a wide area, but have not been fully explored as yet. Their existence shows there was once much petroleum in the region, but this probably escaped long ago, owing to the shattering of the rocks by geologic disturbances.

OREGON'S MINERAL WEALTH.

Western Oregon has produced considerable gold and silver in past years, but the bulletin describes only the Bohemia and Cracker Creek districts, in which comparatively little work is now in progress. The Bohemia district, where mining has been done for years, has produced perhaps $400,000, mainly in free gold. Prospecting in the region is carried on rather vigorously and it is reasonable to suppose that other workable deposits will sooner or later be discovered, despite the dense mass of vegetation that conceals them.

The Cracker Creek district, in the Blue Mountain gold belt, lies across the famous "Mother Lode." Only one mine was producing at the time it was visited, but it was expected that others would soon begin production.

IN NEW MEXICO.

The lead deposits at Tres Hermanas, in Southern New Mexico, have been known for many years and have yielded about $200,000 worth of metal. In 1904 zinc was discovered in this district and shipments were made to smelters. There are also indications of copper in this region.

The mines of the Hanover district, in Grant county, New Mexico, have yielded over 1,000,000 tons of iron in the ten years since they were opened. Both hard and soft ores have been extensively worked, but the principal ore is magnetite. The output of the district is steadily increasing year by year.

WOLFRAMITE IN ARIZONA.

Wolframite is an ore of tungsten and is valuable in proportion to its rarity. The deposits in Arizona are in Cochise county. Those that have been found have been pretty well worked out, but others probably exist. The ores lie in granite near its contact with schist and in a quartz vein that traverses the granite.

Arizona contains valuable marble deposits, which are located in Cochise county, in the Chiricahua Mountains. The marble lies in thick zones in the limestone strata and is widely distributed. One claim includes a ledge seventy-five feet thick and 250 feet long, containing marble that is free from defects. The material is well fitted for interior decorative work and for general architectural uses.

The annual volume containing such papers and preliminary reports on economic geology to be published during the present year is now in preparation. Meanwhile, copies of the last volume (Bulletin 380,) may be obtained free of charge by writing to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

ROCKEFELLER.

"What are you doing here?" asked the reporter.

"I came down to see my daughter and her family off," he replied.

"Why," observed the reporter, puzzled, "I was at their stateroom and I didn't see you there, Mr. Rockefeller."

"Tee-hee," giggled the richest man in the world. "I know you didn't. I was hiding behind the door all the time. I observed at the time that you had a very pleasant voice. I even saw the tips of your whiskers. Tee-hee."

"That being the case," said the reporter, "I am going to ask some questions now."

"Fire away," said Mr. Rockefeller, "but remember that this is not a court. I can refuse to answer without acknowledging criminality."

"Well, then," was the first question, "how is Standard Oil?"

"Feeling pretty good," said Mr. Rockefeller. "We are still selling a little oil. Quality fine. Price low. Try it."

"Are you going down the bay to meet Teddy?"

"Oh, no; no, no, no," was the reply. "Why, he has been out killing lions and tigers—just hunting wild beasts. I don't know what he might do to me if he saw me."

Then Mr. Rockefeller hurried to the end of the pier and stood on a string piece and waved his silk flag until the ship was out of sight. Then he walked briskly back to the street, and, waving aside all taxicab drivers, ran down into the Hudson tube station to go back to New York.

MINNEHAHA IS DOOMED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HUGHTOWN (St. Marys, Sicily) April 19.—Three small steamers and a schooner tonight are standing by the wreck of the Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha, which is in the grasp of the rocks of these treacherous islands. All hope of saving the steamer has practically been abandoned. At noon today, when the tide was high, everybody was ordered off the ship, for fear she would slip from the reef and go to the bottom.

All except sixty cattle and most of the cargo has been safely landed, but there is no food for the cattle here. The officers and crew returned to their labors after the tide lowered. They hope to get the rest of the cargo and cattle ashore tomorrow.

PASSENGERS REACH LONDON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 19.—The passengers of the Minnehaha arrived at Paddington Station by special train at 9:30 tonight. All the passengers spoke in highest terms of the efforts of the company to look after their safety and comfort.

The house in Muddy Brook, a suburb of Great Barrington, Mass., where the Rockefeller family formerly resided, is to be sold at auction on April 30. The house, which was at one time the home of John D. Rockefeller's father, is now a part of the estate of the late Cyrus Avery and is being disposed of by the executors.

John Donovan, of St. Louis, Mo., a politician of gigantic proportions and a former circus man, dropped dead Monday night while watching an Indian dance at a circus.

SWOPE CASE.

two Swopes to make medical examination had been repulsed.

(8.) In removing the organs of Col. and Chrisman Swope, little care was exercised, so that the organs as examined were not in the same condition as when in the bodies.

(9.) Col. Swope up to the day of his death took various medicines containing strychnine.

(10.) Dr. Hyde never told Miss Keller, in handing her a capsule, for Col. Swope, to "make him take it."

WERE GOOD FRIENDS.

(12.) Mrs. Hyde's diary showed Dr. Hyde was not at the Swope residence on many days when he is accused of having spread typhoid germs there.

(13.) Dr. Hyde and Col. Swope were the best of friends and the physician was always kind to the old man.

(14.) There was no desire on Dr. Hyde's part, either covert or expressed, to act as an executor of the estate of Col. Swope.

(15.) Col. Swope was in such physical condition his demise might have been expected at any time.

(16.) The tests by the chemists to search for strychnine in the bodies will not prove conclusively that this poison and not another had been found.

(17.) Col. Swope never refused to take any medicine left for him by Dr. Hyde.

All these things Mr. Walsh said he would prove by his own witnesses and by admissions from State's witnesses.

RESISTS A POLL TAX.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GRAFTON (Ill.) April 19.—Because J. J. Keon, a socialist leader, refuses to pay a poll tax of $1.50 he began this afternoon to serve six months in jail.

The City Hall has been converted into a jail by screening the windows with chicken wire and Keon declares he will serve his full time rather than pay the tax or work it out at 75 cents a day. He holds such a tax is unconstitutional.

Keon's meals will be brought from the city's leading hotel and a special deputy has been sworn in to look after him, making the cost of his keep to the city $3.25 a day.

Keon recently was defeated for Circuit judge.

CITY WANTS CIRCUS CALLIOPE.

Offers to Reduce License If Show Folks Will Wake Up "Dead Ones" and Bring New Life.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EVANSVILLE (Ind.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An ordinance has been introduced in the City Council to reduce the circus license here from $450 to $200, with an amendment that whenever a circus gives a parade along Main street and the principal streets in the city they will have their licenses reduced $25 more, making it $175. The men who are back of the ordinance say a street parade besides being an attraction for the children, is good for the grown folks as well, and that the sound of the calliope tends to wake up the "dead ones" and to bring new life to the city. Most of the members of the Council are said to be favorable to the new ordinance.

EXPLANATION.

COMPETITION IS FICTITIOUS.

St. Louis Packer Tells Why Hogs Are High.

Exposes Tactics of "Trust" Managers.

Buyers, Ostensibly Rivals, All for Same Firm.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—High prices of meat are due partly to fictitious competition between live stock buyers employed by the Swift, Armour and Morris interests and the National Packing Company, which is controlled by those interests, according to testimony this afternoon by A. N. Benn, vice-president of the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision Company. Mr. Benn testified in the investigation of the packing companies conducted by Atty.-Gen. Major.

The St. Louis company is owned and controlled by the National Packing Company, according to testimony adduced yesterday. To this competition between concerns ostensibly rivals, but really under the same control, the witness specifically attributed the recent price of $11.15 for hogs.

Benn stated buyers, ostensibly representing the National company, but, in fact, representing the Armour-Swift-Morris interests, frequently bid against the buyers directly employed by these interests and thus forced up the price of meat. The benefit of this policy is explained by the investigators as producing an illusion of competition in the eyes of the public.

"The competition between the different buyers is something fierce," said Benn. "If it had not been for that we should not have had hogs at $11.15."

"It looks as if the Swift-Armour-Morris interests were really trying to lift themselves over the fence by their bootstraps," commented Atty.-Gen. Major.

"That's just what it is," agreed Benn.

INDIGNATION.

PICTURE FRAUD STIRS FRANCE

IMPOSITIONS ON AMERICANS AROUSE SYMPATHY.

Papers Charge That Comte de Gatigny, Who Fleeced Mrs. Hamilton Paine With Fake Copies of "Old Masters," Has Been Carrying on Illegal Methods for Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The French newspapers are devoting much attention to the latest picture scandal. In general they show much sympathy for Mrs. Hamilton Paine in her attempt to bring to justice the so-called Comte Aulby de Gatigny, whose title has been proved false, as are also the "old masters" he has been selling to members of the American colony.

Comte de Gatigny, believed to be the son of an English tailor, and his wife, formerly a Miss Lund of Boston, have been living the life of the French country nobility for eight years in an old chateau near Tours, bought, it is said, with the proceeds of the sale of fraudulent "old masters."

Comte de Gatigny, it is alleged, for years has been ordering cheap copies of celebrated paintings, which he retouched, adding, as a mark of antiquity, the old-time patina and in some cases, even, cracked surfaces to the canvases, giving the appearance of great age. But, when he had the luck to make the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Paine, wealthy Bostonians, desirous of collecting a unique art gallery and of being known as art amateurs, he needed a larger background against which to work.

The Count offered to rent his entire collection to the Americans for an annual payment of $8000, giving them the right to purchase any canvas at a price far below the market rate. In this way Mrs. Paine became the owner of a false Corot at an expenditure of $1200, and of a genuine Murillo for $12,000, besides older canvases.

Mrs. Paine also gave orders and provided the money for extensive purchases of old wines and antique silks and furniture, which, she asserts, the Count never delivered.

PERSECUTIONS OF JEWS.

Expulsion on April 28, It Is Feared, Will Precipitate Many Massacres. Hardships Begin.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mail advices from Kieff, Russia, today tell of the terrible hardships inflicted on Jews, and the beginning of the persecution, which the Russian government plans to bring to a climax on April 28, in the expulsion of 1200 Jews and their families.

April 28 is Thursday in the Holy Week of the Russian church. It is feared massacres will follow.

For days it has been no uncommon sight to see bandaged or crippled Jews dragged through the streets by the police on their way to farcical hearings.

INTRODUCES THE BUDGET.

David Lloyd George, Chancellor of Exchequer, Comments on England's Financial Situation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 19.—David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, reintroduced last year's budget in the House of Commons today. He declared that he realized that the present deficit of $131,240,000 would be more than wiped out when all arrears had been collected, and that there would be an actual surplus of $14,800,000.

If the budget had been passed as usual last year, he said, there would have been a surplus of $21,000,000. The Chancellor commented upon the remarkable decrease of 32 per cent. in the consumption of whisky, a decrease that he attributed mainly to the extra duty imposed. The lessening of the revenue from spirits as compared with the estimate figure was $14,000,000.

FRIENDLY DEMONSTRATION.

ROOSEVELT, OFF FOR PARIS, CHEERED BY HUNGARIANS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUDAPEST, April 19.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son, Kermit, left here tonight by the Orient express for Paris, where they will arrive Thursday morning.

Instead of crossing Switzerland, their route runs north through the Austrian Alps, and through southern Germany, entering France at Avricourt.

Mr. Roosevelt's last day in Hungary only furnished additional proof of the deep impression his personality has made upon the hearts of the people. Enthusiasm increased up to the moment of his departure. Hundreds cheered at the front of the hotel when he left this morning, for a visit to the government stock farm at the Babotna, where the breeding of Arab horses is carried on, and thousands were massed about the station when he returned at 7 o'clock tonight. They greeted him with Hungarian cries equivalent to the American "Hurrah for Roosevelt."

The ex-President seemed to understand and appreciate.

The packed streets echoed the cries as he passed, and this demonstration was thrice repeated later in the evening in front of the hotel as he left for the station, where another frantic multitude had waited till midnight to see him off.

POPULAR ENTHUSIASM.

The same popular enthusiasm was displayed seventy miles from Budapest on the drive from the railroad to Babotna. Carriages drawn by six horses with drivers in picturesque Hungarian costumes, drove the party through the thatch-roofed villages, decorated with crude American flags and adorned with hastily constructed triumphal arches. In each village the schools had been dismissed that the children might join in the acclamation.

Mr. Roosevelt greatly enjoyed his visit to the breeding farm. After lunch, at which the speeches of welcome were most fervid, a score of pure-blood Arab stallions were trotted out for his inspection. The colonel in charge of the stable, an Arab, who came from Syria as a stable boy, took the greatest pride in showing the fine points of the beautiful animals, saying to Mr. Roosevelt: "I am not married; my wives are in the stable."

The ex-President and ladies of the party, including Countess Szechenyi, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, fed the horses with sugar.

FINE NAME FOR FILLY.

Later the party visited the brood mares, where Col. Roosevelt was shown a tiny thoroughbred foaled today. It was a filly, but the colonel christened it "Roosevelt."

There was an inspection of blooded cattle, sheep, pigs and domestic fowls. The dinner at the Foreign Office tonight was followed by a big reception.

Count Szechenyi, who had a narrow escape from serious injury from the whirling blade of a fan on board the train on the trip to the breeding farm, suffered no ill effects tonight. The sharp blade grazed his head. Another half inch and it would have cleaved the skull.

PAPAL NUNCIO SHOWS SURPRISE IN LETTER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

VIENNA, April 19.—The Vaterland, a Vatican organ, prints a letter from the Papal nuncio, Monsignor Granite di Belmonte Pignatelli, in which he expresses surprise at the reports published regarding his meeting with Mr. Roosevelt. His visit, he declared, was only in the way of an exchange of courtesies between Ambassador Kerens and himself, which would afford him an opportunity to express his personal esteem for Mr. Roosevelt.

FIRST GRAFT VICTIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Guilty as indicted, with a recommendation for extreme mercy from the court, was the verdict returned today in the case of former Councilman M. L. Swift, the first of the victims of the graft scandal put on trial on the charge of bribery. The jury was out an hour and forty-five minutes.

Attorney Marshall for the defense announced a new trial would be asked for. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Seymour tonight said Judge Frazer had signified his intention of considering the recommendation for mercy, and also that the District Attorney's office would not oppress Swift.

BATH STILL OPEN.

Mr. Seymour further said the immunity bath is still open to those "small Councilmen" who appear at the District Attorney's office and tell all they know of the graft syndicate.

The chief witness for the commonwealth was John F. Klein. The defense relied mainly on the attempt to break down Klein's testimony, and the verdict becomes a most important one for the prosecution, because it indicates the District Attorney may rely on the confession of Klein as the mainstay in the prosecution of other cases.

SIMON CALLED.

Immediately after the Swift case had been disposed of, former Councilman A. V. Simon was called, but his counsel pleaded illness of his client and asked for a continuance. Prosecutor Seymour unexpectedly called a physician who had examined Simon at noon and said he was not seriously ill. Counsel was ordered to produce his client for trial tomorrow morning. Six other Councilmen will be called for trial tomorrow.

LESLIE VERY ILL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—Max G. Leslie, whose trial in Pittsburgh on on indictment on the bribery cases, was set for yesterday, is very ill, according to physicians who examined him today at his residence.

Leslie sent word to Pittsburgh that he was ill, and the examination was made to verify his statement.

CALLS AT WHITE HOUSE.

ALDRICH NOTIFIES PRESIDENT PERSONALLY OF HIS INTENTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich called unostentatiously at the White House late today and told President Taft of his intention to retire from politics at the end of his present term. The greeting between the President and Senator was hearty, and it is said Mr. Taft did not attempt to disguise his sorrow over the Senator's retirement.

The President has let it be known that for some time he had felt the sincere support of Senator Aldrich.

Mr. Taft has been a staunch believer in Mr. Aldrich's sincerity and he looked to him to put the party measures through the Senate in the shape recommended by the administration. As Senator Aldrich will serve throughout the present and the next session of Congress, the President still believes he will have accomplished by that time everything promised in the party platform.

To his callers today, who spoke of the prospective retirement of Senators Aldrich and Hale, President Taft had little to say. Each time he was approached on the subject he seemed deeply affected. He says the Senate is losing its two men best acquainted with the work of the government.

ITALIAN WEDS AND STARTS ON A LONE HONEYMOON TRIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) April 19.—Leaving his pretty bride behind in this city, George Castagnetto, member of the local Italian colony, left for Italy this morning to spend the most singular honeymoon trip ever originating in this part of the country.

Castagnetto was married here last night in the presence of many friends. As the ceremony was completed the groom surprised every one, including the young wife, by announcing he would leave at once for the fatherland.

It developed that Castagnetto had been planning a visit to his boyhood home for some time. Before he was able to leave he fell in love with pretty Louisa Bonnino and she consented to marry him. Taking no chances of losing his sweetheart, Castagnetto had the nuptial knot tied and then he announced he would return home.

The husband dried his wife's tears by promising to "hurry back." He then completed his hurried preparations for the trip and left this morning for New York, where he will sail for Italy.

GOULD WEDDING,

the first floor was decorated with roses. The large apartment on the third floor, where the reception was held, had decorations of calla lilies and pink and white apple blossoms.

MILLIONS IN GIFTS.

A force of detectives stood on guard all day over the wedding presents. Various estimates were made of their value, some as high as $2,000,000.

Miss Vivian Gould, sister of the bride, who makes her début next season, was maid of honor.

Miss Margareta Drexel, sister of the bridegroom, came from England with her parents and her fiancé, Guy Montague Finch-Hatton, Viscount Maidstone, to act as bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids were Miss Hope Hamilton, a cousin of Miss Gould; Miss Marjorie A. Curtiss, Miss Beatrice Claflin and Miss Elsie Nicoll of New York. Miss Ellen Mackay, daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, and Miss Edith Gould, third, were flower girls.

IN PALE BLUE SATIN.

The bridesmaids all wore gowns of pale blue satin, veiled in blue and pink chiffon.

Mr. Drexel was attended by his brother, Armstrong Drexel. The ushers were Viscount Maidstone and Noel Griffith of London; Craig Biddle and John Fell, his cousins, of Philadelphia; William Rhinelander Stewart, Julius W. Noyes and Jay and Kingdon Gould, brothers of the bride.

The honeymoon plans of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel were kept secret. It is known, however, that they will be in London in June to attend the wedding of Margareta Drexel and Viscount Maidstone.

CAVE-IN STOPS TRAFFIC.

OROVILLE, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A disastrous accident occurred on the Western Pacific Railway yesterday afternoon when a freight train was wrecked in the middle of the long tunnel at Spanish Creek Cañon, west of Portola. The tunnel timbering was torn out for a short distance and tons of earth caved down upon the train, burying many cars.

The track cannot be cleared for more than a week, as the iron and timbers of the buried cars prevent rapid operation of the steam shovels. Passengers and mail are being transferred over the tunnel.

Portola, which is the end of the present mail and passenger service, is the point that is inconvenienced by the accident. The disaster was caused by a flange on the car wheel breaking and derailing a car just in the middle of the tunnel.

GOSSIP OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

BY MALCOLM WATSON.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 2.—Stalls have been fairly cheap during the past week at most of the West End theaters. In other words the influence of the Easter holidays has made itself rather severely felt. The monied classes seized the opportunity of flying to the country. Park Lane and Grosvenor Square were practically deserted and the consequence was that the higher-priced places in the various theaters showed a plentiful lack of occupants. The difficulty was met by some of the managers by the simple means of selling stalls at a rebate of something like 40 per cent., provided, of course, there was no room elsewhere. After all, why, looking at the common sense aspect of the question, shouldn't they have done so? The principle obtains more or less in every other trade or profession—where would our famous spring and autumn clearance sales be if it were not generally adopted? Even Tree does not scruple to admit that he follows this custom. "Half a loaf is better than no bread," he said to me the other day, "and until our regular clientele returns to town we must needs content ourselves with what we can get."

Tree is considering the advisability of an important innovation at His Majesty's. He has been studying the question of economics and has come to the conclusion that the American system of devoting the whole ground floor of the theater to stalls at the price of a dollar, and a half is the best. When he originally opened His Majesty's he divided his parterre into three sections: so many rows of stalls at $2.50, so many at $1.50 and the usual pit at 60 cents. But the thing did not work well. People able to afford $1.50 seats only, couldn't bear the thought of being looked down upon by their neighbors in the dearer places and Tree had accordingly to return to the old arrangement. Now he is strongly of opinion that a uniform price of $1.75 for stalls would meet the difficulty, although I, personally, very much fear that the step would bring down upon his head a storm of indignation from the pittites. George Edwardes's views, on the other hand, are entirely against such a project. He is all in favor of increasing the price of stalls to $3.25. A production today, he insists, costs more than double what it did twenty-five years ago. Why then shouldn't the public pay something extra to see it?

George Tyler tells me that he has practically settled for the production of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" at the Garrick. There are still one or two little knots to straighten out, but he has every reason to believe there will be no great difficulty about them. The lease of the theater, as I wrote some time ago, is in the hands of a Mr. Dott, a money lender, who took it over from H. T. Brickwell, who in his turn secured it from the ground landlord, Sir William Gilbert. The latter has no friendly feeling for his new tenant from whom he has tried to re-purchase the lease in order to hand it over to Arthur Bourchier. Dott holds to his bargain, however. Tyler, of course, would only take the theater for a few weeks, or at the most months, as Gertrude Elliott, who plays the heroine, and who is to be supported by Henry Ainley, crosses the Atlantic next fall. The probabilities are that the Garrick will then revert to Robert Loraine, who has offered to lease it for three years. It will be interesting to see what Loraine does as his own manager. He has one or two plays up his sleeve, but what he most needs at present is an attractive leading lady. And that is a commodity not easily to be found just at present.

"The Brass Bottle" is fast approaching the end of its run at the Vaudeville where the customary fortnight's notice went up last week. George Edwardes, ever eager to conquer new worlds has arranged to supply the Messrs. Gatti with their next piece. This is an English version of "Die Verschiedene Frau," ("The Divorced Wife") which has enjoyed an enormous vogue on the continent. The music, by Oscar Strauss, has, I am told, reached a pinnacle of popularity higher even than that touched by "The Merry Widow." Edwardes is having some little bother with the German authors, but all that is likely to be smoothed out within the next few days. Little Phyllis Dare, who recently left "The Arcadians," takes part in the production and the hero will be played by Robert Evett, one of Edwardes's favorite tenors. A cabled offer was also dispatched to G. P. Huntley, who, however, returned the laconic answer "already engaged."

"The Arcadians," by the way, is booming along almost as vigorously as ever. In their first deal the Bond street libraries bought up seats to the tune of $200,000. That deal they have recently renewed, thus insuring the piece, which celebrates its first anniversary on the 28th inst., a further prosperous run up to, at least, the end of July. Notwithstanding all this Robert Courtneidge, the lucky manager of the Shaftesbury, has already got his next production well in hand. Its authors are J. T. Tanner, closely associated for the past twenty years with the Gaiety, and A. M. Thompson, while Lionel Monckton and Howard Talbot are responsible for the music. The story is laid in Japan and Courtneidge promises that it shall have a beautiful and picturesque setting.

Ada Reeve, if report may be trusted, is in receipt of an offer from the Pat Casey Agency to go to America for twenty weeks at a salary of $2500 per week. As, however, Martin Beck told me just before sailing a fortnight ago that he had secured her for his circuit it looks as if she would have to refuse it. She is at present appearing at the Hippodrome, where the great French actress Réjane begins her engagement next week. I have just had a chat with her and gather that she is inclined to view everything through rose-colored spectacles. She tells me, what indeed she told me years ago, that one of her dearest ambitions is to found a French theater in London. Other people have been moved by a similar purpose, but, so far, nothing tangible has come of it. We are always ready to welcome the stranger within our gates, but when it comes to his taking up a permanent residence among us our enthusiasm is apt to cool down somewhat.

MARQUISE DE WENTWORTH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

Marquise de Wentworth.

Foremost American artist in Paris. Most decorated woman in the world. She has painted popes, kings, queens, presidents, millionaires and notables of every land.

PARIS, April 9.—The Marquise de Wentworth, wife of T. Winslow Wentworth of New York, has achieved the high honor of being made a member of the Jury of French Women Painters and Sculptors. In the domain of art this is the highest dignity ever conferred upon an American, either man or woman.

American artists exhibit in the two great annual salons and have carried off many medals. Some select few have even been members (societaires) of the New Salon, or the Société des Beaux Arts. But never until now has an American served on the jury of a French salon.

The Salon, over which the Marquise assists in presiding, is twenty-nine years old. It is held in the famous Grand Palais which gives hospitality to the two annual salons—the Salon of the Champs Elysées and the Salon of the Champ de Mars, the Old Salon and the New Salon, the Salon des Beaux Arts and the Salon of the French Artists.

The President of the Salon of French Women Artists is the Dowager Duchess d'Uzès.

The versatile Duchess, the accomplished Marquise and the other members of the jury enjoy no sinecure. This is clear from the fact that to this year's salon they have admitted two thousand five hundred pictures, besides many pretty pieces of sculpture. For these two thousand five hundred pictures they probably passed upon ten thousand.

Just before the recent vernissage, or opening day, the Duchess d'Uzès and the Marquise de Wentworth composed a deputation who called upon the President and Madame Fallières to invite them to the opening. The invitation was most cordially accepted.

The Marquise de Wentworth has the distinction of being not only a juror, but an exhibitor. And naturally the solitary picture which she exhibits is hung in a place of honor. It is called "Pour les Pauvres" (For the Poor.) It is a pleasing scene in a peaceful room of a convent. There are four sisters, one of whom is reading aloud for the other three, who are hard at work for the poor. Altogether it has been very much admired and has divided the honors of attention with the flower pictures of Madame Madelaine Lemaire.

Probably the best picture which the Marquise de Wentworth has ever painted is "The Lost Moments of Leo the Thirteenth." At least this is her own opinion. She had exceptional opportunities, for His Holiness liked her very much. This picture is now in the Vatican, as is also a portrait of Leo the Thirteenth, which the Sovereign Pontiff considered to be the best likeness painted of him. Her title comes from the late Pope and was given to her in recognition of her work as a painter of religious and philanthropic subjects.

As a portrait painter the Marquise de Wentworth excels. Besides the portrait of Leo the Thirteenth, she has also painted President Roosevelt, King Edward, Queen Alexandria, Cardinal Vaughan of London, Archbishop Corrigan of New York and many other celebrities. Her portrait of President Roosevelt was hung in a place of honor at last year's annual Salon and was very much admired.

Her portraits of Ex-Atty.-Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte and of the late John W. Mackey rank very high. There is also from her brush a fine portrait of Challemel Lacour, president of the Senate. It is hung in the Senate Chamber.

The Marquise has also a reputation as a painter of young girls. She has painted many, the best of which are Mlle. Combes, daughter of Ex-Prime Minister Combes, and Miss Maloney of Philadelphia. Needless to say her work has long since received substantial official recognition, for one of her pictures adorns the National Gallery of the Luxembourg.

For twenty years the Marquise de Wentworth has been exhibiting in the Salon. She has received honorable mention and medals at Paris, Lyons and Turin and first gold medal at the National Exhibition of Tours. She is also a medalist from the International Exhibition of Paris in 1900. In addition to her representation in the Luxembourg she is also represented in the Metropolitan Museum of New York and in the Corcoran Gallery at Washington.

She is probably the most decorated woman in the world. To begin with, she is a grand officer of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, a venerable order dating back to the days of the crusades. She is a Knight of Order of St. Gregory and the decoration going with this honor is a large plaque studded with diamonds. When the Marquise wears this decoration the ambassadors in gold lace look like thirty cents. She is an officer of public instruction. As far back as 1894 she received the decoration of Officer of the Academy. And last, but greatest of all, she is one of the few women who have ever been made Knights of the Legion of Honor.

Only two other American ladies enjoy this distinction. One is Mrs. Dun Manning of New York, who was decorated for her work in connection with the Lafayette statue erected in Paris by the school children of America. The other is Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago, who was decorated because she was a special commissioner to the exhibition of 1900. The Marquise received her decoration because of her artistic attainments. The only other woman ever decorated with the Legion of Honor for work with palette and brush was the famous animal painter, Rosa Bonheur.

Her life has been entirely devoted to art. Her early studies were made in New York, where she was born. At sixteen she came to Paris and studied under the skilful directions of Cabanel and Edouard Detaille. Ever since she has had the benefit of the friendly criticisms of the very best artists. For her spacious salon in the Champs Elysées is a haunt of the artistic talent of the metropolis.

A wife who paints her own husband and paints him well is a rarity. So well has the Marquise succeeded that she might have been thinking of Cromwell's words to the Painter: "Paint me as I am, and if thou leavest out one wart or scar I will not pay thee a farthing."

Last year the Marquise came in for a large fortune and now society people are hoping she will give more of her time to frivolity and less to art. Socially the Marquise is very much in the diplomatic set. During the seven years that M. Delcasse was minister of foreign affairs she was strongly in evidence and she is still a power in the chancelleries.

The Marquise may be seen more frequently at the receptions of Prince and Princess Rodelin than at those of the American embassy. She knows everybody who is anybody. One is as likely to meet at her house, M. de Selves, Prefect of the Seine, M. Lepine, Prefect of Police, as the president of the Bank of France or the Baron and Baroness Henri de Rothschild.

The Marquise prefers to live in her studio in Paris rather than in the big brown stone house opposite that of Gen. Horace Porter in New York. For to all artists Paris has an atmosphere that attracts with magnetic force.

Good-Road Sketch Accepted.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday inspected and accepted two and a half miles of the improvements on El Monte Road. This stretch of highway, which begins east of Eastlake Park, and extends toward Alhambra, is a part of the good roads system now under construction. Work will be begun within a few weeks on the road from Los Angeles to Hermosa Beach, by way of Inglewood. The specifications, which were prepared by Chief Engineer Loder, were accepted and advertisements for bids will be made immediately.

Boy Finds Mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snyder, stepfather and mother, respectively, of Ernest Parker, the boy who waited at the postoffice, day before yesterday in hopes of getting their address, went to the office yesterday and a happy family reunion followed. The 13-year-old lad came here from New York to join his parents, but failed to find them at the railroad station. Knowing that they got their mail from box No. 1295, he went to the postoffice in hopes they would call for their mail and thus find him there.

MERIT DOESN'T COUNT.

Police Commission Selects Six Men from Civil Service List and Turns Down Highest.

Out of an even dozen of names certified by the Civil Service Commission as those of men qualified for appointment on the police force, six were selected by the Police Commission last night and ordered to report for duty today. An interesting fact in connection with the selection of these six men is that their respective merit standing, as given by the Civil Service Commission, did not gain them the coveted jobs. Two of the appointees were the lowest in the list, and the highest man was also left out in the cold.

The appointees, their ratings and addresses, are as follows: George S. Fisher, 77.3, No. 659 Maple avenue; Harry Sims, 77.0, No. 5610 Western avenue; James N. Brooks, 77.0, Inglewood; Raymond A. Bach, 76.9, No. 223 West Forty-second Place; Rube L. Sholtz, 76.2, No. 612 East Thirtieth street; Edgar M. Slaughter, 76.0, No. 524 East Fifty-second street.

The six less fortunate men were: Chester G. Smith, 76.9 per cent., No. 4521 Compton avenue; M. S. Davenport, 76.9, San Julian street; Ralph C. Humphrey, 85.1, No. 1211 North Main street; John H. Fuller, 79.5, No. 1319 Santee street; Walter H. Austin, 77.7, Ocean Park.

PROGRESSIVE.

BONDS CARRY, NINE TO ONE.

Overwhelming Vote in Favor of Both Issues.

Development of Harbor and Power Assured.

New City Territory Almost Unanimous For.

The vote on the harbor and power bonds yesterday was an overwhelming victory for Los Angeles and progress, resulting as follows: Harbor, 12,672 for, 1269 against. Power, 12,266 for, 1669 against.

The last day or two preceding the election the opponents of the bonds made feverish attempts to defeat them by insidious arguments, and it is apparent from the vote that the opposition mustered its full strength. On the other hand, it is self-evident that those who did not vote were in favor of the bonds.

This must be taken into account in judging the returns, which show a nine to one vote in favor of the harbor bonds, and a seven to one vote for the power bonds, so that the opposition, compared to the great registration, is so slight that the great city of Los Angeles is to be congratulated upon the practical unanimity of the people in voting these bonds for the immense development that will be apparent in a few years.

The newly-consolidated and annexed territory voted almost unanimously in favor of the bonds. Hollywood, represented by Precinct 81; Arlington and Ballona, Precincts 79 and 80; Ivanhoe, Tropico and East Hollywood, Precinct 77, and Colegrove, Precincts 75, 76 and 78, voted almost to a man for the bonds. And the same enthusiasm was shown in San Pedro and Wilmington, Precincts 70, 71, 72, 73 and 74.

TWO SAD PRECINCTS.

In the city, the power bonds failed of a two-thirds majority in Precinct 3, comprising new Precincts 9, 10 and 11, the voting place being at No. 2112 North Broadway; and in Precinct 47, comprising new Precincts 95, 98 and 99, the polling place being at No. 1504 East Twenty-second street, a two-third majority failed for both the harbor and power bonds.

These were the only two precincts in all of the city, consolidated and annexed territory, where the vote did not show an overwhelming preponderance in favor of the bonds.

The old Fifth Ward polled a heavy vote for the bonds, and that particular section, perhaps, is entitled to the banner, but the palm for a vote that lacked one of being unanimous must be awarded to Gardena. One lone man voted "No." The next best result comes from Precinct 69, where two men registered negative votes.

In Hollywood, the Board of Trade had been conducting an active campaign for the bonds, and yesterday a committee from that organization worked all day getting out the vote, the result being that the people of Hollywood, who embraced their first opportunity of voting as citizens of Los Angeles, cast a heavy poll.

UNITED FOR DEVELOPMENT.

The election returns came in promptly at the City Hall last night, and many prominent citizens dropped in, with smiling faces, to hear the total vote. They were delighted with the showing made. It was an expression of opinion that indicated that the citizens of Los Angeles are heart and soul in the future development of the city.

A. P. Fleming, secretary of the Harbor Commission, remarked:

"If this vote is not an expression of patriotism, I never saw one. The results are extremely gratifying. I figured the vote on the basis of the consolidation election, and felt that the people were with us. There is no stopping a city that has a united press and a united people."

George H. Stewart, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, said:

"The result of this election clears the

AUTO RUNS DOWN WOMAN.

She Steps in Front of Slowly-Moving Machine and Suffers Fractured Skull.

Mrs. M. R. Lynn of No. 704 North Main street was knocked down and seriously injured by an automobile at Eighth street and Broadway yesterday evening. Her skull was fractured.

Mrs. Lynn was crossing the street and her attention was attracted by a delivery wagon which approached with a great deal of noise. She did not see or hear a little automobile, driven by A. W. Gilmore, which was coming up behind her. Gilmore was driving slowly, but just as he was about to pass, Mrs. Lynn, in trying to get out of the way of the delivery wagon, stepped in front of the automobile. She was knocked down by the fender and fell in front of the wheel, which pushed her a short distance along the pavement before the machine was stopped.

Gilmore, who is a painter, living at No. 920 South Olive street, helped carry the woman to the sidewalk and bathed her face with cold water, doing what he could to revive her. She was unable to give her address, but managed to utter the word "hospital." Gilmore placed her in the automobile and conveyed her to the Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Lynn, who owns the rooming-house in which she lives, as well as other property, was removed to the Pacific Hospital, where her condition was pronounced to be quite serious, although she was fully conscious a couple of hours after the accident.

CHECK CAUSES HUNT FOR MAN.

ARIZONA CITIZEN DISAPPEARS IN THIS CITY.

Former Secretary of Globe Chamber of Commerce Comes to Los Angeles on Business and Valueless Instrument Bearing His Signature Is Reported Received in Home Town.

Following the receipt of a check for $200, signed by R. C. Rohrabacher, former secretary of the Globe (Ariz.) Chamber of Commerce, which instrument does not bear the indorsement of F. F. Towle, president, Towle has made an unsuccessful search in Los Angeles for the former official. Rohrabacher has disappeared and all efforts to learn of his whereabouts have come to naught. The check is said to have been cashed at the local office of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company several days ago.

Rohrabacher departed from Globe about two weeks ago to visit points in Southern Arizona for the purpose of arranging for a special train over the Southern Pacific to the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight. While at Tucson he wired to the Chamber of Commerce at Globe that he would have to give up his position unless his salary was raised to $250, and a satisfactory arrangement was made with him.

Then Rohrabacher came to Los Angeles to discuss with Southern Pacific officials, a cut in the excursion rates for the Globe Fourth of July celebration. Shortly after his arrival here he gave out a statement that Globe would fight to be made the capital of Arizona, although the new statehood bill makes Phoenix the capital for the next fifteen years at least.

R. S. Stubbs, freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific in Arizona, is understood to have introduced Rohrabacher to the railroad officials in Los Angeles, and the Globe man talked to N. R. Martin about Fourth of July attractions, but made no arrangements for rates.

A few days later the check arrived in Globe and Towle, who was in Southern Arizona, was notified. He hurried to this city.

Towle is at a loss to understand the actions of the former secretary and declared that Rohrabacher drew all the money due him before he departed from Globe. The check is valueless, as it does not bear Towle's signature, and Southern Pacific officials deny that the local cashier cashed it. It is believed that the missing ex-secretary is somewhere in this city.

DOUBLE.

DEATH STRIKES TWO WITHOUT WARNING.

SUDDEN death overtook two septuagenarians within two hours of each other.

Charles Astley, aged 72 years, and well-known in oil circles, died while sitting with his wife and son in Simpson Auditorium, waiting for the beginning of a concert. His body was sent to the Pierce Brothers morgue.

Rev. C. W. Thorp, 70 years of age, dropped dead at Arcade station, while waiting for a train to take him back East, after a visit to friends at San Diego. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Sutch.

Mr. Astley, who was held in high esteem in the business world of Los Angeles, was a man of great energy and business acumen. Despite his advanced age, he never was ill, and his ability for work was the envy of many a much younger man.

Yesterday, however, Mr. Astley complained to one or two of his business associates of violent pains in the upper part of the neck, back of the ears. He said he had consulted a physician and that the trouble had been attributed to some irregularity of the heart. He did not take the ailment very seriously, as the pain was only intermittent, and at rather long intervals.

ATTENDS CONCERT.

Yesterday evening, Mr. Astley decided to attend the concert at Simpson's Auditorium. With him was his wife and son, Wagstaff Astley, a young employée of the Home Savings Bank. Mr. Astley was in the best of spirits and the anticipation of the pleasure to be brought by good music seemed to have made him forget all about the pains of which he had complained during the day.

It was a little after 8 o'clock, but a few minutes before the time for the rise of the curtain, when Mr. Astley was seen to throw himself back in his seat, as if his limbs and whole body rooms and physicians were summoned in all haste, but, before anything could be done, it was seen that death had come upon him.

Mr. Astley was a native of England. He came to the United States long ago, and for twelve years was the secretary and treasurer of the Columbia Oil Producing Company, the officials of which deeply regret his demise. Before coming here, he lived for some time at Walkerton, Canada, and, besides the wife and son who were with him when he died, he leaves a daughter, the wife of the manager of the Toronto News.

REV. MR. THORP DIES.

Rev. C. W. Thorp was a retired minister of the Methodist Church, whose home was at Maryville, Mo. Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. J. H. Thorp, also of Maryville, the old clergyman had been visiting friends in San Diego—Mrs. Nancy Miller, Mrs. Rose McClellan and Thomas Perrington.

Rev. and Mrs. Thorp and their daughter concluded Monday, a six-weeks' visit at San Diego and came up to Los Angeles. The younger Mrs. Thorp was on her way back home to Emeryville and her father and mother were going to Myrtle Creek, Or., to pass the summer. They had planned to travel together as far as Oakland, and the three went to the Arcade Depot last night to wait for the 9:30 o'clock train for the North.

The tickets had already been purchased and the three travelers were sitting on one of the benches in the waiting-room when Rev. Mr. Thorp, without a word or sound, rolled off the seat and fell limply to the floor.

The frightened women bent over him and tried to rouse him—a physician, who said his name was Dr. Forester, hurried to his side—but the old minister did not respond to any of the efforts made to revive him. An ambulance conveyed him hurriedly to the Crocker-street Hospital, but when it arrived there it was found that the

Young Husband Disappears in Queer Manner.

Drinks Beer Believed to Have Been "Doped."

Police Search in Vain for Missing Crusader.

Married less than twenty-four hours to a Los Angeles girl, Thomas Hughes, an anti-saloon worker of national reputation, disappeared from his home, Sunday afternoon, under circumstances which lead his wife and the police to believe that he may have been murdered.

Hughes is a handsome young man of fearless character and has always had a spotless reputation. There is nothing in his long career as a public worker to suggest that he might marry and then desert his bride.

He operated in Cincinnati, in anti-saloon crusades and was a strong factor in the attacks upon the liquor traffic in Chicago, later in St. Louis and more recently in San Francisco and Oakland. In Oakland, Hughes is said to have many friends. He came to Los Angeles about three weeks ago bearing recommendations that almost immediately established him here in the good graces of the police officials.

He had been here less than a week when he chanced to meet H. L. Beck, the proprietor of a big restaurant on First street. Beck became friendly with Hughes and liked the young man. He invited him to his home, No. 724 West Second street.

It was a case of love at first sight when Hughes was presented there to Miss Cora Beck, a winsome Los Angeles girl who has a host of friends.

COURTSHIP INTERRUPTED.

The little courtship was rudely interrupted by a call to duty. Hughes was asked to take part in a very delicate piece of work, in cleaning up Los Angeles. The Hotel Orange on West First street, posing as a hotel and in reality a dive, was under suspicion. All others had failed until it was necessary to go outside of police circles to get a man who could operate successfully against the place.

Through the Nick Harris agency, Hughes was retained to take up the work and in a week had convicting evidence and Chief Galloway and his officers swooped down and arrested William Klug, the proprietor and several girls there. Convictions followed.

Klug and the others were convicted Saturday morning in Justice Frederickson's court. Hughes had promised his sweetheart that the wedding would occur as soon as his work on the case had been finished, and he did not delay a moment longer than necessary.

Hastening from the courtroom where his testimony had secured the convictions of the accused, Hughes hurried to the Courthouse and secured a license. He was joined by Miss Beck a few minutes later and they were married by Justice Summerfield.

Hughes sent his bride home and went to the Hotel Orange to get some of his belongings.

When he returned home a short time later he carried a bottle of beer along with his other things.

"A present from Klug," he is alleged to have told his wife as he held up the bottle.

QUEER BEER.

"He said that the bottle of beer was a token of good faith," Mrs. Hughes told Detective McKenzie yesterday. "He said that Klug had told him that they might as well be friends and that he had no ill-will against him and gave him the bottle of beer."

"We were very happy and my husband seemed in the best of spirits. Sunday afternoon we went for a little walk and in returning Mr. Hughes seemed a little tired and said he would take a glass of beer from the bottle. He opened the bottle and remarked that there was a peculiar ordor about it, and that he had never known beer to smell so funny before. He drank the glass of beer and in a few moments was taken with violent spasms. He quieted down a little and I told him to be quiet while I hurried over to my mother's home to get her to come over and help me.

"When I returned my husband had disappeared and I have heard nothing from him since. I cannot imagine what could have happened to him. He had made several enemies because of his operations in Los Angeles and he may have been murdered. He may have been spirited away. He rarely ever went armed, but did not fear violence and laughed at the idea of an attack. I have been prostrated over the affair all day and I cannot arrive at any solution of the affair."

Detective Nick Harris stated yesterday that his men reported to him that Klug had made threats against Hughes for causing his arrest, but that they had paid no attention to these threats at the time.

The bottle containing a portion of the beer was sent to the city chemist for analysis, yesterday by detectives. In the meantime, descriptions of Hughes have been sent broadcast and a careful lookout is being kept for any trace of him.

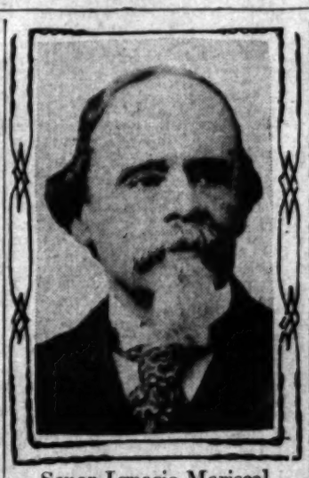
STRICTER REGULATIONS.

But no Increase in Liquor Licenses the City Administration Programme. Council Committee's Finding.

Liquor licenses are not to be increased but stricter regulations for the government of all places permitted to sell booze in any manner are to be introduced in Los Angeles.

This is the decision of the members of the committee from the City Council which now has the matter in hand. This committee consists of Councilmen Betkouski, Lusk, Andrews, Gregory and Washburn. A meeting of the committee was held last night at the City Attorney's office.

While the members of the committee would not discuss their plans nor how far they have their proposed new ordinance prepared, it was learned that they are agreed that the present license rates shall not be disturbed, but that more stringent rules shall be imposed. It will probably be at least two weeks before the committee will



Senor Ignacio Mariscal,
Mexico's late Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

MEXICAN STATESMAN DEAD.

Eldest Member of the Cabinet Passes Away—Minister to Washington Many Years Ago.

The green, white and red flag of Mexico is at halfmast on the Mexican Consulate in this city at the northeast corner of Tenth and Olive streets, in obedience to advices received from Ambassador De la Barra, the representative of the southern republic at Washington, D. C., in honor of Señor Ignacio Mariscal, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, who died last Saturday.

Official notification of Señor Mariscal's death was received here by Consul Antonio Lozano in the following message: "With deepest sorrow I communicate to you the death of Minister Mariscal. Be pleased to have the Mexican flag for three days at halfmast in token of mourning. De la Barra."

Señor Mariscal was, perhaps, the most beloved of all the members of President Diaz's Cabinet, as he was also the eldest member, having been 80 years of age at the time of his death. He had been intimately associated with Gen. Diaz and was one of his most loyal supporters in the establishment of the republic.

Thirty-five years ago Mariscal was the Mexican Minister to Washington, and while occupying that position he married Miss Clara Smith, a beautiful American woman. Mrs. Mariscal died about nine years ago.

PROTEST COSTLY IN THIS GAME.

WHEN VICTIM SQUIRMS PALMIST BOOSTS PRICE.

Clairvoyant, Who Charges Mah Ten Dollars for Trance, Raises Fee to Twelve When He Objects, and Defies Investigator to Have Her License Taken Away.

Mme. De Forest, palmist and clairvoyant, "unveils futures at No. 524½ West Seventh street; she also charges all that the customer will pay.

Mme. De Forest deals to a certain extent in staple goods—hand readings for 50 cents and clairvoyancy tests for $1. Like other business concerns the real profit comes in on the fancy accessories.

On Monday a well-known citizen passed Mme. De Forest's shop. The fortune-telling sign caught his fancy. He entered the place and under the guidance of Mme. De Forest's second sight, he was confronted with the choice of figuring in a scene, which might become extremely embarrassing to a man of his business and social standing, or of digging up $12 on the spot. He "dug."

Once clear of the situation and sure that his name would not be involved in an unpleasant affair his indignation got the better of him and he started an investigation.

SAYS LICENSE IS SAFE.

Mme. De Forest was called upon yesterday by an investigator. He was looking into the question of how much license a clairvoyant gets from the present city administration.

"What do you charge for a palmistry reading?" she was asked.

"Fifty cents," was the answer.

"What do you charge for the clairvoyant reading?"

"One dollar."

She was ready to begin, but there was one more question.

"By what method did you collect $12 yesterday for the same thing?"

"I have a perfect right to take whatever I can get," she retorted.

"You're not afraid of losing your license by playing the game too strong?"

"No, I'm not, and if you think you can get it, why go ahead."

When assured that his name would not be used the man who paid $12 for what he knows about her, consented to tell his story.

PROTEST IS COSTLY.

"I sat down at the small table," he said, "and was told from the lines in my hand that I would have some business troubles but that all would come out well in the end. The lady then insisted that she could tell more in a clairvoyant trance. She rolled her eyes once or twice and then told me some things that didn't seem to fit my case.

"I think she has some second sight for she sized up about the amount of money I happened to have handy. I asked her price, expecting that I had been 'stung for about $2 at the outside.

"That will be $10,' she said, in a loud voice, without the quiver of an eyelash.

"'But ——,' I started to protest.

"'I said that will be $12,' she came back in a stronger voice.

"I was doing some mighty quick thinking about that time. I knew that if she said it would be $15 in a still louder voice, someone would be coming in from the street to see what the rumpus was about. I had just one chance to get out quietly and that was to pay. I paid. It hardly seems to me that a city license should protect a business of this kind." This is all the prominent citizen aforesaid told. The writer suspects that he did not tell it all. He might have made

DAMAGED ROAD TO OPEN SOON.

Building Salt Lake Through Wash Rapidly.

One-third of Destroyed Part Is Completed.

Will Run Special Trains to Meet Steamers.

The Salt Lake Railroad yesterday completed the rebuilding of just one-third of the line which was washed out in Nevada during the January floods, and began booking business for July 1.

The hardest part of the work is over, in the Meadow Valley wash. The surveys for the preliminary line are all complete and the materials for rebuilding have ben received.

Last night at the close of the day's operations, reports from the engineers in the valley showed that the western end of the line has been pushed eastward from Gueiph to Galt, a distance of fifteen miles. The Salt Lake end of the work has been extended as far west as Big Springs, ten miles, while the Caliente crew has opened the line seven miles west of the yards at that point.

This makes a total of thirty-two miles rebuilt to date and leaves sixty-four to be rebuilt on the temporary line.

The fact being assured that the line will be in operation on or before July 1, General Passenger Agent Peck has arranged already for handling the physicians' excursion, which will run two or more trains west bound over the line before July 7.

TO RESUME SERVICE SOON.

Other special trains are being arranged for, and the regular traffic schedules are being put in form for immediate resumption of service after the line is turned over by the engineers.

The only thing which is preventing faster reconstruction is the lack of skilled labor. Two hundred bridge men and other mechanics are needed and are hard to obtain. More than 1000 laborers are now employed in rebuilding. Mexican gangs are employed at the western end of the line, while on the Salt Lake end gangs of Japanese are pushing the work.

Chief Engineer Tilton and Arthur Maguire are in charge of the work, and on the Salt Lake end of he line the Oregon Short Line engineers are doing everything in their power to aid.

Ex-Senator Clark has completed his inspection in the West and has ordered the reballasting of a small portion of the track in Utah which was not completely ballasted before the washout. The Salt Lake officials deny that the entire line is to be reballasted, as was reported some days ago and point out that the road is already in excellent shape, with the exception of the washed-out district, and the little work still to be done in Utah. The reballasting of the entire road was being completed just before the washout, and the floods stopped it.

Clark will soon reach New York, where he will take up with Lovett of the Southern Pacific the final arrangement of the Salt Lake and the Southern Pacific in regard to the new depot for Los Angeles. Lovett should arrive in New York today.

TO BREAK MONOPOLY.

Clark already has stated that the Salt Lake desires to join in a union station, and has arranged for the bringing in of the American Express Company to Los Angeles over the Salt Lake line. As was exclusively published in The Times during President Clark's visit, the bringing of the American Express Company will not only benefit the Salt Lake's traffic by giving the road the long haul and the exclusive western business of the largest express company in the world, but it will also break for Southern California the present one-company monopoly on the express business and give Los Angeles the benefits of a competitive service from the East.

The Salt Lake has also arranged for special trains to meet the three-day boat schedule of the Alaska-Pacific and the Independent steamship companies at East San Pedro. This will increase the local business to the Puget Sound and San Francisco Bay cities by water.

Work on the survey for the line through the Meadow Valley wash is about complete, for four surveying parties are busy on this work and are covering the ground with great rapidity. As soon as the temporary line through the valley is completed and supplies can be delivered, construction of the high line will be rushed.

FIGHTS FOR EXISTENCE.

British Vice Consul Receives Word of Woman's Sad Plight and Seeks Her Husband.

"People in this country do not know what real poverty means," said C. White Mortimer, Vice Consul for Great Britain in Los Angeles, with his legation headquarters in the International Bank building.

His British Majesty's representative based his statement upon the contents of a letter that he has just received through the good offices of Arthur Orr, third secretary of the American Embassy in London.

An English woman had appealed to the American Embassy to assist her in locating her husband who had deserted her about two years ago, and who, she recently heard, had been seen or heard from in Los Angeles. The representatives of Uncle Sam immediately had the woman's case placed in the proper channel, and Consul Mortimer is now on the missing man's trail.

"This poor woman," said the Vice Consul yesterday, "works from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day in the week. For all her labor she receives just 10 shillings per week, which is about $2.50.

"Out of her scant earnings she has to pay 4 shillings per week for shelter, and on the remainder she must feed and clothe herself and two children. She has just about 21 cents per day for this purpose. She lives in London, but I do not know just what she works at. That is why I say people here do not know what poverty is really like."

The truant husband has been located in this city and the matter has been placed in the hands of the proper authorities for thorough investigation. Efforts will be made to have him contribute to the support of his wife and

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The municipality has been handed a $30,000 lemon in the way of expenses by the old San Pedro Board of Trustees, according to a statement made to the Council yesterday.

The Board of Health will give its attention to sleeping cars on the ground that they arrive in an unsanitary condition and full of microbes.

Judge Monroe decided an important case yesterday involving the right and authority of a certificate of incorporation issued by the Secretary of State, in certain cases.

Judge Hutton spent yesterday listening to the arguments in the Los Angeles garbage case, and the taking of testimony will begin this afternoon.

Frank D. Turner, Jr., whose case attracted much attention in the local courts some time ago, brought a divorce action in the Superior Court yesterday.

The right of a Mexican to dance in a public place is involved in the case brought by Simon Acosta against the Abbott Kinney Company, now being tried in Judge Moss's court.

A new trial jury was drawn in Judge Moss's department yesterday for service beginning the first Monday in May.

AT THE CITY HALL.

THIRTY THOUSAND THIS "LEMON."

OLD SAN PEDRO CITY TRUSTEES HAND IT OVER.

City Will Have to Put Up Money to Cover Harbor Town's Expenses. Board of Health Attacks Sleeping-Car Microbes—Police Surgeon Discusses Alcohol and Prisoners.

The old Board of Trustees of San Pedro has slipped one over on Los Angeles. In the language of Councilman Betkouski, "We have been handed a $30,000 lemon." In view of a cut in the tax rate and on valuations made previous to consolidation, Los Angeles will have to dig up $18,000 to cover the expenses of San Pedro, and the end of the fiscal year the deficit will reach nearly $30,000.

Betkouski's remark was called forth by the recommendation of City Auditor Myers yesterday that the Council appropriate $4000 to be applied to the expense account at San Pedro. He followed this up by presenting a statement which he had made, covering a serious condition of affairs in the harbor town. This report was in the shape of a letter he had written to John T. Gaffey of San Pedro, who wrote City Auditor Myers asking why it was necessary to obtain $4000 to take care of the expenses in that city.

Gaffey was shown in short order. City Auditor Myers, who had done a little investigating, stated that about six months before consolidation, the Board of Trustees had made a 25 per cent. reduction in valuation, and a 40 per cent. reduction in the tax rate. There had been turned over by San Pedro a balance of $5816.86. Against this there were debts amounting to $4901.30, leaving $684.44 for the city to make up.

The average monthly expenses after consolidation were $6454, and this included a lot of liabilities handed the city at the time of consolidation. The probable expenses for San Pedro for the next three months are $16,100; the estimated income is $1200. The city has already advanced San Pedro $6000, and the probable advance at the end of the year is $18,500.

In order to meet the difficulty which this reduction in tax rate and valuation has brought about, it will be necessary to make up the budget to include San Pedro, on the same basis as the city proper. As City Auditor Myers expresses it, "The city is holding the bag." In his opinion, consolidation has saved San Pedro serious embarrassment, as that city would have run in the hole every month.

ALCOHOL AND PRISONERS.

POLICE SURGEON REPORTS.

A four-page, typewritten report of Police Surgeon Zerfing treating of alcohol and its effects on prisoners, and with special reference to the recent deaths of two men who had been thrown into the drunk tanks, was received with a show of impatience by the members of the Council yesterday. It had been a busy session, and the lengthy report came up just before adjournment. The minute clerk fingered the sheets with the reluctance of a man who would read them if he had to, and came as near chortling as a man in his position could when he was directed to read a bit of it.

Dr. Zerfing, speaking particularly of two cases, said he cited them "as typical examples of conditions which every moment confront the police department and the Receiving Hospital. It is not the object of this report," he went on to say, "to point out the comforts or discomforts of the drunk cell in the City Jail, but to bring to your attention the true state of affairs concerning alcoholic cases which have caused the police department and Receiving Hospital, in every city, no end of trouble."

It is Dr. Zerfing's opinion that, in order for the police department and Receiving Hospital to be "in the position to anticipate these deaths, it would be necessary to have a hospital of from 500 to 1000 beds, where each person suffering from alcoholic poisoning could be kept under treatment and observation by a large staff of doctors for a period of from two to four weeks."

He modestly left it to future generations to determine whether Los Angeles shall embark upon this "colossal humanitarian exploitation," to be maintained "at a fabulous expense, in lieu of the present disreputable drunk tank," and closed with a plea to the public to keep in mind what is offered "for the redemption of the drunkard at the present time." The report was referred to the Legislative Committee.

FULL OF MICROBES.

COMPLAINT ON SLEEPERS.

Sleeping cars will receive the attention of the Board of Health. Dr. Gibbons stated that the cars entering Los Angeles are in an unsanitary condition. He said it has come to his notice that many of these cars are permitted to stand in the yards for several days without being cleaned, and in consequence a large and varied assortment of microbes are not restrained from settling here, enjoying the climate and feeding on fat citizens. Health Officer Powers was delegated to instruct his inspectors to look after the sleeping cars and have them put in sanitary condition.

The school nurses complained to the board that they do not like to be compelled to wear their uniforms on the

A suggestion was made that a blue denim uniform be worn, and the apron rolled up, to be put on after the nurses have entered the schools.

Four and a Half a Day.

As a compromise wage and after a heated discussion, the Council yesterday allowed election officers $4.50 for their services in the bond election. The original motion by Washburn was for $4, but Gregory raised him to $5. Gregory said he believes these men should be liberally paid, but Andrews retorted that, if the Council is going to be generous, let it be with the members' own money. Betouski and O'Brien stood with Gregory for the higher compensation, but when the original motion and the amendment both failed, Washburn split the difference and they all voted for it.

Gets Busy With the Schools.

The Board of Health became busy with the schools yesterday and, after hearing a report from Rex E. Duncan, assistant Health Officer, that a number of the buildings are poorly ventilated and toilet conditions bad, and that the city ordinances are violated as far as sanitation is concerned, decided to send a copy of his report to the Board of Education. This will be accompanied with the recommendation that all evils be corrected, failing which, the Health Board will take steps to have the buildings complained of condemned.

Pay-as-You-Enter Cars Soon.

The Los Angeles Railway will operate twenty-seven pay-as-you-enter cars on Central avenue beginning May 15. This statement was made by Superintendent Akin before the Council yesterday when the amendment to the smoking ordinance was refegred to the Legislative Committee. He said that it is the intention of the Los Angeles Railway to ultimately change all of its cars to this style, as stated in The Times long ago, at an expense of about $1000 each.

To Have Structural Engineer.

A structural-steel engineer will be added to the department of the Building Superintendent. The Council, after listening to the argument of Building Superintendent Backus that such a man is needed and that he should receive good pay, named the salary at $175. The salary of the concrete engineer was also raised from $150 to $175 a month. An assistant to Secretary McKeag was appointed at a salary of $80 a month.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

PRIOR RIGHTS TO OLD NAME.

IMPORTANT DECISION RENDERED BY JUDGE MONROE.

Incorporation Certificate Granted by Secretary of State Does Not Authorize Adoption of Name and Trade-Mark of Unincorporated Company.

Judge Monroe handed down an important opinion yesterday, fixing the status of a certificate of incorporation issued by the Secretary of State, under certain conditions.

The court found that the certificate carried no right to do business under a certain name as against anybody operating under the same name; in other words, that the prior use of the name brought the right to its exclusive employment.

The case arose out of the action brought by the Santa Monica Dairy Company against the Santa Monica Dairy Company, incorporated, and F. W. Pahl, to enjoin the defendants from the use of the plaintiff's name. It seems that the defendant, Pahl, was at one time in the milk business on his own account in the territory covered by Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice and Playa del Rey, but got into some sort of contention with the Santa Monica Dairy Company in regard to the use of the bottles. He then incorporated under the name of the Santa Monica Dairy Company, and his company was regularly incorporated by the Secretary of State, the name being identical with the older organization.

It was to stop Pahl and his corporation from using this name that the complaint was filed in the Superior Court.

Judge Monroe found that the plaintiff was entitled to the exclusive ownership of the name or trade-mark; that it is entitled to the exclusive use of the phrase, "Santa Monica Dairy;" that neither the defendants, the Santa Monica Dairy Company, incorporated, nor F. H. Pahl, had any right whatever against the plaintiff's rights to the use of either the registered trademark, Santa Monica Dairy Company, or the phrase Santa Monica Dairy Company or any colorable imitation thereof.

It was further found that the plaintiff is entitled to a decree enjoining the defendants from adapting or using in any manner in the dairy business, within the territory in which the plaintiff conducts its dairy business, the trade-mark or name, Santa Monica Dairy Company.

The plaintiff was represented by L. G. Susemihl, in a decision that will be of universal interest as marking the uses of a certificate of incorporation issued by the State of California.

LOSS OF CANTALOUPES.

DRIVES RANCHER AWAY.

The loss of the cantaloupe crop in Arizona, in 1908, was one of the things that caused George H. Tapper to desert his wife and baby in Yuma, according to the testimony in Judge Houser's court yesterday, in the divorce action brought by Rachel E. Tapper.

Laura Macey, the mother-in-law, was on the stand and testified that Tapper and her husband were in partnership in the raising of cantaloupes near Yuma, that year, but with the partial failure of the crop and the low prices Tapper became discouraged and went away. In July of that year he hitched up his horse and wagon and drove away. The wagon belonged to a neighbor and was returned, and the horse was sold to one of the neighbors, but Tapper was never seen or heard from wrote one letter to the deserted wife telling her that he was in Seattle, but that is all the wife knew about his whereabouts. Mrs. Tapper got the decree and the custody of the child, aged 4 years.

The Maceys live in Pasadena and young Tapper comes from one of the prominent families in the Crown City. It was in evidence that the husband was the youngest of a family of children, and as such was petted by his people, to the extent that when he married and became a father he was unable to carry the added responsibilities—at least the drop in the price of cantaloupes was too much for him.

MARKS ON TRIAL.

FALSE PRETENSES CHARGED.

After an examination by a physician as to his ailments, it was concluded by Judges Davis and Willis that D. Marks was strong enough to stand trial on the charge of securing $350 from Ed Kruel on alleged false pretenses, and the case began before Judge Willis and a jury in Department Eleven yesterday.

The complaint states that Marks borrowed the money of Kruel, giving him a note for the loan, secured by a deed of trust on ten acres of "splendid orange land" in Riverside county. In the opening statement to the jury Deputy District Attorney Blair said the State would be able to prove not only that did Marks own nothing in that vicinity, but that the land covered by the trust deed, was forty miles from Riverside, and there was not a single orange tree within twelve miles of it; that the land itself was almost worthless. It is also said that there is no such person known as Henry Esthers, appearing on the note given by Marks to Kruel. The case is on.

MUST MAKE GOOD.

KLONDIKE MINING DEAL.

The jury in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday decided that the clauses of a business agreement must be carried out, and therefore returned to court with a verdict for $1500 in the action brought by Edward Spaeth against the Ocean Park Realty, Mining and Investment Company, to recover that amount for money invested in the capital stock of the Original Klondike Mining Company.

It appeared from the testimony that the defendants had represented to Spaeth when he purchased the stock that if at any time he became dissatisfied with his bargain that if he would return his stock the money would be returned to him. It was upon this point that the verdict was returned, the fraud feature set out on the complaint being eliminated by the court. Spaeth alleged that he was induced to invest his money by the representations of H. M. Todd and Nellie Hollywood, jointly charged as defendants with the Ocean Park concern.

It was alleged on behalf of the defense that if Spaeth had desired the return of his money that he should have moved sooner, and not waited more than two years before presenting his claim. It was shown by the evidence that the mining stock in question never had any quotable value on the markets devoted to mining exploitation.

WANTS TO BE FREE.

TURNER SUES FOR DIVORCE.

An action for divorce was brought in the Superior Court yesterday by Frank D. Turner, Jr., against Janet Erwin Turner, on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in New York November 21, 1908, and it is alleged that she left him April 7, 1909. There are no children.

The marital troubles of young Turner attracted much attention in the criminal courts about a year ago, when he was arrested on the ground of having abandoned his wife. The case was set for hearing in Judge Davis's court, Turner's father giving bail for his appearance, but, pending the hearing of the matter, the woman disappeared and, after a long delay caused by the District Attorney trying to get into communication with the wife, the case was dismissed.

There was a great deal of talk at the time in regard to the circumstances of the wedding in New York, the friends of Turner alleging that he had been imposed upon in the matter, and that ex-Judge Turner (the father of the boy) had been compelled to furnish considerable money to straighten matters up with the woman. However that is, Mrs. Turner never appeared to prosecute the charge against her husband, which she filed, but did not back up. She is now supposed to be in White Plains, N. Y.

The Turner family reside in Pasadena. Ex-Judge Turner was formerly one of the leading attorneys of Gotham, and will be remembered from the fact that he was one of the first lawyers to defend Albert Patrick, who is now serving a life sentence in Sing Sing prison on the charge of killing Rice, a Texas millionaire, a case that at one time and is still attracting great attention from the fact that Patrick refused to accept a pardon at the hands of the Governor of New York, claiming that he was innocent and therefore there was nothing for him to be pardoned for.

VERDUGO ESTATE.

INVOLVED IN LITIGATION.

Dora Bullock filed an action in the Superior Court yesterday against Frederick Verdugo, asking that the defendant be compelled by the court to carry out a contract in regard to the deed of certain real estate.

The plaintiff alleges that when Theodore Verdugo died in Los Angeles, he left surviving him a widow, Maria A. Verdugo, and eight children, the plaintiff and defendant being of the number. At the time of his death, Verdugo owned large sections of land known as the Verdugo Ranch in Verdugo Cañon.

With the closing up of the estate, there was distributed to the widow and eight children an undivided interest in as lot No. 4, was set apart to the plaintiff, by the defendant, who was administrator of the estate. But it is said that this lot was of much less value than some of the other shares given to the children, and the plaintiff refused to accept it in full for her claim on the estate of her father.

Then, it is asserted, the defendant, in order to get her to accept the lot, offered that, if she would do so, he would convey to her lot No. 3, but this he has never done, according to the allegations of the complaint. The lot in question consists of 8.91 acres of land, located on the Verdugo Ranch, and is valuable property.

MEXICAN DANCER.

AFTER HIS RIGHTS IN COURT.

The jury in Judge Moss's department will have the contract of determining whether it is against ethics and good form to allow a Mexican and his wife to dance with Americans, and if so, what it ought to cost to metaphorically throw them out of the place.

In August, 1909, Simon Acosta and his wife, both Mexicans, entered the dancing pavilion at Venice, and began to trip the light fantastic toe. The band was playing "La Paloma," and everything was going just right. The Acostas danced several sets, when the the head of the firm was rudely told to "beat it" while the going was good, but this he refused to do, and he was arrested, and thrown into prison, where he remained a half-hour, according to the wording of the complaint.

His suit is for the recovery of $5000, and the defendants in the case are the Abbott Kinney Company, J. H. Parent, Edwin Layman and Paul Gray.

The right to bar what might be termed obnoxious people from a public assemblage is involved in the action.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

EXCHANGE OF COURTS. Judge Monroe went to San Bernardino yesterday, where he will remain several days. His place in Department Six is being filled by Superior Judge Frank Oster.

ACTION IN DAMAGES. Judge Hervey yesterday heard the action brought by Mateo Rubio, against the Los Angeles Pacific Railway, to recover $5355, alleged to be due on account of injuries received when struck by a car of the defendant company at Sixteenth street and Oregon avenue, Santa Monica. The accident occurred September 18, last.

TO SAN QUENTIN. Judge Willis yesterday sentenced Talmage McClarity, who pleaded guilty to stealing a lot of copper wire from the Pacific Electric Railway, to San Quentin for three years. An application for probation was made in behalf of the accused, but the court refused to exercise clemency.

GUILTY TO TWO CHARGES. A. J. Crowe pleaded guilty to two charges of burglary in Judge Davis's court, yesterday, and he will be sentenced Saturday. An effort will be made to have him released on probation.

JAP WANTS HIS MONEY. Frank M. Nakagaki brought suit yesterday against Frank Bryson, administrator of the estate of K. Matsuda, for the recovery of $759.21. It is alleged in the complaint that the two Japs were partners in the farming business at Whittier, and at the time of the death of Matsuda, there was money to the amount of $1518.43, in the Whittier National and the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles, and the plaintiff says one-half of the money belongs to him, and he wants it.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Puente Mercantile Company, capital stock, $25,000, incorporators, W. R. Rowland, O. H. Morgan, I. F. Baker, F. H. McDonald and George F. Cross, subscribed, $500; Los Angeles News Publishing Company, capital stock $10,000, incorporators, M. Kanno, I. Endo, H. Ichokawa, K. Iida and W. Y. Masuta, subscribed, $50; Midway Petroleum Company, capital stock, $600,000, incorporators, J. Nelson Sewall, Thomas J. Magner and George W. Adams, subscribed, $30; Consolidated Motor Sales Company, capital stock, $50,000, incorporators, John S. Steely, Charles L. Monach, R. D. Morris, Jean Strong and G. M. Rush, subscribed, $5.

WORKMAN INJURED. The Llewellyn Iron Works was made defendant in an action for damages in the Superior Court yesterday, the plaintiff being Humphrey D. Tate. He alleges that on January 25, 1910, he was in the employ of the defendant, and that while so engaged in removing a steel and iron viaduct in Los Angeles, through the negligence of the company, a derrick was allowed to fall, striking the plaintiff in its descent and injuring him severely. He asks for $25,000 damages.

SUIT FOR DEATH OF CHILD. The Arctic Ice Cream Company was sued in the Superior Court yesterday for $25,000 damages alleged to be due for the death of Tillie Weiss, the 19 months old daughter of the plaintiff, J. Weiss. It is alleged that on December 17 last, the child was run over by a wagon driven by an agent of the defendant on Turner street, and killed.

WANT TO MORTGAGE. The Southern California Baptist Convention has filed a petition in the Superior Court asking that it be allowed to mortgage certain premises for $4000. The property is known as lot No. 81 and a part of lot No. 80, of the Palm Terrace Tract.

LAND SUIT. Evidence was heard in Judge Conrey's court yesterday, in the suit of H. T. Meloy, asking $4682.05, from the Imperial Land Company for wells dug by the defendant. It is alleged that the matter was once submitted to arbitration and the sum agreed upon as proper compensation by disinterested parties.

ATTACKING STATUTE. The new State law making a failure to provide for the care and maintenance of minor children a felony, will be tested in the Jason Woodyard case now pending in Judge Davis's court. Woodyard was recently convicted and sentenced to thirty days in the County Jail. His attorney filed notice of appeal yesterday, and asked for a stay of execution. The court will decide the matter today. When the case is carried to the Court of Appeals the validity of the new law will be attacked in behalf of Woodyard.

AFFAIRS OF THE ROADS.

The Highway Commission reported to the Board of Supervisors yesterday that its venture in filling the approach to the northwest end of a bridge over the Tejunga wash on the San Fernando road, without letting a contract, was a success. It was granted permission to do similar work on the other side of the bridge. Doran, Brouse & Price, who have a contract for paving Wilshire boulevard, outside the city limits, were yesterday granted an extension from the 30th inst. to August 26, in which to complete the work. There was an agreement when the contract was let that an extension would be granted if the weather caused delay. This was the excuse

ON BOTH SIDES OF FENCE.

Long Beach Winery Man Before the Board of Supervisors Is Peculiarly Located.

When John Ardens went before the Board of Supervisors yesterday to show why he should not be denied the renewal of a winery license, it was ascertained that he had not owned a winery which was located outside of an incorporated town for several months.

When Long Beach annexed some territory last fall, the new line of the city was run through Ardens's property. It included his still in the municipality and left his barn in the country.

There were several protestants, who declared that no winery should be allowed to do business in the vicinity of Ardens's vineyard. They said it was within two blocks of the Eleventh-street school in Long Beach and four blocks from a church.

Several acquaintances of Ardens, who reside near him, said his place had always been conducted in an orderly manner. The Supervisors denied a renewal of his license, as they declared that the situation was not within their jurisdiction. They told Ardens that he might move his still outside of the city and make an application for a new license.

Notwithstanding the fact that Henry Brechtel, proprietor of the Toluca winery in Lankershim, was recently fined on three charges of having broken the law by illegal sales of liquor, he was granted a renewal of his license. Brechtel explained that infraction of the law had been committed by his son in his absence and against his orders. He promised that he would see that the license ordinance is obeyed strictly.

HER OWN FUNERAL MONEY.

A suit for $237, which Serene Cazaux gave her nephew, William Cazaux, for the purpose of paying her funeral expenses, was begun before Justice Ling yesterday. Four years ago Miss Cazaux was in the French hospital and the physicians had given up hope of curing her. She called in her nephew and gave him a check for $237 on a San Francisco bank, telling him that she wished a decent burial. She finally overcame her affliction and decided that she needed the money for the purpose of supporting herself while she was alive. She demanded the return of it, but the nephew is said to have spent it.

TAKEN ON UGLY CHARGE.

David Quirin of No. 821 Birch street was arrested yesterday evening and locked up in the County Jail under a warrant out of the court of Justice Pierce, charging him with seduction under promise of marriage. The complainant is Miss Flossie Chapple, 19 years old, of the same age as the defendant, who is connected with Harry Quirin & Son, harness makers. The warrant was served yesterday evening by Constable Rice, who took his prisoner before Justice Pierce. Bail was fixed at $1000, and when Quirin was unable to furnish this, he was locked up.

TROUBLE ON THE RANCH.

Constable Johnson left last night for a ranch three miles south of Fairmont, to arrest E. J. Wood, 26 years old, who is charged with battery on John T. Cori, an old man, and with threats to kill. Wood and Cori were the tenants of a ranch, one having the right to take the grain and almonds and the other to gather the products of the vineyards. They got in a squabble Friday in regard to the payment for some hauling, and Wood is alleged to have struck Cori. The old man was unconscious for three hours.

ASK REDRESS FOR LOSS.

Thirteen residents of Glendale, who have destroyed their fruit trees under the orders of the Horticultural Commission, in order to get rid of the black peach aphis, yesterday petitioned the Board of Supervisors for redress for the loss they have suffered. The petitioners explained that they had cut down 295 peach, apricot, prune and plum trees and had thus deprived themselves of a supply of fruit and of shade. The communication was referred to the District Attorney and the Horticultural Commission for a report.

QUEER NON-SUPPORT CHARGE.

Charles A. Cushing is accused by his wife of having quit a position paying him $15 a week to take one with a weekly stipend of $6 that he might not have to support her. He will be allowed to explain before Justice Pierce, a complaint against him having been issued. "He wanted a job that didn't pay him much so that he could swear that he couldn't support me," Mrs. Cushing told Deputy District-Attorney Hammon yesterday, while she was swearing to the complaint.

SEEKS TO RECOVER.

The damage suit of the United States against A. W. Boggs for alleged failure to complete a contract at the Rice Station Indian School, Ariz., was resumed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday. It is expected the case will be concluded today. The government is seeking to recover about $30,000.

HOSPITAL CHAPEL CONTRACT.

The contract for building a chapel at the County Hospital was let to Charles G. Ross yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. His bid of $9942 was the lowest received. Munger & Munger were awarded the contract for installing the steam heating apparatus at a cost of $848.

TO "GET WHAT'S COMING."

Wilshire District Residents Organize Club for the Advancement of That Section of City.

Nearly a hundred residents of the Western Wilshire District met last night in the Hobart Boulevard M. E. Church and organized the Wilshire Improvement Club, to obtain police and fire protection, and to secure better light and water rates.

While the object of the club is one of general improvement for the hitherto neglected region which they represent, it is designed to have a social significance and, after necessary work is under way, amusement features will be considered. The general slogan of the club, as suggested by one member, is, "Get all that is coming to us."

It was pointed out that, under present conditions, the water and light companies use the new Wilshire people as "good things," while at the same time the great city of which they are now a part gives them no police or fire protection.

F. M. Nickell was elected president; E. B. Drake, vice-president; John S. Steely, secretary, and J. H. Brainerd, treasurer. Important committees will be named later.

Meetings will be held at 8 o'clock every Tuesday night for the present in the Hobart Boulevard M. E. Church, Third street and Hobart boulevard.

It is expected that there will be a contest for the office of department president of the corps, as there are three candidates in the field. They are Mrs. Carrie Dibble, past president of Lincoln Corps of San Francisco; Mrs. Hattie Onyette of Oroville, and Mrs. Anna Cannon of Oakland.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

DOVE OF PEACE WINS VICTORY.

Warring Factions in Fields Merge Interests.

Oil from Lakeview Well Is Reaching Tidewater.

Latest News from Various California Districts.

In the recent organization of the Barnodon Oil Company, a $1,000,000 concern, the warring factions that claimed conflicting interests on the Buena Vista front, east of the Midway field, have merged their holdings and will proceed to the development of a large tract of land which they believe to be oil bearing.

William M. Erb has interested E. L. Doheny, C. A. Canfield and T. A. O'Donnell of the American Oilfields Company in a large acreage, but when he endeavored to secure the land from original locators he bumped up against a set of men who would not take a back seat. They were Capt. John Barneson, E. J. de Sabla, Jr., T. C. Talbot and Mark Requa of San Francisco and J. M. McLeod of Los Angeles.

There were strenuous times in the field during which armed men patrolled the coveted land. When the white dove of peace came to the rescue and instead of bloodshed there was a compromise. J. M. McLeod was the man to bring this about, and the result was the formation of a company in which both sides to the controversy merged their financial interests and the name of the company was made to represent the names of the leaders of the two factions.

The land involved, which now becomes the property of the new company, subject to settlement with the claimants, includes all of sections 4, 10, 14 and 24, the southwest quarter of section 3-31-23, and all of section 30-31-24. In this big tract there are over 2000 acres of land.

The several locators have assigned their rights to the Barnodon Oil Company on the following terms: The Barnodon company agrees to prove up the territory, running no fewer than six strings of tools continuously, for which it is to receive one-half (eighty acres) out of each quarter section, and is given an option to purchase the remainder of the land at $500 an acre.

During the negotiations, drilling has continued on section 24 and the hole is down about 1000 feet. A water system has been installed and material assembled for the other five rigs. None of the stock of the Barnodon Oil Company will be offered to the public, the concern being operated as a close corporation. The directors are: Capt. John Barneson, E. J. de Sabla, Jr., T. C. Talbot and Mark Requa of San Francisco, C. A. Canfield, E. L. Doheny, T. A. O'Donnell and J. M. McLeod of Los Angeles.

HOW OIL IS HANDLED.

PRODUCERS' PIPE LINE.

Oil from the Lakeview gusher is being pumped by the Producers' Transportation Company from McKittrick on to Middlewater and from there to Junction, on its way to Port Harford. The new line is said to be working splendidly. It is said that 12,000 barrels of oil is daily being moved out of Coalinga by the company, and about 18,000 barrels a day are being handled at the Port Harford end, this including the accumulation at line stations prior to completion to Tidewater. All shipments are over the Port Harford wharf at present, no connections yet having been made at Avila, but that will be done later. Ships are loading continually.

The capacity of the Producers' pipe line is a little over 25,000 barrels daily. On an average it has moved 1064 barrels an hour for twenty-four hours, this being for the entire route from Coalinga to Tidewater, and in the winter, when oil does not flow as readily as in the summer.

The storage capacity on the line is approximately 1,900,000 barrels, and there are fifteen pumping stations, located as follows: Coalinga, Tar Canon, Dudley, Junction, Antelope, Shannon, Creston, Santa Margarita and Avila on the main line from Coalinga, Kern River, Rio Bravo, Buttonwillow, McKittrick, Middlewater, Sunset and Midway on the Kern county fields line south of Junction. The total length is 205 miles, with 100 miles of laterals.

STANDARD'S BIG WELLS.

ITS MIDWAY PRODUCTION.

The Standard's Well No. 4, at the center of section 30-32-24, Midway district, is bigger than either No. 2 or No. 3, which came in first. Well No. 4 is producing in excess of 12,000 barrels of oil a day through a three-inch opening. A few days ago a test was made and the well made 2798 barrels of oil in five hours, or at the rate of 13,600 barrels a day. It is believed by many that this Standard well is a close second to the famous Lakeview gusher. The well at the present time is under perfect control.

Standard No. 2 continues to flow at the rate of 4000 barrels a day, and No. 3, the first one in, yields about 500 barrels.

Because of its own large production the company is laying a second pipe line from the Midway field to Kern River, where its big reservoirs are located. Its own production has grown so great that it, together with its purchases, makes the existing line inadequate to handle the oil.

Will Operate in Mexico.

The Tampico Oil Company is the latest concern to enter the Mexican field. It will operate on part of a 50,000-acre tract lying close to and adjoining the Mexican Petroleum and Pearson properties south of Ebano. The Tampico company is a close corporation, and is owned chiefly by M. H. Whittier, Robert Grant and Phillip D. Wiseman, the latter two millionaire miners of Arizona, and H. S. Betts, auditor of the Salt Lake Railroad, who promoted the company.

It is understood that the offices of the company will be maintained in Los Angeles.

Material Is Ordered.

It was announced yesterday that the Oleum Development Company has contracted for everything necessary to begin drilling operations on its property in the Midway district, and work will begin just as soon as the material is delivered to the company. This probably cannot be done for ten days.

CORPSE IN MURDER TRIAL.

Dead Body of Infant Placed in Evidence to Prove Parents Killed the Babe.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA ROSA, April 19.—Probably for the first time in a trial in that State a dead body was introduced as evidence in a murder trial here today. The dead infant of Willard Thomas and his wife was placed on evidence when they were brought up to face the charge of having killed the child a few hours after birth. The body of the infant was found about three months ago in a creek near the Thomas home. An investigation by the authorities fixed the paternity and the body was preserved in alcohol to show that the little one's throat had been cut.

Dist.-Atty. Lea read the statement given by Thomas at the inquest, in which he said the child was born shortly after they were married, that the wife to save herself from disgrace, partly cut the child's throat; that he then seized the knife and finished the work and afterwards placed the body in a sack and carried it to the creek.

The prosecution rested its case this evening.

Editorial Pen Points.

What Pennsylvania needs most at this juncture is a "whiff of grape shot."

We have room in California for at least 45,000,000 more people and we wish we had them right now.

We shall have the kind of a harbor Los Angeles needs even if we have to dig it clear up to Gardena.

The cry "Down with Hoffstot!" in Schoenville, Pa., gives us the impression that Hoffstot is hot stuff.

Anywhere from Vermont to Georgia that a man has put his sleighbells away this spring, he made a mistake.

We sometimes hear of handsome fat men, but how is it that we never hear of a handsome fat woman?

When Los Angeles needs money the people always vote it. This is not a country of "pikers," by a long shot.

Dear folks, back yonder in the winter country, why don't you quit fooling and just pack up and come to California at once?

The gathering at Oakland shows that California is highly favored by Grand Army men who desire to live as long as they can.

If the town of Schoenville in Pennsylvania has been turned into a hell, as stated, somebody ought to put the lid on without delay.

Another bond of sympathy between Kossuth and Col. Roosevelt that might be mentioned is that they wear the same style of hat.

We agree with the New York sculptor who says that President Taft is a handsome man. And when he smiles he is positively fascinating.

How would you like to live in a State where you plant your crop only to find the frost killing it and forcing you to plant the crop again?

Putting the case briefly, it will be a big loss to this country when the Hon. Nelson Aldrich of Rhode Island quits the public service.

If the tariff is a tax, as Grover Cleveland said, better the tax than nothing to eat, as the case always is when the tariff is kicked in the ribs.

The dispatches state that everything at Marjorie Gould's wedding is to be pink, and we suppose, of course, that this includes Marjorie's complexion.

We fear that the pawpaw crop in Missouri is totally destroyed. And we suppose we should rejoice. It will bring more Missourians to California.

Having carefully studied her picture in the paper, we think it was Marjorie Gould's perfectly killing little turned-up nose which made the hit with that nice Drexel boy.

There is one political axiom, at least, which may be relied on, and it is that when the Republican party is split in two it makes it easy for the Democrats to slip in.

While Col. Roosevelt is having a fine time with the Hungarians in Hungary, the Hungarians in Pennsylvania are taking things apart and raising the very devil on all sides.

John Carter, the poet, who has been released from jail in Minnesota, has decided to go into commercial life. It seems that he thinks it is necessary for him to make a living.

Although young Drexel and his bride are to live in a $500,000 house, they can be happy just the same. Happiness depends on love and is as much at home in a palace as in a hut.

We desire to congratulate the Daughters of the American Revolution on their Washington meeting. They did not hiss the President and there was not a single fight during the whole day.

There is so much lawlessness in evidence in the State of Pennsylvania almost all the time that it seems to us that the old Keystone Commonwealth is fast drifting away from its ancient moorings.

The trouble with those eastern mining and manufacturing communities is that they are dominated by foreigners from Southern Europe who do not yet realize that they are living in a free country.

Mr. Bryan returned to New York from long absence in foreign lands and not a corporal's guard turned out to meet him. Yet there are those who assert that Mr. Bryan is in Col. Roosevelt's class.

We think that when history is written it will have a good deal to say about men like Senator Aldrich, and that men like Cummins and La Follette will not even be mentioned among the haswasers.

As boys we were taught to believe that Pennsylvania was the cradle of liberty, but it seems now that the lawless foreigners who inhabit that commonwealth have smashed the cradle and killed the baby, too.

The East must be a hard place in which to live, because in the spring flowers and fruit blossoms are killed with the frost, and it can't even rain in summer without thunder and lightning that scares folks to death.

WHO WON THE WEST?

If you have not read Roosevelt's book, "The Winning of the West," you have missed a treat. But for Lewis and Clark, Lieut. Pike, Boone and Crockett, the West would not be the populous, rich, progressive region of the earth that makes it noted the world over today. Adventure lay at the bottom of the foundations of the winning of the West, and the West was won by adventurers.

If it had not been for men with more or less adventure in their make-up, the Illinois prairies would not be the pasture lands of America, furnishing half a world with bread and butter, beef and pork. Had it not been for these adventurers Iowa would not be the greatest corn-producing State in the world, nor would the woods of Minnesota have furnished material out of which a hundred cities have been built and rich harvests raised where the pine trees once stood thicker than the pillars in a cathedral hall.

It was the spirit of adventure that prodded the first ox teams across the Rocky Mountains, over the Great American Desert, braving the hazards of meeting Brigham Young's bands of Danites or as murderous bands of wild Indians on the way.

Of all the great West California owes more to the spirit of adventure and risk than any other State west of Chicago. It took a bolder spirit to reach the Pacific Coast than to penetrate the wilderness of Minnesota woods, whether the pioneer for California came "the isthmus across, the Horn around or the plains over." It was no slight undertaking to go in an American clipper ship, good sailors as they were, through the storms around Cape Horn. It was the same with the men who faced the deadly malaria around the Chagres River and tonto fever up the coast of Central America and Mexico, and still the same with the man who undertook to traverse the thousands of miles of desert country, full of hostile Indians, that lay between the Mississippi River and San Francisco Bay, in "'49 and the springs of '50."

There was no certainty that gold lay in the sands along any of the streams, or that auriferous quartz would be found in any ledge of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. There were no proved ore-bearing strata in the State of California when the first miners undertook to dig into the ribs of old Mother Earth and take the yellow wealth from deep down in the rock.

When the late Isaac Friedlander went into the plains in Merced county to grow wheat a great many inhabitants of this State, who had been here for years, thought he was going on a very "wild goose chase." The adventure succeeded and the adventurer became rich. Others followed in his pioneer footsteps, and Tulare county, lying away up the San Joaquin Valley, a few years later shipped to tidewater on San Francisco Bay 14,000 flat cars loaded with the last sack of wheat that could be piled upon each one.

Here in Los Angeles county there are hundreds of people still living who remember when it was an accepted truism that poultry could never be made a paying industry, and that forever and a day or more the people of this city would be obliged to import their potatoes from outside of Southern California.

These adventurers of the early days first developed the live stock industry of California from nothing to colossal proportions, where the wool clip of the State amounted to 60,000,000 pounds for a single year. Then followed agriculture, when the wheat crop of California furnished bread for half of Western Europe. Then plain agriculture gave place to horticulture, and a woman of adventurous spirit received from a friend in Washington the first bud of an orange tree sent up from San Salvador de Bahia in the empire of Brazil. If she had been one of the laggards who take no chance she would have let the bud perish. But she was adventuresome and took the chance. The result of the adventurous spirit last year was the citrus crop for California, amounting to 40,000 carloads of delicious fruit, toothsome and health-bearing and worth in one way or another to the country not less than $30,000,000.

You have seen the picture of the big Lakeview oil gusher up in the San Joaquin Valley, the most marvelous object in the wide world in the oil industry. It was no fixed fact when the search for oil began in California that this big gusher would ever be seen. It was a gamble whether a quart of oil would ever be marketed from the whole State of California. A few adventurers with the right spirit in them began fifty years ago this search for oil. From that time to this, one after another has followed in different regions of the State. The early attempts at Santa Barbara and near there proved fruitless, but the Santa Maria wells are worth a good deal to the State now. If no adventurers had ever taken a chance there would have been no oil company taking thousands of barrels of oil out of that region now. It never would have been taken out if the adventurer had never made the first attempt. It was all "wild catting" in the beginning.

It is over thirty years since Hon. C. N. Felton began in Pico Cañon, near Newhall. He was an adventurer with the real spirit of the pioneer. He sank nearly a quarter of a million dollars before he got the color of oil in Pico Cañon. His fortune was on the verge of passing away out of his hands forever when the first producing hole was struck. Others followed in the Puente, getting a little shallow well giving up a few barrels a day of semi-asphalt worth perhaps 50 cents a barrel and not suitable for refining. Some of our neighbors went into Coalinga and spent tens of thousands of dollars adventuring there for oil, and lost every dollar put in. Another adventurer followed them, and the first hole he drilled was a producer. Those who failed were wild-catting, and those who succeed were wild-catting until they struck the thick, viscous, oleaginous stuff.

It is very easy for some of us who never touched anything less sure in its results than a game of "thimble rigging," a "strap game" or other fraudulent gamble, to sit down and inveigh against the adventurer, against the pioneer, the fellow who strikes out into a path of his own cutting into unknown industrial regions. But if it were not for the pioneer, for the adventuresome spirit, for the fellow ready to take a chance and do a little wild-catting, the wealth of the United States this current year would not be written with the characters that stand for nine billion dollars, nor for nine dollars, or even nine cents.

But for the pioneer, America would still be a wilderness. The Indians' wigwams would stand where the Monadnock rears its stories on the lakeside in Chicago. There would be no fifty-story buildings on Manhattan Island, nor would a brick ever have been made. America would not be furnishing the wheat, the bread and butter, beefsteaks and mutton chops for half the world if it had not been for the adventurers. Had it not been for the adventurers and wild-catters, from the Pilgrim Fathers to the Cavaliers, Penn, Raleigh, and on down through the long line, Boone and Crockett, Fremont and Kit Carson, Clark and Lewis, there would not be in the United States today a nation of 90,000,000 of the most intelligent and wealthy people on the earth.

We regret to note that in his talk to the Daughters of the American Revolution President Taft referred to this country as belonging to the Anglo-Saxon race. Why, God bless us, even the English people no longer belong to that race. It is a race that has faded away.

A GENEROUS PLEBISCITE.

THE BOND MONEY.

The bonds have carried. Los Angeles has taken another long stride in her rapid progress as a municipality, which has already astonished the planet. We are assured of a free public harbor, one of the best in the world. We are assured of cheap light and power for an industrial development that will give us a new place of importance in the world of commerce.

The citizens of Los Angeles are to be congratulated upon their generosity and their show of public spirit. They have responded to every just call made by the community builders. In return every public official of Los Angeles, every citizen who expects to take a hand in directing the future business affairs of the city, every organization that is supported by public spirit incurs a serious responsibility.

It is due to the citizens who have taken up the task of building one of the greatest of American cities within a decade that every dollar of their money should be expended judiciously and with more care and economy even than surrounds private capital. This is not easy money that has been voted. It is money which could have been secured for but one cause, and that the good of the city of Los Angeles. Let it be spent as honestly as it was given.

The Aqueduct is conspicuous as a public work of great size in which there has been no suspicion of graft or inefficiency. There is every reason to hope that the development of the power will be completed in the same way. The improvement of Los Angeles harbor by the spending of $3,000,000 will require judicious and Spartan execution. No real estate clique should have a moment's consideration as such.

The harbor bonds must be spent for a free public harbor. The work that is to be done with this $3,000,000 should be that which will provide deep water, wharves and dockage, and public thoroughfares to both from the city of Los Angeles, in the most practical and direct way. The harbor bonds were not voted to profit property owners in San Pedro or in Wilmington, or Los Angeles men owning property there. They were voted to improve the harbor for the benefit of all the people.

With this note of warning, let the theme turn to the strains of rejoicing. Los Angeles has demonstrated the loyalty of her citizens and their confidence in her future. These are the things that make success. Yesterday was one of the big days in the history of Los Angeles, and it means that every day in the future will be still bigger. Therefore we sing, "Gaudeamus igitur."

ONE OF THE HIGH COSTS OF LIVING.

The London Times gives us a careful estimate of the cost of stimulants to the people of the United Kingdom for the year 1909. The estimate runs to the enormous sum of $775,812,425. It is between $17 and $18 per capita for the whole population of the kingdom, including the new-born infants. It crowds $100 a year for each family of five.

This shows a decrease from the previous year of nearly $30,000,000. In the amount of alcoholic stimulants consumed the decrease was greatest in ardent spirits, least in beer, and there was shown a little increase in the consumption of wine.

The latest statistics at hand indicate that the people of the United States pay out annually $1,524,392,929 for beer, whisky and wines. Beer and wines figure for considerably more than twice as much as whisky.

Assuming the population of the United States to be close to 90,000,000, it is a curious fact to note that the per capita consumption of alcoholic liquors in the United States in cost is almost identical with that in the United Kingdom.

The increase in consumption in the United States, with the single exception of the slack year 1907, is much more rapid than the increase in the population. Ten years ago the estimated cost for this kind of indulgence was considerably less than $1,000,000,000. Population increased about 17 per cent. and the cost of stimulants increased over 56 per cent.

Besides these alcoholic stimulants, the people of the United States consume annually tea, coffee and cocoa to the amount of nearly $200,000,000, making the total bill for stimulants run over $1,700,000,000. Adding the cost of non-alcoholic stimulants to that for the alcoholic kind, the cost to the people of the United States for these beverages falls just a little short of $20 per capita per annum, and consequently but little less than $100 per family of five.

A study of the subject by analysis indicates that the increased use of beers and wines is much more rapid than that of ardent spirits. Ten years ago the per capita consumption of spirituous liquors in the United States was 1.18 gallons, wines .35 gallons, and beers 15.28 gallons, or total 16.81 gallons. The latest year, at the end of the decade, showed a consumption of 1.44 gallons of spirituous liquors, .60 gallons of wine and 20.97 gallons of beers, total 23.01 gallons per capita.

It might very well be questioned whether the use of any of these beverages, whether alcoholic or non-alcoholic, furnishes any appreciable amount of sustenance to the human frame. We speak of them in their purity. If you add sugar and milk or cream to coffee, tea or chocolate, of course the sugar and milk may be considered as food. In the same way there may be some food value in beers and wines, but if there is any in spirituous liquors it must be exceedingly small.

Physiologists and physicians recognize that there is a benefit to the human system in the use of coffee and tea in checking the tendency to waste of muscular tissue. How much is gained by this prevention of waste is very problematic.

The figures given will show that our prohibition friends have not got their six days' work done yet and that there is no Sabbath in sight for them. As a matter of historical fact, the use of stimulants of one kind or another, generally of very many kinds, remounts the centuries to the beginning of history and is nearly as widespread as the human race. It was known at a pretty early date, according to the story in the Hebrew scriptures that tells us of Noah and the vineyard he planted when he came out of the ark. When we read the histories of ancient people, whether in the scriptures, in Homer or any other of the earliest literature in different languages, the use of these stimulants and the abuse of them are found very prevalent. Homer's heroes were often in the condition in which Japheth and Shem found their father. When Xenophon led his Greeks through the Kurd Mountains he found the savage tribes knew how to make beer; and it was made very much as we make it, for the chaff and straws of the barley were floating on the top of the vessels containing the beverage handed to the wanderers.

THE ETHEREALIZATION OF "JEFF."

The ethereallization of Mr. James J. Jeffries, the champ, is about to begin. His trainer, Mr. Choynski, has announced that he proposes to shelter this shrinking tendril from contact with those who would discuss such rude topics as fists and fights. He proposes to train the champ for battle on art and music and poetry.

At dinner, at the training table, Mr. Choynski says that no topics will be permitted save the esthetics. Of course, being a professional trainer, he does not give the secrets of his plan; but it is to be presumed that Mr. Choynski will start the champ out gradually into the esthetics. No rude rushes. For instance, he, no doubt, will begin with an easy one like "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck," and lead him up by splendid footsteps to Ella Wheeler Wilcox. In art, Mr. Choynski will possibly start in with the pictures that come in cigarette packages and work up to the old masters. In music, the pathway would seem, in our humble and inexpert opinion, to begin with "All Coons Look Alike to Me" on a mouth organ, and ascend—pretty near anywhere.

If there is a shadow on Mr. Choynski's inspiration, it is this: Mr. Jeffries is not conversationally profuse. We fear—we very much fear—that the communion of refinement between Mr. Choynski and the champ may take on some such form as this:

Mr. Choynski: Little one, my pupil, what dost think of Michelangelo?

Mr. Jeffries: Huh!

Mr. Choynski: Tell me of Chopin, and play the Sonata in F.

Champ (sourly): Quit it!

It is a historical fact that [illegible] been known to utter but two [illegible] One is "Huh;" the other is "[illegible]"

He has held immense groves and town property varying in time from thirty-five minutes to several years, always managing to turn it over to such a wonderful advantage that he is looked upon as something of a wizard in the real estate circles of this section.

A horse belonging to F. A. Alexander, proprietor of the City Market, was so badly injured in a runaway accident this morning that it was necessary to shoot it. The horse became frightened at a motorcycle which was being tested, and ran away before the driver could get the lines. The frightened animal ran into a bakery wagon, one of the shafts piercing his side and broke off, the horse ran several blocks with the shaft sticking from its side. When caught it was taken to a veterinary who soon shot it.

ARGUMENT.

MAKES ATTACK ON EXCISE TAX.

LOCAL ATTORNEY DISCUSSES IT IN ARTICLE.

He Declares That the Federal Corporation Measure Is Simply a Levy on Corporate Franchises, Is Not Apportioned Among States and Is, Therefore, Unconstitutional.

Walter K. Tuller, an attorney of this city, has an able article on the Federal corporation tax in the April number of the North American Review. After discussing the excise tax in its different phases, and referring to a number of authorities relating to the issues involved, the writer sums up his conclusions as follows:

"1—That although called an excise, the tax imposed by the act under consideration, is in reality simply a tax upon the corporate franchise, and as such, a direct tax. That not being apportioned among the several States according to population, it is therefore unconstitutional.

"2—That in so far as it attempts to impose a tax upon corporate franchises granted by the several States in the exercise of their constitutionally 'reserved' powers, it is unconstitutional; also on the ground that it is beyond the powers granted to the Federal government, and an invasion of those reserved to the States.

"3—That if held not to be a tax upon the corporate franchise, it is simply a tax on the property held by corporations, and therefore unconstitutional under the principle declared in the income tax case.

"The conclusion reached," continues Attorney Tuller, "does not detract from the power of the Federal government to raise all funds that may be necessary. Whenever its income from ordinary channels is insufficient to provide for the national welfare, all it need do is to compute the sum required and call on each State for its proportional share as determined by its population.

"The authority of the United States, within the Constitution, is that of a government, not suppliant. In this way it can collect to the last farthing all the money that may be needed for its support. Neither is it a conclusion that such a tax as the one here imposed, may not be proper or even desirable as an economic matter. As pointed out in the beginning of the discussion, that is entirely a different question. But it seems that the act is opposed to the Constitution as it now stands, and the Constitution must ever stand as the 'supreme law of the land.'"

In a foot-note, the author adds that the conclusion reached has no application to the validity of the act insofar as it imposes the tax on corporations, created by, or under the authority of the Federal government. Attorney Tuller sees no reason why the government cannot legally tax those franchises granted by it.

"It is a well-established principle," he says, "that if a statute is constitutional in part, and unconstitutional in part, that part which is valid will be inforced, provided the parts are sufficiently separable so that each may be read by itself. It would seem that corporations chartered by the several States, and those created by the Federal government were sufficiently separate and distinct subjects of taxation, that the tax might be sustained as to the latter, though held invalid as to the former."

KIDNAPING CHARGED.

Private Detective Arraigned and Placed Under Thousand Dollars Bond for Examination Friday.

S. H. Vinell, a private detective, was arraigned before Justice Ling yesterday on a charge of having kidnaped his 7-year-old son, Allen, who was awarded to the custody of his mother when she procured an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Vinell was allowed to have the company of the boy on Saturdays and Sundays and failed to return him to his mother at the expiration of one of these periods. Because he obtained possession of the child lawfully, it is likely that the kidnaping charge will be dropped and Vinell will be cited for contempt of court, for having disobeyed one of its orders.

His preliminary examination was set for the 22nd inst. Attorneys Willis & Robinson, who represent him, said that he would be able to give the $1000 bond which was demanded for his appearance.

LARGE CARGO OF TIES.

By far the largest cargo of railroad ties ever brought to Southern California, came on the British steamship Iran, Capt. Thomas B. Peabody, which arrived here after a voyage of seventeen days from Japan. The Iran has a tonnage of 6250 tons, and she was loaded to the limit with ties. Just how many she brought over is not definitely stated, but the British Vice-Consul here, C. White Mortimer, states there are several hundred thousands. Where usually but four or five days are required to discharge an ordinary cargo, this time it is estimated that several days will be consumed.

Instantaneous Hot Water Day or Night

How to Save Two-Thirds Gas and Have Unlimited Supply of Hot Water.

The boiler in your kitchen stores water, and when you want to heat water in the boiler, you always have to heat more water than you use and have to wait quite a while before it gets sufficiently hot. This means an expensive waste of gas, loss of time and much inconvenience, and the water you get is usually lukewarm, after all.

Its supply of water is always limited. Its water is never hot when most needed, it requires more gas than ought to be necessary, it never supplies water for more than one bath at a time, and it takes an age to heat more water for another bath for somebody else.

With the "Humphrey Instantaneous" Bath-Heater, however, hot water, piping hot, flows from the faucet the moment you light the heater—and not before. Closing the faucet shuts off the gas, and your expense stops.

It gives an inexhaustible, always-ready, instantaneous, steaming hot supply of water at any time of the day or night, even when all the fires about the house are completely out.

The "Humphrey Instantaneous" gives you the cheapest hot water in the world, and all it heats is the water, not the room, making it perfect for use in the hottest summer weather as well as winter.

Let us send you a beautiful book of illustrations and full explanation of the wonderful Humphrey Instantaneous Bath-Heaters; it is free. Send your name and address today, or call at the Los Angeles Agents, the Independent Gas Appliance Co., 604 S. Hill st., where the Humphrey Heaters are on exhibition.

For those who prefer a larger heater, sufficient for supplying a whole house with hot-water instantly, at any minute of the day or night, for the kitchen, laundry, rooms and bathrooms, all at once, we manufacture a still more remarkable device, the Automatic Thermal Water-Heater. It is automatic, almost human. We have a separate booklet on these "Automatic" Heaters. Ask for this one, too, if you are interested. It is free.

STATE MAY CLAIM LAND.

Hearing Will Be Held to Determine Whether Palo Verde Valley Tract Is Swamp.

There will be a hearing in the local Land Office before the United States Surveyor-General, June 15, to determine whether a large tract in the Palo Verde Valley is overflowed land. If it is, the State of California will lay claim to it; otherwise it will be open to entry under the government land law. It is said that only a portion of the valley is overflowed by the Colorado River. By the construction of dikes, and proper drainage, it can be made excellent farming land, so experts declare.

The local Register and Receiver had word from San Francisco, yesterday, of the hearing. E. H. Archer, the United States Surveyor-General, says that the land in question is to be suspended from entry pending the hearing. Receiver Robinson immediately telegraphed to the General Land Office, for instructions. Late yesterday afternoon he received the following answer:

"Pending hearing, suspend from all entry, all lands restored to entry, January, 1910, included in the application of the State of California to have certain sections declared swamp and overflowed."

OFFICERS ARE NAMED.

The following officers were chosen: President and general manager, H. C. Thompson; vice-president, Joseph Mesmer; secretary, J. Henry Le Sage, and treasurer, John Castera. Offices will be established within a few days.

Tired Worn-out Dishes

Dishes and pots and pans get tired and worn out—when they get dirty, greasy and sticky. They need a thorough cleansing—to put new life into them. Soap will not cleanse them below the surface, and besides leaves them with a "soapy" smell that is anything but appetizing.

Gold Dust is the real doctor for tired dishes. Gold Dust makes dish-water that digs—gets under the surface and searches out every hidden particle of dirt and germ that ordinary dish-water overlooks. Gold Dust not only cleanses—it sterilizes.

Besides, Gold Dust will cut your dish-washing time right in two, and give you that much more leisure.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. The Gold Dust Twins need no outside help.

In these last three years I have lived in four counties, north and south, in little towns and jumping-off places, owing to my husband's business, and I can sincerely say that your paper with its admirably written news of the world, and, especially dear to me, news of Los Angeles and vicinity, has been my one chief source of comfort and pleasure. I have always been so homesick since leaving dear old Los Angeles and your newsy paper has done more to cheer me up than anything else in the world. Ties of friendship are always being broken, but The Times is always the same and always to me like a constant friend. I have not always agreed with you [and it is not expected that all readers will agree with The Times—Editor] but I would not give you up. My husband is a workingman, though now in business for himself, and has belonged to a workingmen's union and suffered thereby—and I sincerely hope you will always keep up the fight against labor unions wrongly conducted and ruled by ignorant bosses. And as far as politics are concerned, that is a question for each individual to settle with himself. You have set your paper at a high standard and I for one appreciate it highly and hope that you will prosper and always maintain it.

Happy in Kings County.

HANFORD (Cal.) April 16.—[To The Editor of The Times:] I was much interested in the article in The Times of the 15th inst., containing an account of the trip of the Homeseekers' Excursion written by J. S. McGroarty. We are exceedingly pleased with the general tone of Mr. McGroarty's dispatch, but note that he had inadvertently connected Kings county with the irrigation bond burning incident which should properly have been credited to our sister county of Tulare. There has always been an abundance of irrigation water in Kings county without any particular trouble from bond issue or otherwise. We think that our friends in Tulare county are entitled to all the credit for rescuing the land from the complication of difficulties arising from the attempt to handle irrigation under the bond system. We are grateful to The Times for the good words about Kings county and are very glad to have had some small part in the magnificent success attending The Times' Homeseekers' Excursion. We could not help being impressed with the character of these excursionists. It was manifest that a large percentage of these people took this trip for the purpose of informing themselves of conditions in the San Joaquin Valley with a view of finding places for homes and The Times idea will go on record as being one of the most unique and effective methods ever taken to give homeseeker's a practical exhibition of the country to which they are invited to come and make their homes.

ENTHUSIASM.

WILL TRAVERSE IMPERIAL.

PHILIP A. STANTON AND PARTY TO MEET VOTERS.

Watts, Compton and Downey Are Visited and Citizens Vow That the Southland Candidate Will Be the Next Governor of California—The Booster Club Holds Luncheon.

After an automobile trip that took him through the cities of Watts, Compton and Downey yesterday, Hon. Phil A. Stanton, with a crowd of his supporters from this city, left last night for Calexico, where a tour of the Imperial Valley will be begun tomorrow.

At each of the cities visited yesterday, crowds of enthusiastic citizens met Mr. Stanton, and after talking with him, pledged him their support in his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor. No speeches were made, but hundreds of men shook the next Governor by the hand, and vowed that Southern California, which by its preponderence of Republican votes has elected a Northern California man for Governor for the last two terms, should this time choose a "son of the South."

During the tour of Imperial Valley every city of consequence will be visited, and speeches will be made by Mr. Stanton and others of those who accompany him. J. Randall Sparks will be one of the orators on this trip, and there will be others from this city and Imperial Valley points.

During the coming week, following his trip through Imperial Valley, Mr. Stanton and a party of his friends will visit each of the beach cities in Los Angeles and Orange counties, beginning at Santa Monica, and taking in Ocean Park, Venice, Redondo, Hermosa, San Pedro, Long Beach, Naples, Bay City, Newport and Huntington Beach.

There was a jolly crowd of Stanton enthusiasts at the Boosters' Clubs' luncheon at the Hollenbeck at noon yesterday, although there was considerable disappointment over the unavoidable absence of City Attorney Hewitt. The latter had prepared to deliver what was expected to be a most interesting address, but legal business necessitated his presence in Ventura, and he was reluctantly forced to postpone his speech. The city attorney is one of the Speaker's chief supporters and he is among those who predict success for the Southland's candidate.

The Boosters, however, heard other inspiring speakers, among them J. F. Paulding, secretary of the Retail Grocers Association, and Justice of Peace, Ling.

CRITTENTON HOME PRESIDENT.

Mrs. Barrett Declares There Are Other Things More Important Than Pedigree.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, president of the Florence Crittenton Rescue Homes, which are scattered from ocean to ocean, delivered a telling address before the Charity Conference Committee yesterday morning in the Chamber of Commerce building. The address was an argument against taking dependent children from their mothers and placing them in the homes of others, instead of finding a home for both mother and child. Among other things, she said:

"You cannot isolate a child from its parent without doing it immeasurable harm. I believe in placing dependent children in private homes, but those responsible for the child, and not having a proper home, should not go free from responsibility."

Mrs. Barrett has been in close touch with the rescue work for more than twenty years, and she declares that the consensus of opinion among those engaged in it, is that the mother and child should be kept together, as the best means of rescuing both from the abandoned class.

"We are apt to believe," she said, "that some particular gift of goodness or virtue comes to a child because there is a marriage certificate. I do not believe any such thing. The gift comes alone from the character of the parents.

"I believe in living a good life; I believe in an honored name, and I bear the mark of Revolutionary ancestry on my breast, but I want to tell you there is one thing better, and that is to found a family that will grow up in honor and usefulness, and nobody will know or care or inquire who their parents were."

The speaker was many times greeted with applause, during her address, which was one suited to an audience of mature men and women. In a plea to her hearers to stand behind the Associated Charities and the Board of Health, she related an experience she had with a woman inspector of the later body, in which that official said, as an excuse for a lack of rigorous enforcement of law in certain directions:

"The truth is we do not have enough public sentiment behind us to make our Board of Health effective."

Mrs. Barrett said she had told the Chief of Police that the only way to deal successfully with one of the great social problems, is to get the support of the good people of the city, and "if you don't get that, you'll sell out to the grafters."

She also said she did not wish to be misunderstood with reference to asylums, and homes for children, for such were an absolute necessity, but that children should only be placed in them after every effort to keep mother and child together has failed. She denounced as a crime, their indiscriminate separation.

PATRIOTS' DAY.

LOYAL HEARTS ARE STIRRED.

Bishop Conaty Makes Address on "Patriotism."

New England Societies Hear Colonists Lauded.

Chamber of Commerce Is Too Small for Crowd.

Stirring the hearts of 500 loyal New England people by his eloquent reminder of the significance of Patriots Day, Bishop Conaty delivered an address on "Patriotism" at the Chamber of Commerce last night. The members of the New England Society were guests of the Federation of State Societies. Finding that the large attendance rendered speaking almost impossible in the lower reception rooms, the guests adjourned to Assembly Hall. It, too, proved inadequate and the adjoining committee room was opened as well. Nearly one hundred persons stood during the addresses.

President Scott of the Chamber of Commerce welcomed the members of the New England Society, and spoke feelingly of the debt the nation owes to the sturdy forefathers of the colonies.

Ex-Judge Noyes made a brief response and introduced Dr. Clarkson N. Guyer, vice-president-general of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Dr. Guyer declared that organizations such as that represented at the gathering are inspirations to all New Englanders. He said he was tempted to believe the story told in the East to the effect that Southern Californians have to be chained in heaven to prevent their wandering back again to the land of sunshine and happiness.

FAMILY PRIDE CAUSES STUDY.

In referring to patriotic societies, the speaker said that the pride of family had resulted in wonderful contributions to the human side of early American history. As persons began to wonder what part their forefathers played in the stirring scenes of 1775 and 1776, they began to study the records with greater zest. The histories lacked human warmth that the contributions of family literature supplied.

Bishop Conaty was introduced as a loyal New Englander. He spoke of his life in Massachusetts and gave a short sketch of the stirring event of April 19, 1775, when the patriots at Concord Bridge and Lexington fired the muskets that aroused the colonies to fight for independence.

"The names and deeds of the brave men of Lexington and Concord are a sacred inheritance," said the bishop. "This day awakens us to a sense of our love of country, characteristic not only of true manhood, but of the love of God as well.

"It is an inspiration to high and noble deeds, a stimulus to courage and character. The battle begun at Lexington and Concord and finished at Yorktown led to a victory which taught the world that a people can politically govern themselves. The basis on which our political structure rests is popular will."

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP BEST.

"The Roman of old was proud of his title of 'Roman Citizen,' but Rome in all her magnificence never conferred upon her people a citizenship equal to that for which America stands. Our citizenship does not come by the will of monarch nor by virtue of kingly family. It is a fundamental principle of our Constitution, which asserts that all men are entitled to life, liberty and happiness. Our citizenship is based on our manhood and is guaranteed by a Constitution made and accepted by the whole people.

"The individual citizen is the unit of government, the source of the greatness of the republic—the reason for its existence. Our national pride is not in wealth, culture, or the privileges of a superior class, but in the acknowledgement of man's dignity by reason of the rights given to him by God and guaranteed to him by the Constitution.

"The providential mission of our republic is to offer shelter and protection to the peoples of all races, seeking here a place in which to earn a living and to work out the problems of life. Speaking all the languages of the world, worshipping at various altars, trained in various schools of political opinion, under the influence of the American spirit, they are soon moulded into one great brotherhood of American national life. The immigrant of yesterday becomes the American of today.

BLENDING OF THE RACES.

"Our American history is the story of the blending of the races of the world, the mingling of the blood of the best of all the races, and the creation of a new nationality possessing a citizenship which guarantees to all men the right to life, liberty and happiness.

"The ultimate success of the republic depends upon the virtue of its citizens. We need manhood more than money, and character more than armies. We must never forget that it is men and not acres that make a nation. Morality is as necessary for public as for private life; political health is as important as physical health.

"Patriotism is a vain word unless it brings us to love our country as we love our God; to labor for the welfare of our country as we labor for the choicest of our own personal interests.

"The memory of Patriot's Day should stir the pulse of all citizens, recalling the brave deed at Concord Bridge, which made possible the citizenship which we enjoy. Near that bridge stands the monument of the minute man, the sturdy New England youth, fresh from the farm, holding in his hand the musket with which to guard the bridge. He teaches the world a lesson of sturdy manhood, ready to sacrifice life itself in order to defend a people's right. He expresses the true spirit of patriotism, which is a duty man owes to his neighbor and to his God. The nation is blessed that has such sons ready at the call of duty, to defend, if need be, with their lives, the sacred cause of liberty."

DEFENDS PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES.

Dr. Guyer said in part: "Our world from time immemorial has been full of what are called 'popular errors.' To me in our own time one of the most glaring errors is the oft-repeated assertion that the effect of all this genealogical study is to foster and build up 'mutual admiration societies,' because of the richness of the ancestral blood.

"No greater libel was ever uttered. The pride of family is not the effect but the cause of this wonderful contribution to the historic lore of our country. The work of the fathers of 1776 was specially emphasized, Centennial Year, 1876, for the first time, as a whole. The descendants began to wonder what individual part their ancestors bore in the glorious work of 1776, and they eagerly scanned the neglected record of the family Bible and the inscriptions upon the tombstones in the old country graveyards.

"If you read carefully the histories of Hildreth, Bancroft, Jared Sparks, or even Washington Irving, you cannot but be struck with the absence of the human touch. That human touch was what was given to our country's history by those contributions of family literature. The starting of patriotic societies was the easy and logical sequel—all inspired by pride of ancestry.

"In these days of commercialism, when graft and greed are seeking to instill their deadly poison into the heart of the republic, when the dollar is worshiped above the man, it is the glorious mission of the patriotic societies to keep alive the national spirit."

DRAMATIC CRITIC'S DEATH.

Principal of Dobinson School of Expression Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy.

George A. Dobinson, principal of the Dobinson School of Expression, died of apoplexy yesterday at his late residence, No. 1044 South Hope street, in his sixty-seventh year, after an illness of five days.

The deceased was born in England, August 21, 1843, and when quite young became a student at law. In 1870 he came to this country, landing at New York, and at once came to San Francisco, where he entered the employ of the Dun Mercantile Agency, dividing his time for five years between that city and Portland, Or. In 1875 he removed to Los Angeles and entered the real estate business with T. E. Rowan, deceased, and afterward with J. A. Fairchild and Louis F. Vetter.

His literary tastes and ability as an elocutionist, as well as his critical studies of dramatic art, led him into newspaper work as an art critic, and at different times he contributed to all the newspapers of the city, and was well known to the dramatic profession.

Some years ago he established the school that bore his name, and later erected for its accommodation the classic structure known as Dobinson Auditorium, and he was conducting this school at the time of his death.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Florence A. Dobinson, and a sister, Mrs. W. R. Blackman, in this city. The funeral will be held at Dobinson Auditorium, No. 1044 South Hope street, at 2:30 Friday afternoon, to which friends are invited.

MISSIONARY BAZAAR.

BANNING.

BANNING, April 19.—Leon J. Pepperberg of the geological department of the Southern Pacific is in this locality to investigate the mineral resources of the lands owned by the railroad company from Banning eastward. The company owns every odd-numbered section. Much of it is unfit for farming, but some is rich in mineral substances. There may be some gold, silver and more copper, while it known to abound in cement and granite.

Mr. Pepperberg is a part of the San Francisco force, and has been employed heretofore by the government. The railroad company has but recently added this department to carry on a work that has been slighted in the past. It may mean that rich deposits of iron, granite, marble, etc., will be worked in the near future.

The mining expert will work in the desert east of here until the excessive heat drives him to the high Sierras, and he will continue operations for the company there.

MARRIED AT BRIDE'S HOME.

Miss Anna Ida Zarrs and Alvin Devereux Ostrander were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frederick Zarrs, No. 1465 West Twenty-fifth street, in the presence of nearly one hundred guests, the Rev. ANNIVERSARY.

WAR VETERANS HEAR HISTORY.

Recall Two Great Events in Celebration.

Camp Fare Is Devoured With Great Relish.

Stirring Scenes of the Past Are Portrayed.

The anniversary of the declaration of war with Spain, which is also the birthday of the Battle of Lexington, was celebrated by the Spanish War veterans at Odd Fellows' Hall last night.

The setting, with the exception of the civilian garb of those present, was in every respect appropriate for the commemoration of such a great event in the history of the world.

Two hundred young men, who fought in the last war of the United States, with a sprinkling of the old veterans who battled for the Union, feasted on a repast of soldiers' fare.

Beans in great quantities, "sow-belly" and coffee were the mainstays of the bill of fare. They were devoured with a relish which was probably not exhibited by the warriors after they had subsisted on them for days on the battlefield or the march.

The large room was draped with flags of various kinds and colors. History was attached to some, and memories to others. Some had been captured in battle and others had been triumphantly carried through bloody fights.

The war history of this country, from the time of the firing of the first gun against England to the present date, was heard again. Systematically the speakers took up the great events which have been written in red blood. The gathering was taken back more than two centuries to the triumphs and hardships of their forefathers in making this nation great.

STIRRING ADDRESS.

Capt. J. D. Fredericks was to have been the toastmaster. To the disappointment of those assembled, at the last moment he was compelled to send his regrets. This office was assigned to Jesse Shaffer, a member of Roosevelt Camp No. 9, under the auspices of which the celebration was held.

The principal speakers of the evening were Maj. J. A. Donnell and ex-Senator Dodge of Iowa.

Maj. Donnell spoke on the Battle of Lexington and the Civil War. His description of the midnight ride of Paul Revere was most vivid. It appealed to his audience, as a dear memory. But when he reached the Civil War, he touched a subject which was already familiar to some of the listeners.

The old veteran's eyes glistened when he described the charges, the heavy fighting, the terrible slaughter and the final victory. His every word was a reality to them and they applauded with the full strength of their weakened bodies when he led them through the Battle of Gettysburg.

To both the North and South he was complimentary. He paid a tribute to the matchless bravery and valor of the brothers who fought against each other because they thought they were seeking to uphold principles which were right.

"The Flag and the Spanish War Veterans" were dwelt upon by Mr. Dodge. He appealed to the warm fighting blood of his audience, for the majority were in some part of the skirmishes and tragedies with which he dealt.

IMPRESSES HEARERS.

One striking point he impressed on his hearers. He asked them to not forget that the size of the hearts of the American soldiers is quite in keeping with their ability to win victories. He related how they fished the helpless Spaniards out of the ocean, after they had sunk the enemies' ships.

"What higher praise could be passed on the bravery and heroism of the Spanish War veterans than the language of a Spanish officer who was in the trenches of Santiago," he said. "After he was captured he was asked if the American soldiers were fighters and replied: 'Fighters? My God! They tried to catch us with their hands!' And the reports from the front show that when orders were given to charge upon the enemy, they scrambled up the sides of the trenches like so many ants.

"Permit me to present you this apostrophe of the American flag. It is our nation's emblem and beautiful as a flower to the heart of every patriot. It has been called a 'floating piece of poetry.' In the words of Charles Sumner: 'The very colors have a language which was officially recognized by our father. White is for purity; red is for valor, and blue, for justice; and, altogether, bunting, stripes, stars and colors blazing in the sky make the flag of our country, to be cherished by all hearts, to be upheld by all our hands.'"

Several members of the veterans' association were called on for extemporaneous remarks. Among them were Capt. Shay, W. H. Sallada, Tom Galbraith, P. C. Mulqueeney and W. H. Cooper. E. W. Peckham had charge of arrangements for the celebration.

WILL RAISE GAS RATE.

Santa Barbara Council Allows Company to Increase Price—Much Hostility Aroused.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of California's new laws may have an early opportunity to be tried in Santa Barbara if a threat made at an open meeting of the Council tonight is carried out. That body, in meeting to decide upon an increased gas rate was informed by E. D. Berri that the referendum would not be long in following the decision of the Council in increasing the gas rate of the Santa Barbara Gas and Electric Company (Edison) from $1 to $1.25. The meeting was attended by a number of irate citizens all protesting against the proposed rate. The Council extricated itself by resolving that this rate should be made only after the company has spent $100,000 in improving the plant and when a first-class pure gas of even pressure is being manufactured. The main object of attack was the report of Prof. C. L. Corey, a San Francisco gas expert, who was brought here by the Council to determine the value of the plant so that a rate could be placed by which a fair return could be had by the company. Corey's report was favorable to the company.

MINER GOES INSANE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PORTERVILLE, April 16.—John Plumley, a well-known miner of the White River country, went suddenly insane last night while in a restaurant on Main street and was subdued with difficulty after he had made a murderous assault upon Henry Dunning, the cook.

Plumley came to town yesterday afternoon and spent most of the time in the restaurant. When he ordered supper it was seen that he acted queerly, but it was supposed he was intoxicated. After eating he refused to pay for the meal, and Dunning came out from behind the counter to argue the matter. Plumley, raving wildly, picked up a heavy cup which he dashed at Dunning and rushing upon the cook, attempted to choke him. As Plumley is a powerful man and was all the stronger by reason of his mania, it required the united efforts of several bystanders to subdue him. He was taken to Visalia this morning to be examined by the county board. It is said that Plumley had been drinking heavily of late, which may account in part for his condition.

Southern capitalists and local investors have united to form the Porterville Manufacturing Company, with a capital of $50,000, to shortly erect in this city a foundry and machine shop for the manufacture of a new type of deep well pump, the invention of G. M. Bradrick, a Porterville mechanical engineer.

The new company is headed by George W. Ogle of Pomona, one of the officers and a large stockholder in the Pomona Manufacturing Company, engaged in making pumping machinery.

W. H. Rosseau, colored, an evangelist, who claims to be an author and a former reporter for various large eastern daily papers, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of having stolen a bicycle from a Visalia cyclery. Rosseau has been here but a short time, and during his stay has worked among the colored people with a view to building a church. He also claimed to have partially raised the funds for an industrial school for colored girls.

Rosseau's explanation of having the wheel in his possession was not satisfactory to the officers, although he professed a willingness to pay for it. He will be arraigned in the Visalia court and charged with grand larceny.

Five hundred dollars per front foot is the new record price for business property here, established in the sale today of a sixty-eight-foot frontage for a cash price of $34,800. The property is located next to the Masonic Temple recently completed. E. L. Scott, cashier of a local bank, and William Shry, real estate operators, are the new owners. They have already ordered the plans for a $30,000 office and store building, which is to be erected immediately.

BIG REALTY DEALS.

VISALIA, April 16.—Three of the largest land deals in the history of this part of the State have been consummated within the past two days. The first was the sale of 720 acres at Woodlake, a few miles northeast of Visalia, by Gilbert F. Stevenson, formerly of Los Angeles, for a reported consideration of $90,000. The land is suitable for citrus fruit and is in a part of the county that is attracting much attention now. The purchasers are J. E. Clifford of Minneapolis, prominently interested in the Cream of Wheat Company, and H. H. Roundtree, a broker of Boston. The second sale of the same day was the transfer of 960 acres in the southern part of the county, west of Pixley, for $44,000. This land is adapted to general farming and the growing of eucalyptus. The Wakiva Land and Water Company sold the property to O. W. Weidler and others. The third sale, the largest of the three involves 2040 acres in Kings and Tulare counties and a consideration of $152,000. The Chamberlain-Carr Company of Hanford sold the property to the Beckwith-Anderson Company and William Swall and W. B. Cartmill of Tulare county. The new owners will subdivide the property and place it on the market.

WADDILL MAKES SENSATIONAL MURDER CONFESSION.

On Eve of Trial of Men Whom He Accused of Brutally Killing J. P. Lindsay in Arizona He Breaks Down and Fully Exonerates Them of Crime.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) April 18.—A sensation was caused at Solomonville Friday by the confession of Thomas Waddill that he alone was responsible for the death of J. P. Lindsey, an old mine owner, found murdered in his cabin, forty miles west of Safford, in the Graham mountains.

Waddill had steadily maintained that the murder had been committed by Rex Starten and that the crime had been planned by E. J. Clark, in order that the last named could secure possession of valuable mines held by Lindsey. The trial of the two accused men was to have been held in the District Court of Solomonville on Thursday, but Waddill, fighting like a madman, refused to be taken into court and the case had to be continued.

The next morning he made a full confession, exonerating both Starten and Clark and stating that both wounds in Lindsay's body had been made by himself. He will now be formally charged with the crime. The others have been released.

ATTORNEY GOES WRONG.

Walter G. Scott, a young Globe attorney, was brought from Safford and locked up in the county jail Saturday, charged with embezzlement of $107, constituting a collection he had made a week ago for a client. Tuesday Scott went to Miami, where the quality of the whiskey dispensed must hereafter be under deep suspicion. He returned to Globe that afternoon. After that, according to his own story, his mind was blank till he woke up on a county road near Pima, in the Gila Valley. He had made about 100 miles on foot, mainly along the railroad track, and was in bad shape physically. His statement that he had no remembrance of a meal within the four days seems to be borne out by his appearance. The money he had collected was gone.

GETS NO SYMPATHY.

D. E. Garst of Los Angeles is in Globe, seeking possession of his two children, now with their mother here, on the ground that the mother has violated the laws of the State of California and the terms of a divorce decree granted in May 7, 1909, by Judge W. P. James of Los Angeles. Despite the prohibition of the California law concerning marriages within a year, Mrs. Garst, since the date of the decree, has married J. Delany Holcomb of Globe. Mr. Garst has received little consolation from the local authorities.

An agreement has been reached between the City of Globe, the Old Dominion Company and the Arizona Eastern Railroad Company, whereby the railroad will be given a new and much better right-of-way through the lower part of the city and better grades will be secured by the building of a steel viaduct and bridge across Broad street and Pinal creek.

BREVITIES.

Hugh L. Higdon, aged 48, a member of the City Council and for years a leading business man of Globe, died in this city Saturday of pneumonia.

Los Angeles capital is behind the Merchants' Ice & Provision Company, which is preparing to build a large refrigerating plant in this city.

The Citizens' Bank of Thatcher will soon be housed in a new and handsome building, erected by its directors especially for its use.

COUNT'S SON MISSING.

French Youth Disappears from Oil Field Near Bakersfield—Mother Fears Foul Play.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 19.—Robert DeColmar, grandson of Count DeColmar of France, second cousin of the King of Saxony, who, in company with his mother, Countess DeColmar, visited here, has been missing since last Thursday. The young man, who is inclined to be delicate, applied last week for work on the Standard lease near Moron, in the belief that outdoor work would strengthen him. Unable to perform the labor, he quit. He was last seen by the proprietor of the Pioneer Hotel, Moron, Thursday afternoon, when he paid his bill and said he was going to join his mother at the Southern Hotel here.

Keep a Supply of Puritas Always on Hand.
As the warmer weather approaches, one naturally requires more drinking water.
Be sure to have plenty of pure, soft water. It is only such water that adequately quenches the thirst. And it is only water of a wholesome character that is really fit to be taken into the human system.
You know how it is with the alkaline natural waters obtainable hereabouts. They have a "brackish" taste, and do not quench the thirst.
What is more, the minerals in such water are deposited in the arteries, causing rheumatic troubles. They also affect the kidneys harmfully.
Drink pure, wholesome, soft water—Puritas Distilled Water. Puritas is the only really pure water to be had in Los Angeles.
We take every precaution to ensure the purity of Puritas. We distill it twice; we aerate it with pure ozone; we bottle it in clean glass demijohns. We even wrap the corks for these with foil, so that the air cannot filter through the cork and contaminate the water in the demijohn.
With all our care in the production of Puritas this pure water is most inexpensive. Regular Puritas users purchase coupon books which enable us to supply them at even a lower rate than 5 gallons for 40c. When you telephone for water ask us about these. Home 10053. Sunset Main 8191. FRANK FARLEY, WHO LIVES AT 243 DAKOTA ST., LOS ANGELES, SAYS: "I have had catarrh and throat trouble for a long time, which at times almost caused complete deafness, especially when I had a cold I could hardly hear at all. My nose would stop up and I was continually clearing my throat. I had read of Drs. Shores & Shores' treatment and cures, and now I am happy to state that after a short course of treatment I am entirely cured of my deafness and my nose and throat trouble is about all gone and my general health has improved in every way. I cheerfully recommend Drs. Shores & Shores' treatment.

PASADENA.

IS SURPRISED AT OPPOSITION.

SCHERER SPEAKS IN FAVOR OF HIGH SCHOOL BONDS.

Large Audience Listens to Arguments—Early Risers See Halley's Comet as They Take in Milk—Council Legislates Against Boisterous Fourth of July.

Office of The Times, No 28 E. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, April 20.—A large and enthusiastic audience gathered at the First Methodist Church last night to listen to the arguments in favor of the bonds for the new $500,000 high school. The people generally are taking a great amount of interest and the opposition is fast losing ground and narrowing itself down to a coterie of men who have been on the opposite side of every public matter involving expenditure of public money in big improvements.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. J. A. B. Scherer of Throop, who was introduced by Dr. Matt S. Hughes. He said in part: "I am certainly surprised and disappointed to hear there is any thought in Pasadena of opposition to the proposed bonds for a new high school. I understand the principal objection is that it is proposed to buy too much ground. It is the first time I ever heard that an investment in Pasadena real estate is not a good one. If it is not a safe thing for the city to buy, it certainly is not a safe thing for an outsider to buy. I am certainly surprised to see a little city like South Pasadena today supporting a better high school than Pasadena. A thing to be regretted is that the members of the board, when the present building was built, were so short-sighted as not to buy a place large enough. I went through the same thing in Kansas City. There they had the same 'hammer and tongs club' you have here, which objected to expending money for the proper high school. They built a makeshift and it soon became crowded. Then they built a manual training school and it soon became too crowded, and finally they built a high school big enough at a cost of $1,200,000, on one of the most expensive pieces of property in the city. They have never regretted it and never will. In a little dead town you can build a small high school, and it will last for years, but who wants to live in a dead town? Other cities and towns have their orange groves, their manufacturing plants and various things to draw people, but Pasadena is a home city, a city noted for its beauty and high class citizenship, and it must have its schools kept on a similar plane or else go back."

Dr. Scherer spoke on the educational side, saying: "A lot of people have sidled up to me and in a quiet, easy way have asked if the building of a big high school with a polytechnical department will not hurt Throop. I wish to emphatically say no. We welcome the new polytechnic high school. It will mean more students for Throop College. It will never hurt Throop elementary, because there will always be enough and more to keep our school full. We welcome the new high school because we want Pasadena to be an educational center. I wish to say that I believe the majority of the American people criminally neglect their children in the matter of education and training. I believe that manual training is a wonderful thing for young men and women, but there must also be training in English, mathematics and history. They go hand in hand. I believe in the State giving its children every educational opportunity possible. Germany is forging ahead today at a rapid rate because she gives her youth an industrial education."

D. J. Macpherson, a member of the Board of Education, made an interesting address, saying: "The day of industrial education has come. The investment in a good and sufficient High School and polytechnic training school will pay compound interest to every citizen of Pasadena. It is the most important question in the city today, and it is up to the people to decide. The board has given the matter much time and attention and we did not want to make a blunder by recommending a makeshift. We have asked for a site and building which will be an honor to the city.

"The Pasadena school district is much larger than the city limits, and should not be confused. It extends from the south city limits, taking in on the east Lamanda Park, Altadena on the north and Linda Vista on the west. The last assessed valuation of the district was $40,690,000. The proposed bond issue is but 1.2 per cent. of the last assessment, or three-fourths of 1 per cent. of the actual valuation. Think of the valuation of the district ten years hence, or twenty years, or even forty years hence, and what will be the percentage? We must build for the future, which is just as large as the faith of the people. If the people have no faith in our city it will not grow. Pasadena cannot afford to vote these bonds down. It would be the poorest business proposition we could make. Pasadena is noted for its people, homes and educational facilities, and if we turn down a proposition for a sufficient High School now, what will it means to the city and the property of the city? What will it mean to the valuations of property in general? What attracts people to our city? Will they be attracted here if we are short on school facilities? Will the addition of a fine new $500,000 High School decrease the price of property in Pasadena? Take away from our city her school system and you will take away her power. Men, you will have to vote, and your votes will say what we are to do."

SEE HALLEY'S COMET.

Halley's comet was clearly seen by a number of Pasadena people early yesterday morning. It appeared in the eastern sky shortly before sunrise and was plainly visible for half an hour. Morning paper carriers, milk men and others who were on the streets at that hour had the privilege of being the first to get a good glimpse of the comet. The head appeared to be about the size of the full moon; at present the tail is not clearly seen. Daily observations are now being made on the summit of Mt. Wilson at the Carnegie Solar Observatory.

FAIR MEASURE.

The City Council has decided that every housewife shall get what she pays for when it comes to buying strawberries, blackberries, blueberries, raspberries. Every peddler must sell what he agrees to. If he specifies pints it must be pints, and if quarts, it must come up to the strict arithmetical measurements. No raised bottoms, padded sides, pitched centers or any other deceptive device will be permitted inside the confines of the Crown City, under severe penalty of the law.

SILENT FOURTH.

The small boy of the Crown City received a severe puncture in his Fourth of July enthusiasm at the hands of the City Council yesterday morning. City Attorney Carr, at the request of the Council, prepared an ordinance which in its drastic features is a model for all cities desiring a Fourth of July on the order of a sacred day. According to it no firecracker, toy pistol, parlor match or any explosive of any kind or nature shall be fired on the Fourth of July, under a maximum penalty of a $100 fine and ten days in the County Jail. The parents or guardians of any person who causes any explosions of any kind, or shoots anything approaching fireworks are subject to the same penalty as the "shooter." The ordinance is intended to thoroughly cook any desire to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The only exception to the ordinance is that the Council may give permission to Company I, California National Guards, Godfrey Post, G.A.R., or camp of Spanish War Veterans to "shoot 'em up" for a few minutes at noon on July 4.

BUSCH GOES EAST.

Adolphus Busch and family, consisting of Mrs. Busch, their daughter, Mrs. E. A. Faust and her two children, and Miss Hahn and Miss Sheonberg, together with a retinue of twenty servants, left early yesterday morning in two private cars for St. Louis. When Mr. Busch came to the train he appeared to be in excellent health. He alighted from his automobile unassisted and walked around the depot before boarding his palatial car "Adolphus." He stated to friends that he is in better health than he has been for several years. As the train started away he stood on the back platform waving one hand to friends until he was lost to view around the curve. When Mr. Busch came to Pasadena five months ago he had to be assisted to his automobile, but after six weeks at "Ivy Wall," the famous Busch residence, he began to gain in strength. During his stay in Pasadena this winter he purchased about $300,000 worth of property contiguous to his great sunken gardens, which will be beautified and made a part of his estate. One was "The Blossoms," a show place of Pasadena. Mr. Busch left instructions for $100,000 worth of improvements to be made on his property this summer, including a beautiful gymnasium.

PRELIMINARY FIXED.

Carl McMullen and R. J. Taylor, arrested last Friday, were brought before Justice Klamroth yesterday morning. The preliminary trial of McMullen will be held April 27 and that of Taylor April 29. The defendants were represented by Harry M. Tichnor, an attorney from Los Angeles. Mrs. W. E. Clarke, proprietress of the Glenwood rooming-house on North Fair Oaks avenue, made an additional complaint against the two men, charging them with entering her house last Friday and taking several articles of wearing apparel.

LAMSON FILES SUIT.

Word has been received that Charles H. Lamson, a resident of this city, has filed suit in Cincinnati, O., against the Wright brothers, the famous aëronauts, charging them with infringing on his patents for plane-warping devices, which he used on his box kites several years before the Wrights invented their aëroplanes. It is because of this same plane warping that the Wrights have enjoined Curtiss and other manufacturers, alleging that they have infringed their patents. During Aviation Week in Los Angeles, in January, Lamson called on Glenn Curtiss and explained his patents, and it is understood Curtiss is backing Lamson in his Cincinnati suit, although his name does not appear in the paper.

SPRING WEDDING.

One of the charming spring weddings of this season was that of Miss Jennie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson, No. 167 West Washington street, to John H. Allin of East Orange Grove avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Scott at the home of the bride's parents yesterday.

An informal five-hundred party was given by Mrs. Isabel Bates Winslow at the Valley Hunt Club yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. John Treholm Warren, formerly Miss Grace Hortense Tower. Those present were Mrs. Neal K. Traylor, Mrs. William Douglas Turner, Mrs. James H. Gaut, Mrs. Una Nixon Hopkins, Miss Ellen Lowrey, Miss Jessie Earley and Miss Booge.

COMPLAIN OF DELAY.

Passengers of Steamer Detained on Board at San Pedro Awaiting Arrival of Official.

SAN PEDRO, April 19.—Passengers arriving this morning on the German steamer Ella, Capt. Bruhn, which came from South America via Central American and Mexican ports, were strong in their criticism this morning of the United States immigration office in Los Angeles. The agent for this office did not arrive here until 1 o'clock this afternoon, although the Ella arrived in the outer harbor at daylight. The passengers were compelled to remain on board until the tardy official put in an appearance. Many of them are bound for northern ports and desired to visit Los Angeles and points of interest here while the vessel is being discharged. As their time is short they chafed under the unnecessary delay.

It is alleged by shipping agents here that the agents for the immigration office do not meet steamers arriving from foreign ports promptly, but take their time, causing passengers unnecessary inconvenience. Unless conditions improve in the future a complaint will be forwarded to Washington.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 19.—The members of the new Board of Trustees were sworn in last night. George W. Adams was elected chairman.

R. W. Pridham addressed the board on the proposed Lincoln Park bridge across the Arroyo Seco. Before long he hoped matters would so arrange themselves that a bond election would be called.

Chairman C. B. Boothe read the annual report of the old board, which then finished up business and passed an ordinance establishing a City Jail.

Household economics and sanitation is to be discussed at the meeting of the Women's Improvement Association at its hall on Meridian avenue tomorrow afternoon. The afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. T. W. Bishop, and the speaker, Mrs. Emma Hawkes of San Dimas.

TURNED DOWN.

WON'T CONCUR IN MOVEMENT.

FIRECRACKERLESS FOURTH NOT FAVORED BY COUNCIL.

Santa Monica Board Declines to Carry Out the Idea of the Women's Club for Safe and Sane Celebration of National Holiday—Pioneer Resident Dies at Beach Home.

SANTA MONICA, April 19.—The City Council has refused to adopt the ordinance proposed by the Women's Club for a firecrackerless Fourth of July, and there will be no safe and sane celebration as had been planned. Indorsed by the Women's Club and reinforced by a citizens' mass meeting, an ordinance prohibiting the firing of explosives was prepared. This was modeled after the regulations now in force at Cleveland, O., and several other eastern cities. Plans were being laid for an elaborate noiseless celebration, but since the Council has declined to concur in the movement the women's organization will perforce call it all off. Members of the Council say the ordinance submitted was too drastic, since it prevented all manner of fireworks in all parts of the city and made it a misdemeanor for any person to have the tabooed explosives in his possession. The ordinance now in effect prescribes certain limits in which it is not permitted to discharge firecrackers, and the police will be instructed to enforce the regulations to the letter. If a celebration is to be held here this year, plans must be started anew on a different basis.

PIONEER DIES.

Mrs. Helen Montgomery, who died last night at the family home on Eighth street, was 69 years of age and the widow of the late A. G Montgomery. She was one of the pioneer residents of Santa Monica, having with her husband arrived here thirty-four years ago. She made the trip to California in 1868, traveling by way of Panama. In the following year she was married at San Francisco. Deceased leaves two sons, A. M. and Hiram W., and two daughters, Miss Ida of this city and Mrs. George Healy. The funeral services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

DIES IN WAGON.

Ira Lewis, a deputy sheriff, was stricken with heart failure yesterday and died before he could be rushed to a physician. Lewis, in charge of the county chain gang, was up the beach above the mouth of Santa Monica Cañon. Here the prisoners are working each day on the public road. Soon after they arrived in the morning Lewis was observed to swoon. Those who rushed to his side saw that his breathing was labored and that he was unconscious. The sick man was placed in a wagon and driven hurriedly to this city, but death overtook him on the way. Deceased, who had been a deputy in the Sheriff's office during the past four years, was formerly a prison guard at San Quentin. He leaves a widow and three children, and resided in El Monte.

A new amusement enterprise is to be established on piling between Marine street and Pier avenue. The improvement is to consist of an auditorium 40x104 feet and will be conducted as a vaudeville theater and moving picture show. Lumber is now being delivered for the building and the work of construction will be commenced at once. D. P. Dignon has secured a lease of the premises.

COLLEGE MAN JAILED.

James Keating, college graduate and once pharmacist, was yesterday sentenced by the police judge to spend the next forty days in the County Jail. The charge was vagrancy. During the past six months Keating has been sent to the County Hospital no less than six times, in the hope that he might get the liquor out of his system and live quietly on the remittance, which comes to him with regularity from the family estate in Ireland. But after a few days spent at the hospital the call of the sea would bring him to the beach, where it was his wont to drink whisky as long as his money lasted. Then he would resort to begging. Keating's brother, Dr. Michael Keating, was sent to the County Hospital several years ago and has remained there. He was one time highly respected as a practitioner, but consumed to excess the stuff called for by his own prescriptions.

The City Council last night granted an extension of time of six months to the Santa Monica Harbor and Improvement Company for the commencement of work on the proposed bulkhead and breakwater in front of the city. The original permit, which was isued in October 18 of last year, provided that work should be commenced within six months and completed within two years of that time. It was shown that there had been vexatious delay in securing the required permission from the War Department, and this made it impossible to begin the work, as had been desired. T. J. Hampton, manager of the company, is now in San Francisco, securing estimates as to the cost of the work and closing up what the company expects are the final details in connection with the sale of the bonds. The managers state that practically all the stock that was offered for sale has found purchasers and they are confident that actual building operations will be commenced in the near future.

BONDS ARE APPROVED.

Long Beach Voters Authorize Expenditure of Considerable Money Upon Piers.

LONG BEACH, April 19.—This city today voted a bond issue of $125,000, of which $75,000 is for permanent improvements to the big cylinder pier at the foot of Pier avenue, and $50,000 for a 1000-foot concrete pleasure pier at Devil's Gate in Belmont Heights.

The votes stood: Pier improvements, 1056 for, 111 against. Belmont pier, 765 for, 275 against. A two-thirds vote was necessary to carry the bonds. The Belmont pier was carried by five votes over the two-thirds mark.

VENICE FEELS QUAKE.

VENICE, April 19.—Persons who were in the second and third stories of buildings this evening report having experienced a sharp quaking of the earth at 7:30 o'clock. Dishes rattled, there was a creaking of floors and windows and a general tremor. The vibrations were of but brief duration, and were felt by many people at widely distributed points along the shore.

PREPARE SPARKLING SHOW.

Society People of Sierra Madre Will Appear Three Times in "His Royal Highness."

SIERRA MADRE, April 19.—"His Royal Highness," a two-act musical comedy by local talent under the direction of the author, Charles Saxby, will have a three-night run at the Woman's Club Auditorium, commencing Thursday. A dress rehearsal, which was given last night, showed that much time and preparation had been spent to produce a bright, witty and sparkling show. The fourteen pretty chorus girls are a treat in themselves. Their singing and graceful movements would put many a professional display in the shade. Edna Staples heads the list of the petite chorus. She has a sweet voice and charming manners. Majorie Rice as Betty, the sweetheart of Curtis Wright, taken by T. J. Finn, in the duet and love making scene appears entirely natural. Mabel de Pencier's well trained voice is well suited to "The Girl from Paris." The hit of the evening, no doubt, will be Carmencita O'Flaherty, an Irish servant, which character is taken by Miss Edith Blumer, who has achieved a name in local theatricals by her clever acting.

The star of the cast will be the author, Charles Saxby, in the role of "His Royal Highness," and he will be ably supported by his leading lady, Mrs. Golightly, a wealthy widow, in the person of Mrs. Theodosia B. Camp, a prominent society woman of this city. Mrs. Caroline B. Collins, as one of a masquerade party, will add spice and ginger to the scene by a dancing act. William J. Lawless will only have to extend his business hours in the part of William Boylson, a business man.

Taken as a whole the play no doubt will meet with great success, as the house has been sold for two nights in advance. The Woman's Club of Alhambra has also arranged for the production to be given at the High School building in Alhambra on Monday night, and a benefit is to be given for the Orphan's Home in Pasadena, Saturday, the 30th inst., at the Shakespeare Club of that city.

REDONDO BEACH.

Large Ship Docks With Big Cargo of Ties for the Santa Fe—New Council Organizes.

REDONDO BEACH, April 19.—About 11,000 people visited the British steamer Iran, Capt. Peabody, which docked this afternoon at wharf No. 3.

The Iran is 470 feet long, 53 feet wide, and has a depth of 35.4, and a tonnage of 10,000. She is the largest craft ever seen here. Her cargo is 106,000 oak ties, from Mororan, Japan, for the Santa Fé Railroad Company. This would equal 4,000,000 feet board measure, and 4644 net tonnage.

It will take eleven working days with over 100 men, to discharge the cargo.

The voyage of seventeen and one-half days was uneventful, no stops being made between Mororan and Redondo Beach.

Capt. Peabody has eleven European officers, and the crew consists of seventy-two dark-skinned Mohammedans in picturesque garb. Most are barefooted. Some have rings on their toes and bracelets on their arms. They wear their hair long, but generally covered by a cloth, wound turban-like about the head, or a basket-like looking cap of straw.

Two types of India are represented in this crew; thirty-four under Chief Officer Johnson are from the Bombay Presidency, and are typical Lascars.

The two factions do not associate at all, even at meals, belonging to different castes. There is a "serang," a native, over each crew, who seems to be a cross between a "straw boss" and interpreter.

No beef is eaten by these natives, but mutton is allowed if killed by one of their own faith. They would not eat it if it were defiled by the touch of the foreign infidel.

Another whim you must humor; do not salute the child of India, with the left hand, for he considers it a deadly insult. In fact he seems to have but little use for his left hand (except in handling ties) as he never uses it to convey food to the mouth, using the fingers of the right hand only.

The City Trustees met last evening in the Council chamber, City Hall.

The newly-elected officers took the oath of office. H. B. Ainsworth was made president of the Board for the ensuing two years.

The resignations of the following officers were tendered and accepted. City Engineer A. A. Henderson, Street Superintendent E. Jensen, City Recorder J. P. Erickson, City Attorney F. L. Perry. The resignation of L. Ganrash, plumbing inspector, was read and placed on the table.

Arthur Wright was appointed City Attorney, C. D. Knutsen, street superintendent, O. C. Hinman, City Recorder. The bonds of W. A. Anderson, as City Clerk, and Lee Stanchfield, City Marshal, were approved.

An ordinance was passed requiring that all dogs, running at large within the city, be muzzled.

The petition was presented to have the "big hill" on Camino Real regraded; petition laid on table.

BOARD ORGANIZES.

Monrovia City Trustees Re-elect Scarborough as Chairman—Officers Are Appointed.

MONROVIA, April 19.—The new Board of City Trustees organized last night. W. B. Scarborough was re-elected chairman. These committees were named by the chair: Water, J. M. Baldwin, H. S. McKee, H. J. Evans; Finance, H. S. McKee, H. J. Evans, J. M. Baldwin; Ordinance, C. W. Casner, H. J. Evans, H. S. McKee; Streets, H. J. Evans, C. W. Casner, J. M. Baldwin; Police and Fire, H. J. Evans, J. M. Baldwin, C. W. Casner.

No change in the roster of city employés was made. Walter F. Dunn was reappointed City Attorney; H. J. Dougherty, Water Superintendent; F. M. Monroe, Street Superintendent; Henry Gierlich, Engineer.

A gang of ten men, under the direction of Water Superintendent Dougherty, is laying 2000 feet of eight, six and four-inch pipe in Vasaar Cañon, north of Deer Park. This water source has never been tapped by the city, nor has any one ever filed upon it. Though it will furnish a twenty-five-inch flow for ten months in the year, there is no record of its having been suggested in past years as a potential increment of the municipal mountain system.

Shaft and tunnel development in the arroyo has been resumed, after several weeks intermission. It is estimated that between fifty and seventy-five inches of water will be added to the city gravity supply by the work now in progress.

No additional facts were brought out regarding the cause of a Mexican lad's death at Arcadia yesterday morning, by Coroner Hartwell at the inquest held today. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

WHO?

PULLS FLOATER FROM BREAKERS.

SWIMMER WHO THOUGHT 'TWAS SEAL FINDS BODY.

Corpse of Man Wearing Shoes of Atlantic Make and Whose Eyesight Was Defective Is Brought Ashore at Long Beach—Revenue Cutter Will Go to Alaska.

LONG BEACH, April 19.—A floater came ashore this morning at Seaside Park. People on shore watched it for some time tossing in the breakers, thinking it was a dead seal. Finally W. H. Reider put on a bathing suit, and swam out to the body and dragged it in to the sand, from where it was removed to a local morgue on instructions from the Coroner.

The body was much decomposed and the face beyond recognition. The dead man was probably 45 or 50 years of age, and wore a business suit of a dark mixed weave with considerable gray in it. The shoes were almost new, size No. 7, and of Atlantic make. In the clothing was an Ingersol watch, a pair of glasses, a pocket comb and a circular of the Western Steamship Company, stating prices between coast points. The man was well built and weighed probably 160 pounds. Indications are that the body was in the water ten or fifteen days.

PERRY TO GO NORTH.

Capt. Hanke of the revenue cutter Perry, which has been wintering in Long Beach waters, received orders yesterday from the War Department to prepare the steamer for a summer cruise in Alaskan waters. He also received orders to have a photograph taken of the steamer before leaving and this was done this morning by a local photographer, a broadside view being taken.

High school students to the number of 400 were guests today of G. W. Hughes, on an excursion to Jackson Park, one of the proposed sites of the new polytechnic. Strawberry punch was served on the grounds and each student was presented with a carnation grown in the vicinity.

The library institute, which is in its second week, is still the cause of deep interest to the visiting librarians, of whom about fifty are in attendance. Misses Darlow and Becker are lecturing on English literature and American history.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

John Muller, the victim of a brutal attack before daybreak Monday by his neighbor, James McIntyre, is in a critical condition and his physician fears either brain fever or spinal meningitis. McIntyre was arraigned before Justice Underwood this morning and his hearing continued for a week. His bond was not raised, but his attorney agreed to be personally responsible for McIntyre's daily report to the justice. He is at liberty on $1000 bond.

Clifford Messenger, the victim of an irate neighbor in a cattle grazing quarrel, is much improved and no complications are expected. He will prosecute his assailant as soon as he is able.

Loring K. Jones of this city died this morning in a Los Angeles hospital following an operation Sunday. Mr. Jones was a native of Pennsylvania and had lived in Long Beach several years. He leaves a widow and one son. The remains were brought here today for burial.

WILL CUT RATES.

So far from settling the boat troubles the recent combine of Messrs. Loop and Malone has succeeded in stirring up another competitor. Al Hyder, has secured an extra booth on the wharf and says he will operate the Nora and two other launches on Sundays and during the summer at cut rates.

Vernon Story, injured in an auto accident in Los Angeles Sunday night, was brought home from the hospital this morning and his broken limb placed in an extension. Physicians say Story will be confined to his bed for four months.

Industrial institutions west of the San Gabriel River are to renew full activities at once. The Sunset Oil refinery started up today with a full force and the Western Hardwood Lumber Company is daily expecting a cargo of mahogany, which will give its forty men steady employment.

SESSION STARTS TODAY.

Los Angeles County W.C.T.U. Convention Will Hold Meetings at Whittier This Week.

WHITTIER, April 19.—At 9 o'clock tomorrow morning the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Los Angeles County Women's Christian Temperance Union will open a three days' session at the Friends Church here. Meetings will be held morning, afternoon and evening, each of the three days. Aside from the reports of the year's work, and problems of new organization, a large number of excellent addresses will be given. Local committees have arranged for a large number of delegates. Officers of the county union are: President, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, Los Angeles; vice-president, Mrs. Hattie C. Young, Long Beach; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis W. Davenport, Los Angeles; recording secretary, Mrs. Laura Thomas Carter, Los Angeles; treasurer, Mrs. Eva Keese Benson, Pasadena. Friday evening Dr. Dana Bartlett will speak on "Housing the Poor."

At the meeting of the Trustees last night, officers elected were sworn in and F. E. Frantz was made chairman for the year. J. B. Chaffee and G. H. Flanders are the new members, J. S. Todd and H. A. McDonald retiring.

"Vote for the bonds" was the slogan of a large and enthusiastic citizens' meeting held at the High School Auditorium last evening to discuss the proposed $75,000 bond issue to provide Whittier with additional buildings and make a Polytechnic High School. Architect Norman F. Marsh addressed the meeting, illustrating with stereopticon views many buildings of Southern California. Principal O. C. Albertson showed the plans for the proposed new Whittier structures and told of the need for additional buildings, equipment and courses. He was followed by members of the board of trustees of the City High School, members of the City Board of Trustees, and numerous citizens, unanimously favoring the bond issue. A committee of citizens to have charge of a campaign to carry the bonds was also appointed. A complete preliminary poll of the district will be made soon, the pupils of the High School assisting.

SAWTELLE.

SAWTELLE, April 19.—The newly-elected City Trustees met last night and effected organization by choosing C. S. Martin to act as president of the board. The other appointive offices will be filled at the next regular meeting.

BRING BODY TO MOTHER.

Neighbors of Anaheim Woman Have to Perform Sad Duty.

ANAHEIM, April 13.—Yesterday noon the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mauerhan, living two miles southwest of Anaheim, on what is known as the West and Ball road, was drowned in an irrigating ditch running along the road in front of Mr. Mauerhan's place.

The little fellow had been playing on a sand pile in the yard, his mother being near him. She had to go into the house for something and returning very soon missed the boy and began searching, but did not know he was drowned until some neighbors brought the body to her, it having been found in the ditch half a mile from the house.

union. The exercises at the fountain were impressive. C. C. Chapman led in prayer, and then Mrs. Norman, county president of the W.C.T.U., presented the fountain to the city. It was accepted by ex-Mayor Coulter. The children then sang "America," and Rev. J. T. Hopkins led in prayer. After a selection by the band, Rev. Mr. Embree dismissed the meeting with prayer.

YOUTH DEFENDS HIMSELF FROM INFURIATED MECHANIC.

San Bernardino Lad Uses Penknife on Sweetheart's Brother, Who Objected to Him Calling at the House. Fraulein Comes from Germany to Wed Los Angeles Doctor.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 10.—Lee Hughes objected to the attentions being bestowed upon his sister by C. A. Bailey, so he attacked the latter last night, and now lies at his home with nine serious knife wounds in his back and face. Bailey is in jail. He called on the girl, and on leaving the house was met by her brother, who had warned him repeatedly to remain away. The latter made a vicious strike at Bailey's head with his clenched fist, and Bailey quickly drew a small pocket-knife, and defended himself, he being much the smaller of the two youths.

Bailey's version of the trouble is corroborated by Hughes's mother and sister, who have little sympathy for the wounded youth. The mother approved of Bailey's attention to the girl. Both youths are employed as apprentices at the Santa Fé machine shops.

COMES FAR TO WED.

A romance which extended its happy influence from Los Angeles to Germany culminated here last evening in the marriage by Rev. Edward J. Rudnich of the German Lutheran Church of Dr. Bernhard Zachau of Los Angeles and Miss Betty Liebe of Berlin. The lovers met at Pasadena four years ago. Miss Liebe returning to Germany. The correspondence which followed developed a case of love, and at the doctor's bidding she made the long journey across the ocean to become his wife. She visited Pasadena friends during the last two weeks, getting ready for the nuptials. The couple came here for the ceremony in order to escape the attention of friends.

CENTENNIAL PROGRAMME.

Today a rearrangement of the programme for Centennial Day, Friday, May 20, was agreed on by the committees, thus: At 9:45 a.m., laying of the cornerstone of the new Catholic church; 11:20 a.m., automobile parade; 11:30 a.m., laying of cornerstone at site of Memorial Capilla. In the afternoon there will be aviation and Indian races at Association Park, a band concert in the evening, allegorical events at the Wigwam, before the Indian Princess, and at 9 o'clock at night the day's doings will be concluded with a Spanish dress ball at the City Pavilion.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSES.

A fire this afternoon destroyed the residences of Mrs. L. D. Moore and Mrs. H. C. E. Weibel, on K street, within a block and a half of the Pennsylvania-avenue fire station, which has never been furnished with hose or supplied with firemen. Before the department could reach the neighborhood from the business center, both dwellings were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $3500. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BOARD GIVES BALL.

Directors of Riverside Woman's Club Entertain for Those Who Gave Minstrel Show.

RIVERSIDE, April 19.—A pretty society event of the week was the ball given by the executive board of the Woman's Clubhouse Association last evening at the clubhouse in honor of those who assisted in the recent society minstrel show at the Loring Theater. About 200 guests made up the company. The hostesses were Mrs. Charles H. Low, Mrs. George N. Reynolds, Mrs. G. D. Cunningham, Mrs. G. W. Dennis, Mrs. E. W. Holmes, Mrs. N. P. J. Button, Mrs. Martha Hewitt, Mrs. Robert Lee Bettner and Mrs. Harry Dunbar.

The fancy dance given by a double sextette at the minstrel performance was a feature of the evening. Instead of appearing in black-face, with gay minstrel costume, the girls wore white middy blouses and white linen skirts and carried tennis racquets, and the boys wore white outing suits and carried canoe paddles.

Larkin Young Cooper, aged 67, and Mrs. Effie B. Brummer, both of Long Beach, were married at noon today at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Dr. A. W. Adkinson, officiating.

WILL OPERATE TWO CANNERIES

SAN JACINTO MEN WILL ERECT THEM IN VALLEY.

With These Supplementing the Work of the Drying Yards the Big Apricot Crop Will Be Handled Without Difficulty—Activity Noticeable About Winchester.

SAN JACINTO, April 19.—Two canneries will be in operation in the San Jacinto Valley this summer, in addition to the numerous dryers. William Bruce, a grower in the Fruitvale district, has ordered machinery for a cannery and will have his small outfit in operation in time for the coming crop. Messrs. W. S. Mudd, J. G. Nelson and J. M. Frazier will also install a fruit-canning outfit. Both plants will be operated in the same building. They will furnish employment to from sixty to seventy-five hands during the season. It is believed that with the two small canneries supplementing the work of the drying yards, the big apricot crop will be handled with but little difficulty and no loss will be experienced by growers.

Workmen are busy erecting the new residence of D. A. Kingsbury on Park Hill, adjoining the Bothin property. The building will be built of cement blocks, two stories, with spacious porches and balconies, and the cost $12,000.

J. H. Beeler has sold eighty acres adjoining the town of Winchester to Patten Brothers, the purchase price being $2350. Patten Brothers have recently been successful in developing a large supply of water on lands adjacent to Winchester, which has given new life to that town.

Howard Link, formerly assistant cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, will leave soon for Arizona, to become cashier of a new bank to be established in the Territory.

J. H. Herrington, of Redlands, has arrived to take the management of the local gas company.

At the magnesite mine near Winchester, the Japanese laborers have been replaced by white men. The crew of Asiatics has left the valley. Manager Adams says the work at the mines is increasing constantly and day and night shifts may soon be put on. Another carload of magnesite was shipped to Los Angeles this week.

J. S. Jackson is building an addition to his house on the old Casterline place, and is making other improvements. A small gasoline engine has been installed to furnish a domestic water supply.

Jacinto Garbani received a carload of cement this week for use in constructing a large reservoir on his Diamond Valley ranch. A large pumping plant was lately installed and the big reservoir will make the private water system complete.

John Quinn has subdivided his acreage in the San Jacinto Mountains and will place it on the market for summer campers. This is the first body of land to be offered in small lots for summer homes there. The land lies above Lake Hemet at an elevation of 5000 feet.

It is reported a company is soon to establish a health resort on the old Wilbur ranch near Winchester. Surrounding the big spring, property is being cleared and it is said buildings will soon be erected by the new owners for an extensive health camp.

D. G. Webster, president of the San Jacinto Lumber and Box Company, reports that lumber hauling has been resumed from the mills in the mountains and will continue throughout the summer. Enough lumber is in the mill yard to keep several teams busy all summer.

Charles Van Fleet, in the first year of the San Jacinto High School, wrote the prize temperance essay read at the county W.C.T.U. convention at Elsinore, in which all the high schools of the county competed.

BANKERS' BANQUET.

Orange County Association Meets at Huntington Beach and Elects Its Officers.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 19.—The Orange County Bankers' Association held its second annual banquet tonight at the Huntington Inn. About seventy members and a number of ladies were present. Almost every bank in the county was represented. The dining-room was decorated in orange. The flowers were all orange colored and the electric light shades were of the same hue. Stoddard Jess, vice-president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, delivered an address on "Banking."

Officers elected for the ensuing year: W. B. Tedford of Santa Ana, president; John Hartung of Anaheim, vice-president; F. W. Winslow of Santa Ana, secretary; C. D. Overshiner of Orange, treasurer.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, April 19.—Trustees Stewart, Hoag, Keith, Merrifield and Pool were present last evening at the board meeting. The water ordinance passed to its second reading.

W. E. Hampton, here from Los Angeles, made a proposal in reference to the road up Flagstaff Hill, where he has offered to put a fine stone observatory when the city agrees to build an auto road to the summit. He offered to give $200 toward the road. The proposal was laid on the table for the new board to act upon. The old board then adjourned, and the new Trustees were sworn in, Hoag and Keck for long terms and Amsbury for short term. The new board organized, and elected Stewart chairman. Carter, the newly elected City Clerk, and Kuhns, the Treasurer, furnished bonds, which were accepted. The new board appointed J. A. Hoag, C. D. Pool, J. T. Kuhne and W. H. Green a committee to look after the Flagstaff Hill road matter.

Dr. H. J. Frothingham left this morning for Beaumont to attend the meeting of the Presbytery, and deliver a sermon as retiring moderator.

John W. Robinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Robinson, Sr., of Elsinore, and Miss Nora Armour of Riverside, were married last evening at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Gusave Gehring, on North Main street, Dr. H. J. Frothingham officiating. Miss Ruth Frothingham played the wedding march. The bride was gowned in white. Refreshments were served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will reside in Elsinore.

FOUND SOMETHING TO CURE ECZEMA

Trial Results in Complete Cure of Fifteen-Year Case in Two Weeks.

In a letter published in his lodge paper, Mr. F. O. Thompson, of Elizabeth, N. J., states that he was a sufferer from eczema for fifteen years, and one day spoke about his trouble to Dr. L. E. Todd. "Dr. Todd replied that he had something that would relieve if not permanently cure me," says Mr. Thompson, "but after treatment for so many years I had grave doubts. The doctor produced a box of poslam, and I promised to give it a faithful trial. I followed directions, and in two weeks' time find myself entirely cured. The 50c I paid for the box was the best investment I ever made."

Not alone eczema, but every surface skin disease is permanently eradicated by poslam, itching being stopped at once.

Write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, for a free trial package of poslam. With this sample alone complexions may be cleared and pimples banished from the face.

OBJECTIONS.

DAY DEVOTED TO ARGUMENTS.

TRIAL OF SAN DIEGO LAWYER IS COMMENCED.

It Is Expected to Consume Several Days—Hearing Also Starts of Man Accused of Arson—Corporal Wins Broadsword Championship of the United States Army.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The trial of Attorney A. J. Morgenstern on a charge of issuing and passing checks without funds in a bank was today begun before Judge Guy in the Superior Court. Attorneys for both sides spent almost the entire day in arguments over the admission as evidence of other checks purported to have been passed by the defendant than the one specifically introduced and named in the information. The hearing will consume several days.

ARSON TRIAL.

Without the least sign of agitation, Albert Louis Schonek sat in the township courtroom throughout the day while attorneys interrogated witnesses for the purpose of determining whether or not the prisoner is responsible for numerous alleged incendiary fires, the charge against him being arson. Beside the prisoner sat his weeping mother, who frequently broke down under the strain of the hearing; her sister and the latter's husband, Solomon Hillkowitz of Los Angeles. Schonek, the police assert, is affected from reading socialistic literature. His line of defense is entirely in the hands of his attorney, who volunteered to fight for his liberty. The preliminary hearing will be continued tomorrow.

WARM FIGHT.

The warmest kind of a fight develops in the proposition to vote bonds for the erection of a municipally-owned gas and electric plant. The petition presented to the City Council, asking for an election to vote $1,500,000 in bonds purporting to be signed by the labor unions, is denied, as sanctioned by the Trades Council. Red-hot meetings held last night denounced the tactics asserted to be employed by the socialistic element of the labor bodies in demanding municipal ownership of the gas plant. Real leaders of the labor unions claim that the municipal gas plant proposition is a knock against the proposed bond issue for the improvement of the Panama exposition site in City Park. So rabid are the demands of the advocates of the municipal lighting bond issue that there is talk among real laborites of eliminating the alleged socialistic element from the labor councils.

CORPORAL BEATS MAJOR.

Corporal J. D. Lohman, One Hundred and Fifteenth Company, Coast Artillery, U.S.A., on duty at Fort Rosecrans, has won the broadsword championship of the United States army and the world by defeating Maj. Duncan C. Ross in a twenty-five-minute contest at a local skating rink. Lohman twice disarmed Ross during the fight.

COOK TAKES VACATION.

CALLS ELECTION.

The City Council has called an election for May 31 to vote $1,830,000 bonds for improvements to City Park, $1,090,000 to be devoted toward the cost of exposition buildings and $380,000 to be used in improving the park grounds and for other municipal purposes.

DIES IN HONOLULU.

Mrs. A. W. Gilbert has arrived here with the remains of her husband, who died suddenly of heart failure while in Honolulu. Mr. Gilbert was a well-known capitalist, formerly of this city and Seattle. Two years ago he married Miss Frances Delphy, a school teacher of this city. After spending a year in Florida, they went to Honolulu for the benefit of his health.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The potato situation is rather a farce. Utah dealers were yesterday quoting a fancy grade to Los Angeles commission merchants at 35 cents per hundred pounds, freight to be paid here, 60 cents per hundred, bringing the local quotation on the stock to 75 cents. Northern California stock is not selling at much higher prices. The average cost of Highlands is 45 to 55 cents a hundred in the Stockton or Sacramento districts. The freight rate is 25 cents per hundred, bringing the price to 75 cents and 80 cents, at which figures it was hard to move. Highlands on the market yesterday morning. They were practically the only varieties on sale. Some of the cheap Idaho and Utah stock is showing blemishes by frost, or by rotting from damp weather. Arrivals of outside spuds yesterday totaled only 414 sacks. There was a good demand for new potatoes and receipts are increasing daily.

Arrivals of eggs were 285 cases. The market was firm and sales were not exceedingly large. There was a fair demand for some of the Eastern fresh stock which is arriving in small quantities.

The butter situation, as far as proper quotations on various grades is concerned, has in a measure been remedied by the butter committee. A jobbing and a wholesale quotation have been established. The jobbing quotation is one between wholesale dealers or between dealer and producer. The wholesale prices are fixed to stand for trade between wholesale and retail dealers. At the new quotation, the best price on creamery extra is 30 cents a pound. All quotations were up 1 cent. Receipts were 47,816 pounds.

Cheese arrivals were 8129 pounds. Eastern daisy cheese was the one variety which sold well. Offerings of other varieties were numerous.

Onion receipts were 264 sacks. The call for them was fair. There were no changes in sweet potatoes.

A 50-cent drop on all flour was declared by the various mills yesterday morning. The reduction on fancy flour, graham, whole wheat and others averages 10 cents a hundred. On grain the decline is approximately 5 cents. Crop conditions are so favorable on the Coast that the decline was considered advisable in order to increase the demand.

Fish supply was unlimited, both in quantity and variety. Catches of the past few days have been heavy. Salmon and shad are the choice fish from the north. Catalina fishermen shipped in a good consignment of white fish, sheepshead, rock bass, smelt and barracuda were numerous.

Among the bigger issues, Associated was off a few points, opening at 43.62½, going to 43.75 cents and selling down to 43.30. Mexican Petroleum common was a good trader, opening at 20.50 and going to 20.75. In the aggregate 243 shares were sold. Palmer Oil opened at 1.25¾ and sold up to 1.32, a gain over the previous day. Among the industrials, 100 Pacific Construction Stores sold at 4.00. As will be noted, there was a wide range to the trading.

WHEAT SLUMPS AFTER STRONG OPENING MARKET.

Stiff Foreign Demand Causes Holders of Cash Wheat and Elevator Concerns to Gorge the Market and Price Declines—All Grains Close Weak—Pork Is Active.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—A strong foreign market, with Liverpool figures materially advanced, gave shorts an excuse to cover with the opening of the day, and heavy buying ran May up 1¾, while July and September took on a gain of about ¾. Holders of cash wheat, together with elevator concerns, joined in gorging the market with offerings, and the bulls gave way. July sank by degrees from 1.01⅝@1.02 to 1.00⅝, and September shaded down from 1.00¾ to 99⅝, while May tumbled from 1.04¾ to 1.04⅝. The close was weak, with July ⅝ off at 1.00⅝; September, ½ to ⅝ down at 99¾@99⅞, and May, ¼ to ⅜ up at 1.03⅝@1.03¾. Corn prices were inclined to firmness early, buoyed up by the advancing tide of wheat, and took on about ¼. Later in the day, when wheat was on the down grade, corn sagged, May touching 56⅜ after having sold at 57¼. The demand for cash corn was fair and prices were steady. No. 2 yellow sold at 58. All the futures closed weak, with May ¼ to ⅝ off at 56¾. There was a slackening of shipping demand in oats. May moved between 41¾ and 41⅞ and closed weak. Final figures for the May delivery were ⅝ to ¼ lower at 41⅝@41¾. In provisions, pork was particularly active and showed a net gain of from 47½ for September to 60 for May. Lard and ribs were less forward and gained from 15 to 22½. Closing figures for the May products were: Pork, 30 up at 21.25; lard, 20 higher at 12.05; ribs, 15 up at 12.02½. Cash quotations were as follows: Flour weak; No. 2 rye, 78; feed or mixing barley, 42@56; fair to choice malting, 56@64; timothy seed, 4.60; clover, 11.75; mess pork, per bbl., 21.25@21.50; lard, per 100 lbs., 12.05; short ribs, sides (loose,) 11.75@12.15; short clear sides (boxed,) 12.50@12.75.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The curb market was extremely dull, but fairly steady. Goldfield Consolidated was the strongest stock on the list, selling up to $ 5-16. On account of the Boston exchange being closed, the trading in the coppers was somewhat restricted, but prices held well.

GETS RETURNS IN AMERICA.

French Banker Declares Foreign Capital Is Seeking Investment in the United States.

Count Alfred de Puyfontaine and Douglas Reed, president of the Bank Intermediese of Paris, are among the arrivals at the Alexandria. They have large property interests in the United States, particularly in Arizona and Wyoming, and it is to visit these that they are in the West.

Mr. Reed stated that French capitalists are looking to America for first-class investments—the kind which bring greater returns on the money than can be safely obtained anywhere else.

"Your country is remarkably wealthy, and with all the development of its resources, there are still great possibilities for further development, where much of the land has not as yet been touched for agricultural or mining pursuits," said he.

"All of the nations of Europe are aware of the possibilities in America and if all the investments were known, it might be learned that at least one-fourth of the great projects of the country are financed by foreign capital at the present time."

Count Puyfontaine has large estates in France, near Fontainbleau, and has property in several foreign lands.

On the journey to Los Angeles, the visitors stopped for some time at Phoenix, where they were guests of H. I. Latham, who accompanied them here.

There are several others in the party, among them Judge Charles Mayer and his son, E. F. Erault and Col. F. H. Woodworth of New York.

DIRTY LINEN WITHOUT SOAP.

Police Commissioners After Some One, Sure.

Trying to Fix Responsibility for Jail Troubles.

Incidents of Brutality Are the Basis of Charges.

More dirty linen of the police department was washed in public last night at a special meeting of the Police Commission, which was attended only by the Mayor and Commissioners Topham and Wellborn. The positions of Lieut. Haupt, Desk Sergeant McClure and Jailers Story and Sanders were endangered, with Sanders selected to be "the goat," although the date for his official decapitation was not set, the commission taking the matter under advisement.

So unsatisfactory is the present management of the police department that the Mayor, after listening to one officer after another admitting knowledge of neglect of duty and downright inhumanity practiced toward prisoners, exclaimed:

"We've had so many bad deals of prisoners being found dead in the City Jail that something must be done. Gentlemen, this way of doing things will not do."

The specific charge against the four officers, which was made by the Chief, is that they had neglected to see that medical attention was given a prisoner, Antonio Madero, who was arrested in a cañon at Hollywood on the night of March 22, by Patrolman Owens, and who was suffering with a knife gash eight inches long in his arm.

CASE OF NEGLECT.

All hands admitted that when Madero was exhibited in the Police Station that he was so covered with blood that "he looked like a stuck pig," and that he "appeared to have been run through a sausage machine." Yet not one of the officers took any steps to see that he was given proper attention, the prisoner being hustled into the drunk tank, and left there from 11:20 at night until 3 o'clock the following afternoon before the services of a doctor were called for.

The testimony of the accused all tended in the same direction—Haupt passing the case up to McClure, the latter showing that he had directed the arresting officers to tell the jailer to see that Madero received medical attention; Owens swearing that he told Story and the latter declaring that he did not hear any such order. Sanders was not present, it being announced that he was ill. It was admitted by all hands that Sanders was free from all blame, as he had turned the keys of the jail over to Story for the night.

Story said in his own behalf that he supposed that the wounded man had been cared for before he went on duty. His testimony showed that Madero had been taken from his cell and arraigned in the Police Court and sentenced to serve ten days in the stockade with the chain gang.

When Jailer Shand went to start Madero to work he discovered his suffering from his wounds and weakened by loss of blood. Then Dr. Carter of the Receiving Hospital was summoned, about twenty hours from the time the man had been stabbed by some fellow-countrymen.

That a prisoner should be so inhumanely treated aroused the ire of the Mayor, and he denounced it as "cold-blooded carelessness, and nothing else."

SHOULD BE "HIGHER-UPS."

Story could not see that he was any more to blame for the alleged neglect than the others, but the commissioners did not appear to take his view of the matter, although Commissioner Topham was disposed to hold both Lieut. Haupt and Sergt. McClure guilty of lack of diligence.

Topham also catechised Story in regard to the arrest of a man named William Boyd, one night last December. From the commissioner's questioning it developed that charges had been made to him that Boyd had been beaten by Story, that he had been knocked down and stamped upon, the jailer's feet playing a tattoo on his neck and chest, if the allegations were true.

Story denied any knowledge of such an incident, and Lieut. Haupt said he did not recall it, either. Then Topham declared his information also involved Haupt, and that the latter was accused of witnessing the uncalled-for assault and had simply stopped it without reprimanding the assaulting officer. He asserted that he could produce proof of his accusations, and the Mayor directed him to do so. Topham said he would privately convey the information to His Honor, but the latter insisted that if it was given at all it should be made public. Topham said that his witnesses shrank from the publicity that would be attendant upon the investigation of such charges.

"As a matter of fact, isn't it customary among the jail officials to have some one fellow do the pounding on prisoners that incur disfavor?" asked Topham.

WOULD SHIFT BLAME.

Story declared he did not know, and that it wasn't true, so far as he knew.

Capt. Dixon testified that he thought all the officers had performed their duty according to their light, and that this included Story, if he had not heard Owens tell him that Madero should have medical attention.

Police Surgeon Zerfing read a paper explanatory of the unusual number of deaths and serious cases of illness that have been neglected at the jail of late, and he gave his department a clean bill of health.

The Chief then brought Dr. Zerfing's department into the case by saying that recently a doctor had been called for from the Receiving Hospital, and a nurse answered the call. Query—Where were the doctors?

The Chief promised additional particulars on the case when he had concluded his investigation.

Before the hearing, the resignation of J. Ballesteros, chain gang guard, was tendered and accepted, to take effect immediately.

ESCONDIDO.

ESCONDIDO, April 18.—Organization of the new board of City Trustees was effected last evening by the reelection of W. H. Baldridge as president. E. B. Buell, H. J. Marshall and H. N. Carpenter were elected at the April 11 election, although the latter was serving an unexpired term on the board. Buell and Hatch were appointed to the Finance Committee, and Carpenter and Marshall to the Street Committee. M. L. Culp qualified as City Marshal, and was appointed street superintendent and sewer inspector, the salary to be fixed at the next meeting.

Those who stayed at home can be classed as favoring the bonds, and we should take them into account when figuring on the great approval the people have evidenced and the confidence in the judgment of those men who have the great development work in hand."

Similar expressions were heard from other leading men, and on all sides the feeling is that of joy.

HOW TO GET RID OF WRINKLES.

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way, That Produces Marvellous Results, Without Massage, Face Steaming or Masks of Any Kind.

CUT OUT FREE COUPON BELOW AND MAIL TO-DAY.

Those who have become prematurely wrinkled, whether from trouble, worry or ill health, know full well the priceless treasure they have lost. There is no need, however, of anyone injuring their chances of social or financial success in life by carrying around these marks of time, as they can be easily removed by a simple home treatment that often produces surprising results in a single night.

In the fall of 1907 I first realized that time, trouble and care had all left their marks on my face, that my skin had become dry and leathery, and that the clear, fresh complexion, the smooth skin and the curves of cheek and chin that go with a well preserved woman were mine no longer.

Realizing my position keenly and knowing that the fine, clean, alert, well-cared-for-looking woman has many advantages over her more unfortunate sister, I tried many advertised remedies, hoping that I would find something that would smooth out the lines that time and trouble had brought me, and restore the color and bloom of my youth.

But, after trying beauty doctors, facial massage and almost every other known method, and after experiencing disappointment time and again, I took out my own wrinkles by a simple home treatment of my own discovery, which brought back my beauty and the freshness of youth. Doctors say it is the only treatment in the world that will actually remove wrinkles and make old faces look young and beautiful. Many of my friends look twenty years younger since trying my treatment, and the marvelous results it has produced in so many cases has prompted me to give it to the public.

LINGERIE AND SILK DRESSES

Lingerie Dresses that are the pick of many big stocks—dresses that have the touch of the foreign designer and the practical arrangements of American modistes. Charming styles of silk as well. And the prices? Considering the qualities, they are very, very low. We mention three; there are many others.

Second Floor.

Lingerie Dresses

Many of these are distinct styles, more or less elaborately trimmed with laces, embroidery and fine pin tucks. Some have panel fronts of Val. and Venise lace and yokes of lace insertions. The girdle, Princess and waist-line effects are equally popular. Dainty in every respect, they represent more in value of goods, trimming and making than the home dressmaker can possibly hope to get for the same money. There's a style about them you can't copy.

Silk Dresses

In this lot are some practical styles for street wear, in all colors and black. Among them are the popular accordeon plaited dresses and the graceful tunic models, trimmed effectively. Soft Messaline, Taffeta, Pongee and pretty Foulards are shown in solid colors, stunning pin checks, stripes and changeables. Can't mention anything that's really good style in these weaves but what we have it here in its best arrangement. Many models—all of them original.

Silk Dresses

Scores of clever styles in Taffeta, in solid stripes and changeables. Then there are Fancy Foulards, in all their soft beauty and clinging daintiness. Rajahs and Pongees in the natural color come in for a share of attention, for one must have a dress of one or the other sometime this season. These come in colors also. There are dresses of pin checks—than which nothing is more in vogue. Skirts are plaited or have the tunic overskirt, and lace or net yokes.

PONGEE SILKS

There are so many grades of pongee that one must be careful in buying—for it can be worn for almost any occasion and therefore comes in for an unusual amount of hard wear. You'll find these good.

Rough Pongees 50c

34 and 36-Inch Pongee
Imported and Domestic $1

Silk that will launder perfectly and dry clean, too. About 60 pieces to select from. For the summer coat suit or one-piece dress you can't find anything better or more desirable.
